D-4 Catches Fire at Newport, but Little Damage Results.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEWPORT (R. I.) June 29.—The submarine D-4, tied up at the torpedo station, caught fire today, but little damage resulted. All the available men in the station and the crews of four vessels near by were called to the scene. The submarine had 3000 gallons of gasoline aboard.

PRIVATE BECOMES A MILLIONAIRE.

UNITED STATES MARINE AT SAN FRANCISCO SUDDENLY ENRICHED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 29.—Alpha A. Gifford, a private in the Thirty-first Company of the United States Marine Corps, stationed at the exposition, is a millionaire. Yesterday his income was $15 per month. This remarkable change in the young man's affairs came about when he received word today that he had been bequeathed a fortune amounting to over $1,000,000 by Yen Gifford, a distant relative, who died recently in South Africa. Young Gifford was in South Africa during the Boer War, when the elder Gifford became seriously ill. The young man tenderly nursed his rich relative back to health, little knowing that the deed would be so handsomely rewarded.

Spokane Millionaire Leaves Widow Bulk of Fortune and Also Remembers Friends and Charities.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SPOKANE (Wash.) June 29.—The filing of a petition here today for letters testamentary disclosed that John A. Finch, millionaire pioneer of the Coeur d'Alenes mining district, who died suddenly June 20 in Idaho, had bequeathed to his widow, Mrs. Charlotte S. Finch, six-tenths of his estate, estimated to be worth from $3,000,000 to $6,000,000. Of the remaining four-tenths $342,000 is bequeathed to several score relatives and friends. The residue will go to charitable institutions.

HARRY CARR TO EUROPE

"Times" Man will Depart Today.

Will Make a Personal Study of the War Situation at Close Range.

One Great Issue is: How Long will the People Hold Out?

Grave Doubts that the Deadlock of the Huge Armies will be Broken.

BY HARRY CARR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 29.—Unless Providence intervenes, when the Scandinavian steamship Frederick VII sails from New York Wednesday afternoon, I will be one of the passengers. I am headed for the war.

My reasons for going to the front are these:

The war has progressed to the point where a close observation of the civil population of the belligerent countries will reveal more than a study of the mere military operations.

It is now thoroughly established in the minds of all military students that this is to be a war of endurance and exhaustion. In such a war two elements govern, the comparative efficiency and stability of the military machinery and the spirit of the people behind the armies.

The armies are so evenly matched as to be at a deadlock which is never likely to be broken. The superior training and the advantage of position on the part of the German army is matched by the superiority of numbers of the allies. This superiority of numbers has now advanced as far as possible. Any more countries that are dragged into the war as allies will increase the financial drain upon England to fully as great an extent as their numbers help. Bulgaria and Rumania might cause temporary embarrassment to the Austro-German forces by reason of their strategic position. But, in the end, I think the entrance of any Balkan state as a new belligerent would rouse the old feuds and make more trouble than benefit for the allies.

On the other hand, it would seem that the German army is definitely at the end of its offensive. The military prospect only shows a stalemate, with both armies killing and not conquering.

It is clear that this war is to be decided by the civil populations of the different countries. It is important for us to know how long the people of Europe are going on with it. The only way to find out is to look them over.

It is easy to get a reasonably unbiased report on the strictly military operations because strategy is an exact science. But I have never been able to find anything but the wildest partisanship regarding the attitude of the people. I hope to be able to find out what is really so.

Since the beginning of the publication of the Checkerboard articles I have received many letters accusing me of partisanship. Most of them have been from Englishmen who did not, at the time, realize the justice of my assertions that the English army officers, although brave, did not understand the game of war. As this has now been openly admitted by the allies, they doubtless feel differently about it. I feel that I am sailing with an absolutely open mind. I am related neither by friendship, ancestry, nor interests to either side. On one side, my ancestor came to America from England in 1632, and, on the other side, my forebear was one of the little group of Dutch immigrants who settled New York. So I imagine I am pretty thoroughly Americanized.

Allowing for the gap that must necessarily take place while I am en route, I hope to keep up the Checkerboard every week just as usual, providing censors will permit. One gets a hint of the comparative rigidity of the governments when you get your passports. Of all the belligerents, England is the most liberal. No vise is required. The French consular office is located in an old stone building on Bridge street. The passport clerk looks at you with pain and reproach and asks you to sign a paper giving your reasons for wanting to go, and asking for references.

In the German consular office, the clerk reads over your passports very carefully, then copies down your personal description in a book. In the middle of it, he looks over at you and anxiously inquires: "Do you always wear glasses?" Then he takes the passport away and fastens a slip on it.

It takes two days to get a vise from the Italian Consul. He has a little edifice down on Lafayette street. The lobby is filled with sad-looking Italian men and children. The consular clerk looks over your passport and tells you it won't do. You have to sign your name across the face of your own photo, then you have to get a notary to acknowledge the signature, which has already been guaranteed by the State Department. Lastly, you have to get two letters of recommendation and introduction. One gets the idea that correspondents are not at present a very desirable commodity in Italy. Just as you start out of the office, the clerk calls after you a warning to report to the Chief of Police of every Italian city within twenty-four hours of arrival.

The "Checkerboard of the War" Man.

Optimistic.

REPLY TO WILSON NOTE MAY BE BASIS OF PEACE.

Washington Expects to Find the Entering Wedge in the Kaiser's Answer.

Asquith to be Interpellated Today as to Whether or not Britain will State Her Terms More Specifically. Other Signs that the Fires of Hate are Burning a Little Bit Lower.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLEN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 29.—Germany's reply to the President's Lusitania demands is expected by the administration to furnish an opening wedge for peace.

Whether this expectation is based on official information or not, it is impossible to learn, but it is now admitted in circles close to the President that in his last note to Germany regarding the Lusitania the Chief Executive deliberately inserted a paragraph for the purpose of drawing an official assertion of German interest in American mediation. If this assertion should come, and, as stated, the authorities are confident it will, then a communication will be addressed to the other belligerents, calling their attention to Germany's willingness to make peace and asking for a statement of their views.

THE PARAGRAPH.

Here is the paragraph which seems to have escaped general notice:

"It (the government of the United States) stands ready at any time to convey to either government any intimation or suggestion the other may be willing to have it convey and cordially invites the imperial German government to make use of its services in this way, at its convenience. The whole world is concerned in anything that may bring about even a partial accommodation of interests, or in any way mitigate the terrors of the present distressing conflict."

It is certain, of course, that Germany will take advantage of this invitation at least to urge the United States to resume its efforts to induce Great Britain to lift the ban on foodstuffs intended for the civilian population of the Teutonic empires. If the reply goes merely that far, however, it will disappoint the President. The latter's hope of a peace suggestion from Germany came originally from Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, who intimated, during the conference he had at the White House several weeks ago, that peace might rise from the Lusitania negotiations. The President has taken the position that he cannot act on unofficial suggestions. This accounts for the way in which he has disregarded suggestions emanating from various personages who claimed to speak with authority of one or the other of the belligerent governments.

GERMANY'S CHANCE.

The President has given Germany the chance to indicate whether or not she is willing to have the United States use its good offices in behalf of an accommodation of the interests of all the belligerents. All the reports received at the State Department tend to the belief that the German government is impressed with the desirability of terminating the war at this time. Notwithstanding the military success the troops of the empire have had, there is a growing sentiment among the German people for peace.

There is a great deal of regret expressed in allied diplomatic circles that the German government should be given an opportunity to proclaim its desire for peace. Necessarily it is to the advantage of Germany and Austria-Hungary that the war should end now and it is highly disadvantageous for the allies to quit. The prestige of the latter is at the vanishing point. They have been beaten repeatedly. They feel that if the war should be ended at this time, it would be only a short time before its resumption took place. What Great Britain and France are insisting upon is a durable, a lasting peace. They want guarantees that they shall not be subject to attack.

THE PEACE MOTIVE IN COMMONS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, June 29, 8 p.m.—David Mason, a Liberal member of the House of Commons for Coventry, has given notice that he will ask Premier Asquith in the House on Wednesday "whether, in view of certain speeches by some members of the German Parliament demanding a speedy and honorable peace, His Majesty's government will consider the advisability of stating more specifically than heretofore the terms upon which such a peace would be possible, with the object of hastening such a happy consummation."

PROBABLY PEACE WAS THE THEME.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, June 29.—A Morning Post dispatch from Petrograd says: "A very important meeting of the Russian Cabinet, known as the Council of Ministers, has been held under the presidency of the Emperor in person at Russian headquarters in the field, Grand Duke Nicholas and Gen. Polivanov, the newly-appointed Minister of War, being also present. It is in these days altogether exceptional for the Emperor to preside in person over a Cabinet council. When His Majesty does so it invariably indicates that momentous decisions affecting Russian history are being arrived at, and that not merely routine, everyday work, however important, is being transacted."

COMMENT ON THE SITUATION.

Peace is in the air. England has been asked to state her terms. And the reply of the Kaiser to Mr. Wilson's Lusitania note is expected to hurry matters along. The Czar has been in close conference with his advisers and it may be he talked peace with them. Even from Mexico comes a peace note and, mirabile dictu, sounded at this time by fear of what Huerta may accomplish.

CONTENDS LAW DENIES HIM THE RIGHT OF PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 29.—Arguments that the Harrison anti-narcotic law was unconstitutional in that it denied drug users the pursuit of happiness were made before United States Judge Landis by attorneys seeking a writ of habeas corpus for Dr. Arthur L. Blunt, charged with aiding drug users in violating the law.

The writ was denied and Dr. Blunt, unable to reach a court commissioner, to give bond, went to jail.

The court overruled the contention of the physician's attorneys that the Federal government had no power to regulate the acts of a physician licensed by the State.

Train With Guests For the Wedding of Daughter of Speaker of House Goes Into Ditch.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOWLING GREEN (Mo.) June 29.—Reports received here tonight said the Chicago and Alton passenger train, carrying James M. Thomson, fiance of Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of Champ Clark, and a large party en route to the Thomson-Clark wedding, went into a ditch near here. Early reports said no one was injured.

The train was crowded with guests to the wedding, including almost the entire bridal party, with the exception of Miss Clark. Four cars left the track and rolled into a ditch near Curryville, seven miles from Bowling Green.

SCUTARI IS OCCUPIED BY ~~THE MONTENEGRINS~~.

Population of City, Headed by Priests and Bands, March Out of Town to Meet Victorious Army—Gen. Vechovitch Notifies Citizens that Henceforth They will be Ruled by Montenegrin Law.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, June 29.—Describing the occupation of Scutari, Albania, by Montenegrin troops, the Rome correspondent of the Havas agency says:

"Mussulmans, Catholics, members of the orthodox faith, members of the government, the police force, the schools and the population, preceded by flags and bands, marched out of the city. At noon came the triumphal entry of the Montenegrins, preceded by an advance guard. Following the advance guard were priests in their ceremonial robes, carrying the cross and religious standards; then came the main Montenegrin army, led by Gen. Vechovitch and the Montenegrin Consul and bands of irregular Albanians followed.

"The Austrian Consul lowered the flag and placed the Consulate in the care of the Greek Consul.

"The General Staff of the troops occupying Scutari have taken charge of the administration of the city, declaring that citizens must henceforth consider themselves of Montenegro and be judged according to Montenegrin law and that the disturbers of the new regime will be punished by martial law.

"Gen. Vechovitch addressed the foreign Consuls, saying that he was taking possession of the city in the name of King Nicholas. Patrols guard the Consulates and public buildings."

DENIES WILL HOLD CITY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, June 29.—Almost coincident with the report from Rome that the Montenegrins had occupied Scutari, Albania, Andre Rabovitch, former Prime Minister of Montenegro, who is now in London on a special mission, announced that Montenegro had no intention of occupying Scutari. He explained that Montenegro entered certain parts of Albania for strategic reasons only.

Scutari was an object of contention between Montenegro and the great powers during the Balkan war. The Montenegrin forces on April 23, 1913, captured the city after a siege which lasted from the preceding October.

Prior to this, the powers had decided to include Scutari in the future state of Albania and had offered compensation to King Nicholas in money and land on condition that he give up Scutari. The Montenegrin King announced that he would hold Scutari against the powers and, as a result, the international naval blockade of the Montenegrin coast was extended.

Eventually on further demand of the powers, King Nicholas decided to evacuate Scutari, which was occupied by an international force on May 14, 1913.

A recent official note issued by the Montenegrin government explained that strategic and political reasons impelled the Montenegrin descent on Albania and gave as an additional reason that other powers had already occupied portions of Albania.

Suit.

"A MRS. UPTON SINCLAIR" NAMED AS CO-RESPONDENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MILLEN (Ga.) June 29.—Charging that he brought "a certain Mrs. Upton Sinclair," whom he met at a Socialist gathering in Cleveland, into his home, and brutally informed his wife "that he cared more for Mrs. Sinclair than he did for her," Mrs. Winnifred Raoul has brought suit for divorce and alimony against her husband, William G. Raoul, Jr., of Atlanta, well-known capitalist, and one of Georgia's first Socialists.

Raoul is under arrest in jail here under an exeat, having failed to put up a $25,000 bond. Mrs. Sinclair is described in the petition for divorce "as the woman who was generally known by the press as the soul mate of the author, Upton Sinclair, these parties living together without the ceremony of marriage having been performed, until the woman was deserted by the said Sinclair."

Mrs. Raoul, aged about 19, was formerly Miss Winnifred Wadley of Macon, niece of George Dole Wadley, well-known capitalist.

The petition declares that Mrs. Raoul, knowing nothing about Mrs. Sinclair, invited her, at Raoul's request, to visit them at the home of Mrs. Raoul's brother, that while there Mrs. Sinclair and Raoul would go to the woods together, both day and night, and that she visited Raoul's room very scantily attired. This, Mrs. Raoul declares, forced her to leave the house, but Raoul and Mrs. Sinclair remained until Monday night, June 21, and during your petitioner's absence."

The petitioner avers Raoul said "he had decided he cared more for Mrs. Sinclair than he did for her, and that his object in bringing her was to compare the two and make his choice."

Mrs. Sinclair, after the filing of the petition, stopped at a local hotel until Saturday, when she left, presumably for Gulfport, Miss.

Mrs. Raoul asks for temporary and permanent alimony, lawyer's fees, total divorce and restoration of her maiden name. Hearing on the question of alimony will come up in Augusta Wednesday.

Berlin.

GERMANS FORD DNIESTER; CHARGE MILE ON SLAVS.

Von Linsingen Faced Almost Impossible Conditions in Galicia.

Writer Says Army had to Wade Across Swift, Deep Stream to Reach Russians on the Heights, but Managed to Overcome Almost Superhuman Obstacles to Win a Victory.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN (via London) June 29.—How Gen. Von Linsingen's troops, under almost impossible conditions, forced a passage across the Dniester River near Bukazowice, in Galicia, and drove back the desperately-battling Russians along a front several miles wide on the morning of June 25 is told by Richard Schott, a correspondent of the Tages Zeitung.

"The Germans," the writer says, "had to ford the deep, swift river under merciless sharpshooter and machine gun fire, storm abrupt clay cliffs, and then charge for a mile across open meadows against the Russians, who were ensconced in the deep wooded heights. After days of fighting the Germans had the Russians in flight and had captured thousands of men.

"On the night of June 25," the correspondent says, "the attack began along a broad front in the neighborhood of Bukaszowice, northwest of Kalusz. Wurttembergers and east and west Prussian troops took part. The country at this point offers unusual advantages for defense. The high wooded land along the south bank drops off abruptly.

"The northern shore had clay banks several yards high, then open meadows a mile broad, shut in by thickly-wooded heights, from which the enemy operated machine guns and cannon at all too great accuracy. The position appeared untakable.

"The German troops crossed in the darkness and before daybreak the first lines had begun an advance toward the woods.

"Our opponents were able to check the attack only at the steepest river bank. One West Prussian regiment had to stand all day breast deep in water. A soldier, in order to shoot, had to be lifted out of the water by others. Even these difficulties were overcome, however, and notwithstanding a flanking fire, this troop emerged and finally reached and stormed the enemy's chief position.

"With deliberation and calmness, as if on the parade ground, the gigantic movement made progress until the city of Bukaszowice and its suburbs, occupied by the best Russian troops and Finnish sharpshooters, were taken, and the Russians soon were retreating along the entire line.

"The Germans immediately fortified the heights beyond the meadows against counter-attacks from the dispossessed Russians. Our troops are in excellent condition despite their exertions and the exposure they have undergone.

HEAVY LOSS TO AUSTRIANS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

GENEVA (Switzerland, via Paris) June 29.—A dispatch to the Geneva Tribune from Innsbruck, Austria, dealing with the fighting in Galicia, says that according to estimates made in Innsbruck "in the Russian counter-attacks around Lemberg the Austrians have lost 40,000 men since June 23."

The dispatch continues:

"The Russians are resisting strongly on the left bank of the Zelder. The Austrians have begun a general powerful offensive on the Dniester-Pruth-Zereth front. From the Dniester, the Russians have been obliged to retreat, which is difficult owing to the rain and mud."

THE CAPTURE OF TOMASZOW.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

VIENNA (via London) June 29.—The Teutonic allies in their advance over the Galician border into Russian Poland in the region of Tomaszov have captured that Polish town, according to an Austrian official statement given out here tonight. The statement also says that strong Russian forces north of Kamionka, twenty-five miles northeast of Lemberg, were repulsed with great loss last night after heavy fighting.

TEXT OF STATEMENT.

The text of the statement follows:

"In East Galicia the Teutonic allied armies, pursuing the enemy, reached the Gnila Lipa River and the Bug River near Kamionka. The Russian troops on this line now are being attacked. On Monday we captured Burstyn.

"Strong hostile forces standing near Belec, north of Kamionka, were last night, after heavy fighting and with great loss, repulsed to Krystianpol.

"North of Rawa Ruska and north of Cieszanow the Teutonic allies advanced on Russian territory. We occupied Tomaszow.

"Monday night the enemy evacuated his positions on the northern Tanew River and on the north bank of the San, and began a retreat in a northeasterly direction, everywhere pursued.

"In Poland and on the Dniester River the situation is unchanged.

"In the Italian theater no material events occurred yesterday. The enemy again wasted much ammunition against the bridge head at Gorizia."

Maj. Moraht.

BRITISH CAN HOLD LINES, SAYS BERLIN WAR EXPERT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM (via London) June 30.—Discussing the war situation in an article in the Berliner Tageblatt, Maj. Moraht, military expert of that paper says:

"On the tenacious maintenance of our war gains in the east depends our defensive in the west. It is not yet clear whether we ought to lay stress upon England's munitions scarcity and the growing difficulty in recruiting up till now. We can only state that the waste of ammunition on the part of the enemy is still boundless, and that the losses at the front all have been replaced. We should be well advised to believe that England will succeed in reorganizing the production of ammunition and that the English armies in France will doubtless be able to maintain their present status."

Rome.

FIERCE FIGHT IN TYROL; AUSTRIANS ARE REPULSED.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME, June 29 (via Paris) June 30.—The following Italian official war statement was given out here tonight:

"In the Tyrol and Trentino regions, especially along the eastern part of this frontier, the Austrian artillery continues very active. The enemy, by repeated attacks, tried to capture the position of Monte Givaron in Val Sugunda but was repulsed.

"In Carnia we effectively bombarded the Austrian places of shelter at Straninger, driving out the troops who were there. We also dispersed groups of workers who were about to construct positions for artillery near the defile of Giramondo.

"From his side the enemy bombarded the summit of Zellenkofel and afterwards attacked at different times, but unsuccessfully.

"In the region of the Isonzo river the atmospheric conditions remain unfavorable and have rendered very difficult, in view of the bad state of the ground, some isolated attacks which the Austrian columns directed, perhaps only to try out conditions of resistance. The enemy has been repulsed on several positions recently conquered. Night alarms in enemy camps continue to be reported."

CHARGE OF GRENADIERS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

MILAN (Italy) June 29 (via Lugano and Paris.)—The Corriere della Serra prints an account of a charge by an Italian force, a brigade of grenadiers, comprising the tallest men in the army, at the time of the occupation of the Carso Heights, northeast of Monfalcone. The grenadiers, says the newspaper, approached to within fifty yards of the entrenched enemy, when with the cry of "Savoy" they sprang with fixed bayonets on the Austrians, who broke and fled.

A shower of artillery obliged the grenadiers to change their position to protect themselves. The Austrians, evidently believing the Italians had retired, advanced to reoccupy the lost entrenchment, whereupon the colossal Maj. Manfredi, taking the colors in hand, cried:

"Grenadiers, remember the Sardinian brigade never withdrew."

The grenadiers, the newspaper adds, flung themselves upon the advancing troops, driving them back. Shrapnel carried away the left leg of Maj. Manfredi, who shortly afterwards died from loss of blood, his last words being, "Good-by, my brave boys; long live Italy."

COMMUNES IN AUSTRIA.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, June 29.—A Havas dispatch from Rome by way of Geneva says that in seventy communes organized by the supreme commandant of Austrian territory occupied by the Italians, life has again become normal. The authorities make daily distribution of food to the population.

PEACE MOVEMENT OF THE SOCIALISTS

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

MILAN (Italy) Monday, June 28 (delayed by censor.)—The appeal to the German Socialists in favor of peace is considered here to be most symptomatic of the change that has taken place in a large section of public opinion at the end of the first year of the great war. Such an appeal, it is believed here, would have been impossible in July, 1914.

Italian intransigent Socialists have been approached with the object of seeing whether they were ready to take similar steps toward their government.

The opinion prevails in Milan, however, that they will first see what the Socialists of other countries concerned in the Austrian conflagration decide to do.

COLORADO CANAL OPENED.

SAN FRANCISCO SCULPTRESS AGAIN ASKS DIVORCE.

Gertrude Boyle Kanno for Third Time Goes to Court to be Relieved of Her Philosopher Husband and Decree may be Granted this Time by Default.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 29.—For the third time in three months, Gertrude Boyle Kanno, sculptress and ward of the poet, Joaquin Miller, today declared to the world that she was aweary of the ties which bind her to her Japanese poet-philosopher husband, Takeshi Kanno.

That the artistic temperament is an unsatisfactory substitute for bread, and that her warm occidental love cannot thrive in an atmosphere of oriental philosophy and esoteric poetry are the underlying reasons given by Mrs. Kanno for her latest attempt to win a divorce from the Japanese.

The romantic meeting and courtship of the beautiful and gifted California girl to the Japanese, which began at "The Heights," Joaquin Miller's home in the hills back of Fruitvale, and ended with their marriage in Seattle in the spring of 1907, brought them both into national prominence.

Because of their artistic temperaments and their altruistic quest for happiness, the racial mesalliance was by their friends believed to be buried deeply under a transcendental love.

Since Kanno has made no answer to the latest complaint, it is believed the decree will this time be granted by default. There is no community property and the sculptress asks merely to be permitted to resume her maiden name of Boyle.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sage Goodwin of Hartford, Ct., Creates Sensation in Society of the Western City by Lavish Expenditure Until Her Freedom is Formally Obtained.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BOISE (Idaho) June 29.—Details of the granting of a divorce May 1 by Judge Charles P. McCarthy to Elizabeth Sage Goodwin of Hartford, Ct., from Walter L. Goodwin, a prominent jurist of that place, on ground of non-support and desertion, have just become known. It is reported that Mr. Goodwin is a relative of J. Pierpont Morgan.

When Mrs. Goodwin arrived in Boise accompanied by a retinue of servants and excess baggage that cost her nearly $100 she came into some prominence. This was added to when it became known that she had leased a magnificent residence at a fancy price and comfortably established herself.

Although she lived quietly, parties for her intimate friends soon became social items among the elite of Boise. Expenses of any kind seemed to be of little consequence and money was spent quite lavishly.

JURIST OF CHICAGO URGES IT AS A NECESSITY TO NEW YORK CONVENTION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) June 29.—Julian W. Mack of Chicago, judge of the United States, appeared before the Judiciary Committee of the New York constitutional convention today and urged the adoption of an amendment to the Constitution creating juvenile and domestic relations courts. The amendment was introduced by A. T. Clearwater, former justice of the New York Supreme Court.

"No judge is too able or too learned to sit in a juvenile court," said Judge Mack. "He is called upon to decide the fate of so many of our future citizens that it is impossible to exaggerate the importance of his post."

Judge Mack declared that the juvenile legislation was an effort to conserve the family as the cornerstone of the State. In New York, where child offenders are still treated through criminal procedure, Judge Mack asserted, there was danger of breaking up families instead of preserving them."

VIVIANI REPLIES TO HIS CRITICS.

French Premier Explains the Policy of Government.

Production of Munitions has Increased Sixfold.

Millerand Pays Tribute to Military Physicians.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, June 29.—To put an end as far as possible to the criticism evident in recent session of the Chamber of Deputies, Premier Viviani, accompanied by eight members of the Cabinet, appeared at the ministerial bench in the Senate today and spoke on the appropriation bills for the third quarter. This bill, which would appropriate $1,120,000,000 to cover government expenses for the three months beginning July 1, was passed by the Chamber of Deputies last Friday.

M. Vivani explained that the government had no desire to take the upper hand of the representatives of the people.

"Parliament has the control; the government the execution," said the Premier. "That is the essential principle of all democracy. We wish neither the rapt optimism nor bitter disenchantment which breaks the springs of justice. We ask merely reasoned and methodical confidence. It required a great spontaneous exertion for this country, habituated to criticisms, to become tractable. Now it is ready for the long and patient effort which will be the ransom of the peace of the world."

VIVIANI WELCOMED.

Premier Viviani was accorded the warmest of demonstrations by the Senate.

"At the moment the Senate is called upon to vote the appropriations necessary for national defense," he said, "I wish to give an account of the stewardship of the Ministry of War from the outbreak of hostilities.

"From August 1 to April 1," continued the Minister, "France has increased her military production sixfold. The curve for munitions has never ceased to mount, nor that representing the manufacture of our '75's.' I can give satisfying assurances also regarding the heavy artillery and small arms. From the 1st of January to the 15th of May, the production of mitrailleuses was doubled. The curve for the other essentials of war is equally encouraging. We are determined to follow our enemies, whatever arms they may employ."

MILLERAND'S HOMAGE.

M. Millerand paid homage to the civil and military physicians whose devotion and patriotism had aided so materially the organization of the sanitary service, and added:

"None better than I knows the errors and weaknesses, but we must not let details blind our vision. All our allies publicly recognize the excellence of our military industries. I ask my compatriots to be no less just."

The appropriations were unanimously passed.

Dr. Hickling of Washington, D.C., Declares at Time He Killed Stanford White Pittsburgher was Suffering from an Illusion and not a Delusion, He Thought.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 29.—In the Thaw case today, Dr. Bancroft testified he had examined Thaw last Sunday. "There is not a doubt of suspicion in my mind as to this man's sanity," he testified.

Dr. Percy Hickling of Washington, D. C., president of the American Society of Medical Jurisprudence, testified that he, too, had found Thaw sane and rational.

Thaw, Dr. Hickling said, seemed to have been really in love with his wife, Evelyn Nesbit, at the time of the killing, but at the time of his examination his attitude had changed.

On the subject of Thaw's alleged paranoiacal delusions as to the conduct of Stanford White toward Evelyn Nesbit and other women, and that he, Thaw, was a protector of American girlhood, Dr. Hickling testified that Thaw could not be said to be suffering from a delusion, but from an illusion. That was no evidence of a diseased mind, he said.

Dr. Charles K. Mills of Philadelphia, another alienist, who said he had examined Thaw at various times in connection with previous proceedings and recently in New York, testified he had found him "a sane man." Dr. Mills was still on the stand when adjournment was taken until tomorrow. It is expected that at the conclusion of his cross-examination Thaw's attorneys will rest their case.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WINSTED (Ct.) June 29.—When Fred Winters, who lives on the Torrington road, returned from work at F. M. Travis's farm, situated nearby, last evening, he was informed that one of his pigs which had not been active for several days had died several hours previously. He dragged the apparently lifeless pig to a point not far distant from the house and with shovel and pick began digging a grave. He had almost completed the work when dark clouds came over the mountains, presaging a thunderstorm, and he tossed the last shovelful of dirt from the excavation, preparatory to burying the "dead" porker. A terrific thunderclap startled him and also the "dead" pig, which gaining his feet scampered away. The pig was on the road to recovery according to last reports.

IRISH PATRIOT PASSES AWAY.

O'DONOVAN ROSSA, EXILE FROM ERIN FOR MANY YEARS.

Banished by English Government for His Connection with Fenian Uprising, He Advocated Use of Dynamite if Necessary to Free His Country from Grasp of Oppressor.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 29.—Jeremiah O'Donovan, better known as O'Donovan Rossa, Irish patriot and revolutionist, died in St. Vincents Hospital, Staten Island, late today. He had been ill for many months.

Rossa spent the last half of his life in the United States, twenty years of which were passed under an edict of banishment from Great Britain and any of her possessions. Though granted a full pardon by Queen Victoria for his revolutionary activities in "freeing Ireland," a quarter of a century after the Fenian uprising, he remained to the end an uncompromising foe to British rule.

"England has proclaimed war against me," he vowed, "and so help me God, I will wage war against her until she is stricken to her knees or till I am stricken to my grave."

BORN IN COUNTY CORK.

Born in County Cork in 1831 as Jeremiah O'Donovan, he later took the name of Rossa, and while still a boy became interested in the Young Ireland Movement. He was particularly an admirer of John Mitchel, grandfather of the present Mayor Mitchel of New York, a leader in the movement.

Parliamentary agitation, as carried on by Daniel O'Connell, did not appeal to the young Cork man, who took as his standard John Mitchel's statement, "If I could grasp the fires of hell I'd hurl them into the face of my country's enemy," and up to his death he did not change this theory.

When he was 27 years old Rossa and several other members of the Phoenix Literary Society were arrested on a charge of conspiracy and after nine months' imprisonment were released on a suspended sentence in 1859. Then he became associated with James Stephens and Col. John O'Mahony in the Fenian movement, and worked ardently as an organizer of the Irish Revolutionary Brotherhood, until his arrest in Dublin September 15, 1865, when the office of the Fenian newspaper, Irish People, was raided. He was sentenced to penal servitude for life, but six years later he was released and banished to America.

ADVOCATED DYNAMITE.

From that time Rossa was identified with the "extremists" in this country and he advocated the use of dynamite for, as he called it, "the resources of civilization" against everything British. He founded a newspaper here, the United Irishmen. The subscribers Rossa called his "tenants" and he always acknowledged the receipt of their subscriptions in the columns of the United Irishmen as the "rents."

For nearly forty years Rossa was identified with the advocates of physical force in this country and many times was held in disfavor by members of more pacific Irish organizations, which would not tolerate violence and advocated pacific measures in bringing about a form of self-government for Ireland.

In Chambers street, New York, in 1885, an English nurse, Lucilla Yseulte Dudley, shot and slightly wounded Rossa. Four weeks prior to this Capt. Thomas Phelan, a member of the Fenian Brotherhood, had been stabbed in Rossa's office, on Chambers street, for which Richard Short was arrested. Some weeks later Rossa and Phelan convalesced in the same hospital in this city. Short was acquitted and the Dudley woman was adjudged insane. Rossa always contended that she was an emissary of the British government, sent here to kill him.

Accused Midshipman at Annapolis Testifies He did Not Suspect Examination Papers Had Been Stolen.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ANNAPOLIS (Md.) June 29.—Midshipman James E. Moss of the former third class at the United States Naval Academy was a witness today before the court of inquiry investigating cheating in this year's final examinations in the modern languages department. Moss is alleged to have distributed information which Academy authorities claim was stolen and which led to Supt. Fullam's recommendation that Moss and six other midshipmen be dismissed.

Moss was subjected to a severe cross-examination. He said he had received five papers relating to the Spanish and French tests. These papers, he testified, came in a plain envelope which had been dropped into a mail box at the academy and delivered in the regular manner.

He said he did not suspect they were copies of the examinations, but thought they might have been sent him by some friend who had advance information as to the nature of the coming tests.

"NO CAUSE FOR TROUBLE," SAYS MEYER-GERHARD.

"It's All Only a Misunderstanding," He Informs Germany.

Agent of Ambassador Von Bernstorff Reaches Berlin and Tells the People There the Feeling in the United States is at Heart Friendly, but Both Nations Share Mutual Misconception of the Problems of the War.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, June 29 (by wireless to Sayville, N.Y.) — Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, the attache of the German Colonial Office, who was sent from the United States to Berlin by the German Ambassador, Count von Bernstorff, to explain the views of the United States regarding the Lusitania incident, published an article in Der Tag today on Germany and America, in which he said his experiences convinced him that both countries misunderstood each other.

The whole issue between the United States and Germany was only one of misunderstanding, said Dr. Meyer-Gerhard, which can also arise between friends. No sensible man, he said, will light-heartedly throw away a friendship of long years because he cannot on one occasion make himself completely understood. Sensible nations, he argued, will conduct themselves in like manner.

"Friendship between Germany and America," declared Dr. Meyer-Gerhard, "is a valuable possession for both nations, and it is worth while to take care that it be saved to both."

ON THE RIGHT ROAD.

The Lokal Anzeiger, which also printed the article, commenting editorially upon it, said:

"The foregoing remarks by Dr. Meyer-Gerhard show that the imperial government is on the right road with its treatment of questions existing between us and the United States. It is to be wished also that those circles which heretofore have been inclined to make light of our differences with America as being utterly unimportant, will let themselves be taught better by Dr. Meyer-Gerhard's words."

GERMANY WINNING FRIENDS.

"It is true," said Dr. Meyer-Gerhard in his article, "that the American press with some laudable exceptions, especially the German-American papers, have not succeeded in remaining neutral, but the influence of the press upon public opinion is sometimes greatly overestimated. Doubtless large sections of the American people are friendly towards Germany, whose efficient organization is daily winning new friends and arousing interest in things German. One excellent effect of the war is upon German-Americans who without sacrifice of their love to their adopted country have given strong remembrance of their former their education and their culture. sides them on the other side of the ocean there are wide circles of sympathize with Germany."

Alluding to the discussion over ammunition question, Dr. Meyer-hard said:

"Germans often mistake the munition orders for filled ones. a large extent such orders are cing big factories into new works. This is regrettable, but writer is convinced that large of the American people disapprove it. Popular vote would show siderable majority against the Germans must discriminate between business men accepting orders and great mass of American people.

NO REASON TO QUARREL.

"Equally, there are Americans condemn violation of Belgian ity and the sinking of the and are unable to understand man idea of the real conditions Germans are unable to understand Americans could travel on a ship. Both peoples are inherently entirely different opinions. lived hitherto in peace and and should continue so to live. is no real reason for assuming listing between them."

In his article Dr. Meyer-Gerhard spoke of the causes which have weakened Germany's former feeling toward America, citing as what he alluded to as the Inclination towards Russia, munition sale in America, on the other hand, he said, reproached with violating neutrality and devoting herself tarism in order to conquer the world. The deaths of Americans the Lusitania had unfavorably affected American sentiment Germany, he added.

Regarding the question of neutrality and militarism, he says the Germans cannot realize the feeling aroused in America these questions, as they have surrendered her own security that militarism is only the foundation in arms for its own The American viewpoint would, however, and each nation be wrongly treated by the other.

Note.

LUSITANIA DIFFICULTY LIKELY TO BE BRIDGED

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN, June 29 (via London) June 30.—Official circles in Berlin are authority for the statement that no intimation respecting the actual contents of the forthcoming German note in reply to the American note bearing on the sinking of the Lusitania, has reached Washington for the reason that those engaged in drafting the document have themselves not determined its tenor.

The admiralty professes ignorance of its probable contents, and nothing has been issued from that quarter. The foreign office is understood to be working on four different drafts and trying to select one that will reconcile the viewpoints of Germany and the United States.

The possibility that a satisfactory solution to the Lusitania problem might be reached was hinted at by an official of the foreign office, who recently declared:

"President Wilson's note showed that the matter could be adjusted was in the nature of a bridge the trouble; our reply proba another girder strengthening bridge."

The German note will probably ready for transmission at the this week or early next week.

GOOD CHEER PREVAILS IN IMPERIAL VALLEY.

Report on the Situation by General Manager Platt of the Southern Pacific Railroad — Loss Due to Faulty Construction—Rebuilding Better than Before.

BY H. V. PLATT,
General Manager Southern Pacific Railroad.

BRAWLEY, June 29.—General Passenger Agent James Horsburgh, Jr., and myself have covered the Imperial Valley today on a trip of inspection from Calexico including Holtville to Brawley on the east side of the valley, and returning through Imperial, El Centro and Heber on the west side of the valley, stopping at all places and viewing conditions as well as informing ourselves of the conservative opinion of the leading business men in the valley. In not a single instance have we found a man disheartened or the slightest indication of anything but a determination to repair and build better than what they have heretofore had. We also find that some reports have been exaggerated.

If proper building restrictions had covered the construction of buildings which were affected, 90 per cent. of the damage would not have occurred.

All the damage done to the Barbara Worth Hotel was due to the fire wall above the roof line, which apparently was not in conformity with the construction of the building. All the paintings inspired by Harold Bell Wright are intact and damage caused by fire wall can be repaired at a nominal expense. We are informed the hotel will reopen on Saturday of this week with damage fully repaired. All places of business bearing signs of the recent quake are occupied and business is going on as usual.

As to damage done in Calexico and El Centro, the largest towns affected, our own judgment after inspection, especially at Calexico, was confirmed this evening before our departure from that point by a conference with Architect Bergstrom of the firm of Parkinson & Bergstrom of Los Angeles, that the local people themselves have overestimated the damage at Calexico. This, in our opinion, will likewise apply to El Centro and for the valley as a whole.

GREGORY SEEKS WAY TO KEEP THEM IN THE ARMY.

Attorney-General Inclined to Take the View that President may Reject Applications to Quit in Order to Secure High-salaried Positions with Arms Companies.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Legal officers of the government who have been consulted by Atty.-Gen. Gregory over the opinion requested by the Secretary of War on the right of an army officer to resign in time of peace, are understood to be virtually unanimous in holding that the President has discretionary powers and may accept or reject resignations as he sees fit.

Mr. Gregory said tonight he had not finished his opinion. He is making a thorough study of the subject and has discussed it with Solicitor-General Davis and several of his assistants.

The Judge-Advocate General of the army and the navy hold opposing views on this question which has become an issue of serious moment in the War Department because of the growing tendency of private munitions establishments to offer attractive positions to expert ordnance officers.

NOTIFIES GERMANY OF SAILING TIME.

UNITED STATES TAKES GREAT PRECAUTIONS TO PROTECT OUR SHIPPING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The United States government has adopted the practice of notifying the German Admiralty through Ambassador Gerard of the time of the departure of every passenger ship sailing under the American flag and approximately the hours during which it will pass through the war zone. This precaution is being taken in order that German submarine commanders may be on the watch for American vessels and prevent a repetition of the attack on the American tank ship Gulflight, which was torpedoed by a German submarine commander, who supposed the vessel was a British ship because it was in company of two English patrol boats.

SLATON WELL SATISFIED.

Former Governor of Georgia Says Good People Approved His Action in the Frank Case.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 29.—Former Gov. John M. Slaton of Georgia declared in a statement here tonight "that the good people of Georgia" approved his action in commuting the death sentence of Leo M. Frank to a life term in the penitentiary. Only the mob caused him any trouble, he said.

Mr. Slaton, who was accompanied by his wife, will spend a few days in the Adirondacks and will leave next week for San Francisco.

THE WEATHER BACK EAST.

Real Summer is Again on Tap with the Thermometer Hovering Around the Ninety Mark.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 29.—Real summer weather prevailed in parts of the Central West today. At Peoria, Ill., the temperature mounted to the 90-deg. mark. In Chicago the temperature was kept down by a lake breeze, the maximum being 74 deg. The wind was blowing from the northeast, but a shift is expected to send the mercury mounting. Eastern cities reported generally clear weather with temperatures ranging from 88 to 78 deg. Other temperatures:

COMMEMORATING THE TWENTY-THIRD BIRTHDAY OF
THE OWL DRUG COMPANY

AN APPRECIATION
BY THE EMPLOYEES

TODAY, The Owl Drug Company is twenty-three years old.

We, the Employees of The Owl Drug Company, desiring to commemorate the birthday of our business, take this means of expressing publicly our personal pride in its twenty-three years of progress.

With a foundation of sound business principles, the one store of 1892 has developed into the twenty-one stores of 1915. From seven employees we have grown to an organization numbering one thousand.

To Mr. R. E. Miller, our President, the founder of The Owl Drug Company, and to the efficient Management associated with him, we hereby pledge our unceasing loyalty.

To you, the Public, we wish to express our appreciation of your generous patronage. Ever striving to give you the best service possible, we have sought to earn your confidence and approval.

In the days and years to come, we intend to do our part in maintaining the same high standards that have made the progress of The Owl Drug Company possible.

Sincerely,
The Employees of
THE OWL DRUG COMPANY

DE LUXE EXCURSION TO THE EXPOSITION.

THE de luxe excursion to San Francisco and the Panama-Pacific Exposition under the auspices of The Times management, will leave Los Angeles, Thursday evening, July 8, returning to the city Wednesday, July 14.

The Times has made arrangements with the Southern Pacific Railroad Company to run a special Pullman train consisting of Pullman sleepers, baggage car, combination buffet and observation car and dining car which will take the excursionists over the Coast route to the Bay City.

On arrival at San Francisco the members of the party will embark in an auto-bus and proceed direct to the exposition grounds to take up their accommodations at the Inside Inn, a large, modern and splendidly equipped hotel, which is situated within the fair grounds.

At the exposition, the excursionists may suit their own pleasure in visiting the many beautiful exhibits.

The price of the ticket for the entire trip—which includes railroad fare to San Francisco and return, berths and meals on the train, transfer in San Francisco, accommodations and all first-class meals during the stop at the fair grounds and admission to the fair grounds each day—is $42.50.

More than half the party to go on the excursion is complete; therefore, anyone who desires to take this carefully-planned tour should write, or call, at once for reservations at the Excursion Department of The Times, corner First and Broadway.

WAS MISERABLE COULDN'T STAND

Testifies She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lackawanna, N. Y.—"After my first child was born I felt very miserable and could not stand on my feet. My sister-in-law wished me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and my nerves became firm, appetite good, step elastic, and I lost that weak, tired feeling. That was six years ago and I have had three fine healthy children since. For female troubles I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it works like a charm. I do all my own work."—Mrs. A. F. Kreamer, 1574 Electric Avenue, Lackawanna, N. Y.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

HINDU REVOLT STARTED IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Attempt to Assassinate Lord Hardinge, Viceroy of India, Believed to Have been Inspired by Propagandists in this Country and Aided by Former Lecturer.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—On evidence connecting them with Pacific Coast propagandists of Hindu revolt, six native school teachers were hanged at Delhi last month for an attempt to assassinate Lord Hardinge, Viceroy of India, in 1912 during the procession from the abandoned capital at Delhi to the new capital at Calcutta, according to a letter received here today by P. Ram Chandra, editor of the Hindustan Gadar, a San Francisco publication advocating revolution in India.

One of those executed, the message said, was a teacher in an American missionary school who was convicted on evidence that he had supplied funds to Par Dayal, formerly lecturer on Hindu philosophy at Stanford University and now a fugitive in Switzerland, where he fled during an examination into his status by the United States immigration authorities in San Francisco.

The evidence against a second of the six, according to the letter, consisted of letters from Chandra, written in San Francisco and alleged to have contained details of revolutionary plots.

PACIFIC FLEET IN PORT.

Rear-Admiral Pond Arrives at San Francisco and Anchors off Panama-Pacific Exposition.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—The United States cruisers Milwaukee and South Dakota, with Rear-Admiral Charles F. Pond commanding the Pacific reserve fleet aboard the latter, arrived here today and anchored off the Panama-Pacific Exposition. The warships came from the Bremerton navy yard.

The fleet at present off the exposition includes the battleship Oregon, cruisers Maryland, Chattanooga, San Diego and Raleigh and the Marblehead, attached to the California Naval Militia. These vessels will be joined soon by the monitor Cheyenne and the submarines H-1, H-2 and H-3.

The fleet will participate in the celebration planned for July 5.

Our Sailors Asked to Desert According to Rumor.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Federal grand jury dug deeper into the maze of the secret service of alleged recruiting agents of British government in San Francisco today.

Witnesses before the jury swore that some 300 recruits obtained here to New York for service in the British army were given physical examinations in a room at 17 State street, next to the British consulate, in New York City. Practically one of the recruits arrested in New York and returned here as a witness said that at this number is written 104 a "Capt. Roche, or Rouch, in charge of the recruits and examining them to the physical standard.

PRESTON IS ACTIVE.

John W. Preston, United States district Attorney, advised the prosecution of another witness held in New York by the Federal authorities.

It was said at the close of the session of the grand jury that the name of the San Francisco man through which the alleged recruiting of 300 men here was financed had been learned. Preston declared that he is determined to get the "higher-ups" in the recruiting ring, if they exist.

It was said today on high authority that in the alleged recruiting of these 300 men more than $100,000 was spent. Federal investigators are following every wire to get at the source of this flood of cash. The largest single amount poured into San Francisco for recruiting operations is said to have been deposited by a certain Canadian, and that similar recruiting activities have occurred in other American cities.

INDUCEMENTS TO RECRUITS.

According to the statements of Federal investigator in the case, officers and soldiers of this garrison have been induced to desert and join the bands of recruits sent here by the agents at $10 per head, free transportation, money and pay with future promotion. It was said that recruiting agents have worked in the army and navy posts here.

A saloon south of Market street frequented by workless men is alleged to have been a rich field for the recruiting agents.

The investigation will continue.

SECOND WIFE WITH THE FIRST
THEY LIVED TOGETHER AFTER SHE HAD DIVORCED HUSBAND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTLAND (Or.) June 29.—Twenty years ago Julia and Daniel Wood were divorced. The husband was awarded the custody of the children, a University of Oregon graduate and the wife the custody of the daughter. Since then the father has died.

Today, in court, the daughter, the first wife fought against the guardianship of the children by their having started an action in which the daughter awarded $5000 and charged the wife with being unfit.

O'Connell's second wife took the stand for the husband, and in her testimony it was revealed that she had left O'Connell and lived for several months with the first wife.

BATHING ISSUE AT PORTLAND
CENSOR MAY BE APPOINTED SUITS WORN BY WOMEN SWIMMERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTLAND (Or.) June 29.—Portland soon may have a "bathing censor." Abbreviated bathing suits worn by those of the fair sex at the swimming resorts along the Willamette River do not make a hit with Mayor Albee.

Mayor Albee said today that complaints had been made that some of the young women swimmers were wearing suits of the kind that go on with a shoe horn. He said he hasn't seen them himself, but if the statements are true there will be "some sights" at the local resorts. He said: "I have, however, received complaints to Harbor Master Bennett for investigation, and if some women are making the bathing

"NIGHT RIDERS" RELEASED

Gov. Ernest Lister of Washington Releases Two Men After Supreme Court had Affirmed Conviction.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SOUTH BEND (Wash.) June 29.—Gov. Ernest Lister today granted a reprieve of thirty days to Frank Ross, who were to hang Monday on a remittur from the supreme Court, affirming the lower court's decision, for conviction of so-called "night rider" outrages. The alleged assault on A. A. Brunton and others were released when he proved a sensational nature developed in the case of the State against Charles Underpool, one of the alleged night riders charged with burning the barn of Mrs. M. M. Ross.

Mothers Blamed for Coddling to Married Daughters.

Question of Raising Children Too Often Neglected.

Woman Doctor's Plan of Race Regeneration.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 29.—Wrong ideals instilled into the minds of young women by their mothers are more potent factors in problems of vice than organized immorality, according to Dr. Albert A. Ogle of Indianapolis, who spoke today before the Bureau of Sanitary Science in connection with the annual convention of the American Institute of Homeopathy. Dr. Ogle said:

"At the very beginning of marriage, on the foundation of the home and future happiness are seriously menaced by the pernicious education of the young wives who have been allowed to develop the idea that they must not become mothers during the first year of their married lives.

"They marry, but they refuse to assume their responsibility to the state and the nation imposed by the marriage contract. Mothers talk freely of domestic responsibilities as onerous. They lay stress on the advantages at times on the necessity for a match that will improve both the financial and social standing. When speaking to sensible children they do so in a dictatory manner and openly and repeatedly express the hope that their daughters will never have any.

"Such women belong to every class of society, within the portals of the church as well as without. In the United States, they must realize that here is no paper, truer patriotism than the merit of standing and waving a bit of white during the playing of the national anthem. Their patriotism must be expressed in the intelligence and integrity of children."

RACE REGENERATION.

"Propositions for Race Regeneration" were presented in the Bureau of Sanitary Science by Dr. Elizabeth Hamilton Muncie of Brooklyn, N. Y. Dr. Muncie said her conclusions were based upon tests extending over a quarter of a century. Her plan included the demand for one standard of morals for men and women, and the ballot for women.

"Man has so miserably failed," she said, "that Washington Irving's 'Cling Vine' will have to take the place of his 'Sturdy Oak'—but not because the vine wants to make the change. Rather, every normal woman desires the companionship of a splendid, strong, noble man, but she does not propose to put up with tobacco and whisky-soaked, diseased men any longer."

Dr. Muncie strongly advocated special instructors for training parents, compulsory reporting of certain sexual cases, and sterilization of the unfit, and "the prohibition of the liquor traffic, without which prostitution and white slavery could not exist."

USE OF WOOD ALCOHOL.

Dr. James A. Campbell of St. Louis read a paper read before the Opthalmic Society, warned against the use of wood alcohol. Several cases of blindness were reported due to absorption through the hands. In part Dr. Campbell said:

"Wood alcohol blindness may occur by inhaling the fumes, absorption through the hands, and one case was caused by its being splashed into the eye. The symptoms are headache, dizziness, weakness, nausea, prostration, blindness and death. Blindness is a late symptom.

"Wood alcohol blindness is curable if treated early, but if left until nerve degeneration takes place, the blindness may be permanent and complete."

When arrested Halle had in his possession a large bomb which the police said he intended to ship to a French steamship at New York. It was said that the bomb was set to explode when the vessel was two days out from New York. Sommers was arrested as an accomplice.

MEXICO CITY SITUATION SOURCE OF DANGER

Knowledge that Food Supply Is Still Going on and that Forces Are Causing Gravest Apprehension in State Department.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 29.—In the absence of direct reports from Mexico City, which for nearly two days has been cut off by rail and wire from the outside world, there is much anxiety in official quarters here concerning conditions in the old capital and its vicinity. From press dispatches it is known that the food supply is short and that the forces of military operations being carried into the city itself has caused grave apprehension among foreigners.

The State Department's only information during the day came from the American Consular officers in Vera Cruz, whose reports were summarized in this statement:

"The department's latest advices regarding the Mexico City situation are to the effect that Gen. Carranza is moving a large number of troops and guests to take the city within two or three days. He has issued instructions to protect noncombatants."

FLOOD OF COIN FOR RECRUITING

More Light on Alleged Work of British Agents.

San Francisco Official is After the "Higher-ups."

Our Sailors Asked to Desert, According to Rumor.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—The Federal grand jury dug deeper today into the maze of the secret operations of alleged recruiting agents of the British government in San Francisco.

Witnesses before the jury testified that some 300 recruits shipped from here to New York for ultimate duty in the British army were given medical examinations in a room at No. 17 State street, next to the British Consulate, in New York City. Frank Cox, one of the recruits arrested in New York and returned here as a witness, said that at this number in room No. 104 a "Capt. PRESTON IS ACTIVE.

John W. Preston, United States District Attorney, advised the examination of another witness held in New York by the Federal authorities.

It was said at the close of today's session of the grand jury that the name of the San Francisco banker through which the alleged recruiting of 300 men here was financed has been learned. Preston declared that he is determined to get the "higher ups" in the recruiting ring, if there are any.

It was said today on high authority that in the alleged recruiting of these 300 men more than $150,000 was spent. Federal investigators are straining every wire to get at the source of this flood of cash. The enormous amount poured into San Francisco for recruiting operations is taken to indicate that similar recruiting has occurred in other American cities.

INDUCEMENTS TO SAILORS.

According to the statements of a Federal investigator in the case, sailors and soldiers of this government have been induced to desert and join the bands of recruits sent from here at $10 per head, free transportation, money and pay with future bonus. MEXICO CITY SITUATION SOURCE OF DEEP ANXIETY.

Knowledge that Food Supply is Short, that Fighting is Still Going on and that Foreigners are in Danger is Causing Gravest Apprehension Among Officials at the State Department.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—In the absence of direct reports from Mexico City, which for nearly two days has been cut off by rail and wire from the outside world, there is much anxiety in official quarters here concerning conditions in the old capital and its vicinity. From press dispatches it is known that the food supply is short and that the danger of military operations being carried into the city itself has caused grave apprehension among foreigners.

THE NIGHT SUMMARY.

The State Department's summary of conditions in Mexico issued tonight contained the following:

"The department recently has received a number of inquires concerning conditions at Los Mochis, which was attacked recently by Mayo Indians, resulting in the killing of a British subject named Jamison. As a result of inquiries received at the department regarding the welfare of American citizens, the Navy Department was requested to order a naval vessel to proceed to the vicinity of Los Mochis to investigate and report on conditions. A report received from the U.S.S. Colorado under date of June 27, states that the New Orleans has arrived at Topolobampo and that its preliminary report states that conditions at Los Mochis are satisfactory and that Manager Johnson of the United Sugar Company, who was reported to have been killed, is well, as is his entire family. There has been no Indian raid since June 17.

"A mail report just received from Tampico states that Gen. Trevino has succeeded Gen. Pablo Gonzales as commander-in-chief of the army of the northeast (Carranza) and that Gen. Trevino has moved his headquarters from Tampico to Monterey. Conditions in Tampico are reported in this dispatch to be quiet. Communication between Panuco and Tampico has been reopened, and all of the panuco oil companies are said to be busy bringing oil from Panuco to Tampico.

"A telegraphic dispatch dated June 28 from San Luis Potosi reports that the district is quiet and that a military and repair train has gone north to open the railway to Saltillo."

THE FAILURE OF ANGELES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CORNISH (N. H.) June 29.—An unsuccessful effort was made today to arrange an interview here between President Wilson and Gen. Felipe Angeles, the Mexican leader, who recently came to the United States, and who wants to give the President his view of conditions in Mexico and to suggest a way of meeting Mr. Wilson's warning that the situation there must change.

Col. Jesus M. Aguilar and Maj. Yrenco A. Garcia, who said they were members, respectively, of the staff of Gen. Angeles and Gen. Raoul Madero, arrived during the afternoon bearing letters of introduction from Gen. Madero and Gen. Angeles, but were told that details of the Mexican situation were being handled by the State Department at Washington and that it would be impossible for Gen. Angeles to see the President here.

The two Mexicans denied reports that Gen. Angeles was connected with Gen. Victoriano Huerta in any movement to start another revolution in Mexico. They said that Gen. Angeles and Gen. Villa are still warm friends and that both would oppose Huerta to the end. According to Aguilar and Garcia, both Gens. Angeles and Villa favor the selection of Vasquez Tagle, the only member of the Madero Cabinet who did not resign, as provisional President of Mexico. The Villa leaders are hopeful, they said, that Tagle can be agreed upon and be recognized by the United States.

The President worked most of the day on correspondence forwarded to him from Washington. Messages from several Cabinet members were received, but it was said tonight that none of them was important. Particular attention, was given to reports from Berlin that the German reply to the last American note on submarine warfare would be favorable, but the President would make no comment pending the receipt of the reply itself.

Late this afternoon the President, with Miss Margaret Wilson, Miss Helen Woodrow Bones and Dr. Cary T. Grayson, took a fifty-mile automobile ride to Lake Sunapee, N. H., Newport, N. H., and Claremont, N. H. Tomorrow morning the President will play golf at Hanover, N. H.

GEN. ANGELES' STATEMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 29.—When shown a dispatch from Cornish, N. H., that Col. Jesus M. Aguilar and Maj. Yrenco A. Garcia had arrived there seeking to arrange an audience for Angeles with the President, Gen. Angeles said tonight he would be glad to meet Mr. Wilson and talk to him personally about Mexico, although he was not urging an audience.

"Col. Aguilar and Maj. Garcia," said the general, "are representing Gen. Raoul Madero. They do not represent me. They came to the United States as emissaries of Madero and called on me in Boston."

"Could you state more specifically the nature of your mission for Gen. Villa?" he was asked.

"I can only say that I am on a special mission to the United States and a political mission to Sonora, which I shall undertake as soon as I leave this country. After my work in Sonora is concluded I shall report to Gen. Villa," Angeles replied.

The general said he would remain in Washington several days, after which he would proceed to Sonora unless developments should necessitate a change in his plans.

Officials at the Department of Justice had no additional details today concerning the charges and evidence on which Gens. Huerta and Orozco were arrested at El Paso. They expressed the opinion, however, that whatever might be the outcome of the prosecution, the arrests had already had a wholesome effect in preventing the launching of a new revolutionary movement in Mexico.

FOOD RIOTS ARE EXPECTED.

SITUATION IN DURANGO AND TORREON IS REPORTED AS SERIOUS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 29.—The American Red Cross Society today asserted that, according to "authentic reports" received by it, the food situation in Durango, Mexico, is becoming more acute. The statement said that a local association, formed in Durango some weeks ago to conserve the corn supply for the benefit of the destitute noncombatants, has abandoned its efforts because of "the failure of both the civil and military authorities to lend any aid."

The statement represented that food riots are looked for in Torreon.

GEN. ANGELES IN WASHINGTON.

Villa Leader Seeks Sentiment of American Officials.

Has Talk with Gen. Scott at War Department.

Declares He Opposes Huerta and His Politics.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Gen. Felipe Angeles, veteran of many an artillery duel in Mexican battles, and the righ-hand man of Gen. Villa, came to Washington today to deny intimations that he was involved in the activities of Victoriano Huerta and his associates and at the same time to learn the sentiment of officials generally toward the Mexican problem.

The General issued a statement saying that he was opposed to Huerta and all that he represented in Mexican politics and that after a brief stay here, would go to Sonora on a private misson for Gen. Villa, returning thereafter to the battle front to remain with his chief.

Gen. Angeles has been hopeful that he would have an opportunity to talk with President Wilson. He was not directed by Villa to do so, he said, but is anxious to learn from the President or other high officials just what policy the United States intends to pursue toward the Mexican question. Continuous fighting by the factions now in the field, with no hope of recognition would be useless, Gen. Angeles believes, and he agrees heartily with President Wilson's recent statement that the various elements must come to an understanding. He told his friends that neither he nor Gen. Villa had any candidate for the Provisional Presidency, but would support any capable and honorable man who represented the principles and ideals for which the revolution had been fought. He insists that if Gen. Carranza refuses to enter into an agreement on the provisional government to be created by a coalition of the divisions of the original Constiutionalist movement, the moral support and resognition of the United States should be accorded to those elements in Mexico which are willing to stop fighting and support a government created by peaceful agreement and standing for liberal principles.

SEES GEN. SCOTT.

Maj-Gen. Hugh Scott, Chief of Staff of the United States army, was the only official head upon whom Gen. Angeles called today. Enrique C. Llorente, Washington representative of Gen. Villa, accompanied the visitor to the War Department and acted as interpreter. Angeles brought a letter of introduction from Gen. Villa to Gen. Scott, the latter two having developed an intimate friendship in recent years on the Mexican border. The contents of the letter were not disclosed, but it was understood to have shown clearly that Gen. Villa and Angeles were on intimate terms instead of at odds as has been persistently reported.

Angeles received his military education in France and was for a long time superintendent of the military school at Chapultepec, the Mexican West Point. He defended Madero in the street fighting in Mexico City and took a prominent part in the latter campaign against Huerta. To his skill in the handling of artillery has been attributed much of Villa's military success.

ARE WATCHING HUERTA.

It is understood that Gen. Angeles explained to Gen. Scott that, as a precaution against the counter revolutionary movement of Huerta and his followers, large forces of Villa troops had been dispatched northward and that Gen. Villa also had sent thousands of men to garrison the coal fields and other parts of northern Mexico which comprised the base of supplies for his army. For this reason, he said, Gen. Obregon had more troops than Villa in the recent encounters in Central Mexico.

Gen. Angeles paid tribute to the Zapatistas, and declared they must be taken into consideration in any settlement of the Mexican problem.

ANGELES DENIES FRICTION.

Late today Gen. Angeles issued the following:

"In order to contradict certain false rumors concerning himself, which have recently found their way into the press of the United States, Gen. Felipe Angeles today made the following statement:

"The cordial relations that have long existed between Gen. Villa and myself remain unchanged and I shall shortly report to him in person for assignment to duty.

"I am now, as I have always been, opposed to Huerta, his regime and all that Huerta and his fellow-traitors stand for.

"I have neither seen nor conferred with any person or persons representing the reactionary element in Mexico. While in Boston, I received a social visit from Mr. Manuel Calero, who acted as my counsel when I was imprisoned by Huerta in 1913, but the political affairs of Mexico were not discussed.

"I advocate the restoration of constitutional government in Mexico by constitutional means, so the government when set up may enjoy constitutional sanction and thus effect the reforms so urgently demanded by the people, by means entirely lawful.

"Like Gen. Villa, I favor the suggestion of President Wilson that the contending faction should confer and in a patriotic spirit endeavor to harmonize their differences in order to obtain constitutional government, a government which the United States and other nations of the world can accept and recognize."

GO TO MEXICO CITY.

Dispatches to the Carranza agency from Vera Cruz tonight said that Gen. Gonzalez's attack on Mexico City had been suspended temporarily on account of torrential rains.

Arnold V. Shanklin, American Consul-General, and Charles J. O'Connor, Red Cross representatives, were said to have left Vera Cruz today for Mexico City aboard a special coach provided by Carranza.

Shanklin and O'Connor, who are to co-operate in relieving distress in the capital, expect to be passed through the lines of the contending forces or to enter with Gen. Gonzalez, if he succeeds in routing the Zapata defenders.

Five Machine Guns, Rifles and Much Ammunition Discovered in an El Paso Warehouse—Former Mexican Dictator Holds Conference with a Dozen of His Generals.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) June 29.—Jose Zozaya, a wealthy Mexican here, was arrested today on charges of conspiring to set on foot a military expedition against a friendly country in violation of United States neutrality. He was released on $7500 bond for hearing before United States Commissioner George Oliver Thursday.

The arrest of Zozaya is the first since Victoriano Huerta and Pascual Orozco, former Mexican leaders, were placed under detention Sunday. The general charges against Zozaya are similar to those made against Huerta and Orozco, the three having been named in the complaint filed Sunday.

Additional specific accusations are made against Zozaya, including the alleged purchase of five machine guns, 500 rifles and a quantity of ammunition.

About two weeks ago it became known that Federal authorities had discovered a number of machine guns and rifles in a warehouse owned by Zozaya, but nothing was disclosed to indicate the ownership of the munitions of war.

Gen. Huerta continued his conference with former Mexican generals today. Among those who called on the former President of Mexico were the following generals: Salvador Mercado, Pascual Orozco, Marcello Caraveo, Joaquin Teiles, Francisco Castro, Manuel Acona, Eduardo Caus, Emilio Campa, C. Castro, Felix Terrazias, Luis Fernandez and Manuel Landa.

VILLA'S ARMY ON DEFENSIVE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) June 29.—Advices received by officials of the National Railways are that Villa's army is fighting desperately on the defensive thirty miles south of Aguascalientes. The Carranza force appears to be under the personal direction of Gen. Benjamin Hill, who has moved them northward against Villa from Lagos. Villa is said to have placed before the advancing enemy almost 30,000 men.

Summer Suggestions For Baby's Mother

Seasonable Advice on the Health of Children in Hot Weather

No one requires as much food in Summer as in winter. Do not overfeed children during the hot weather. Serve only the lighter and more easily digested foods, and make sure the bowels keep normally active.

Most of the troubles to which children seem particularly susceptible in summer have their origin in a constipated condition. The first care of the mother should be to see that the children are regular. At the first sign of a disposition to neglect this important function a mild laxative should be administered promptly. Cathartics and purgatives should never be given to children as they are harsh and violent in their action and tend to upset the entire system. The combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is now very generally used to correct stomach and bowel trouble and is especially adapted for children, being pleasant to the taste, mild and gentle in action and free from opiate or narcotic drugs of any description. A dose at bedtime brings relief next morning in an easy, natural manner, without griping or other discomfort.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle. It has been on the market for a quarter of a century and is today the standard household remedy in countless homes throughout the country. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 453 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

Clicquot Club

Pronounced Klee-ko

Made in America — Best in the World

GINGER ALE

Is Good for the Kiddies

Clicquot is a deliciously sparkling, joyous ginger ale made of finest Jamaica ginger root, pure juices of lemon and limes, cane sugar and deep, bed-rock spring water, highly carbonated. It is stimulating, thirst quenching, brain clearing and taste pleasing.

The pure ginger stimulus makes it safe to drink when you are overheated.

There is no saccharin in Clicquot—no cheap, harmful, coal-tar coloring matter, no soapy foam producers It is not sold in five cent bottles on account of the cost of bottling and bottles. Every bottle of Clicquot holds two large glassfuls. You pay no more for Clicquot, but you do get ginger ale that is pure and safe for little children.

Do You Feel Depressed?

The form of influenza commonly called "the grip" is no respecter of persons. Rich and poor alike suffer from it.

The duration of the acute stage of the grip is short, a few days at most. Without complications it is never fatal. What makes the grip so dreaded is the miserable condition in which it leaves its victims after the cold and fever have run their course. Some medical writers refer to this "after-effect" of the grip as a form of neurasthenia.

Depression of spirits, headache, thin blood, deranged digestion, over sensitive nerves—these are the usual after-effects of the grip, and they will continue even for months and years until the blood is built up and made rich and red.

After an attack of the grip all the vital powers of the body are at a low ebb. Building up the blood with Dr. William's Pink Pills is the surest way to restore the weakened body. They have a special action on the nerves and every sufferer from the lingering effects of the grip should give them a trial. Your own druggist sells them.

Write today to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N.Y., for the free book, "Building Up the Blood." If you have a stomach trouble ask for a diet book also.

SMOKIEST FIRE BREEDS PANIC.

FUMES CAUSE AN EXODUS FROM HOTELS AND THEATERS.

Firemen Use Special Helmets to Force Way into Blazing Basement. Great Crowd Makes Police Work Difficult—Large Difference in Estimates of the Loss.

Main street between Fourth and Fifth streets was "smoked out" early last night by a fire in the basement of the Sam Morris Hardware Company at No. 454 South Main street, which caused, according to Mr. Morris, a loss of nearly $50,000 and, according to Fire Chief Eley, made more smoke than any downtown fire in the past ten years, but caused only about $10,000 damage.

Having its start in the basement of the Morris Hardware Company, the fire, which was discovered at about 9:20 p.m. by a night watchman, defied the efforts of a dozen fire companies for more than three hours. Before the blaze could be checked the entire basement of the hardware store was flooded by water, pumped into it by seven fire engines.

Smoke penetrated the Pennsylvania Rooming-house, over the hardware store, caused a score of roomers to flee through the windows and doors. Seeping through the walls of the basement, the smoke filled the Banner Theater on the south side and the National Theater on the north and in a few seconds caused the hundreds of persons enjoying the pictures to rush to the streets.

Thick clouds of black smoke filled the Royston Meat Market at No. 452 South Main street, and, according to the firemen, the stock, worth $3000, was greatly damaged. The smoke rolled along Main street for a block on either side of the burning basement and filled stores, hotels and theaters. Persons rushed from all the buildings and soon the police were forced to fight off a crowd of over 5000.

A score of policemen, after almost an hour's work, cleared the street and roped off the block. Long after the fire was well under control the huge mass of people hung against the fire ropes and was at last broken up by the police.

When the fire companies, with Chief Eley in command, first arrived at the scene of the fire, the smoke was rolling from the basement doors in such clouds that the firemen were unable to enter the place. Efforts of some of the firemen to push a string of hose down into the basement resulted in a number of them being overcome and smoke helmets were sent for. Hooded with the headgear, firemen carried the hose to the basement and the fire was controlled.

According to Mr. Morris, the building in which his store is located is owned by Mrs. H. M. Olmstead. The building was not damaged to any great extent. The cause of the fire could not be learned by the police or firemen.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

Youthful Shoplifters Arrested by Woman Detective—One Boy Armed With Miniature Weapon.

Caught while taking small bits of jewelry from the counters of a downtown department store, Melvin Crocker, 15 years old, of No. 8021 South Main street, and Lee Antis, 15 years old, of No. 208 West Eighth street, were arrested last night by a Nick Harris detective and taken to the Central Police Station.

According to the woman detective who made the arrest, the two small boys had been hanging about the department store some time yesterday afternoon, acting suspiciously. The detective said the boys had taken pieces of jewelry while she was watching them. Both admitted their guilt when questioned. Melvin produced a revolver and declared he would have used it had the detective been a man.

DRAWS LESSON FROM THE WAR.

May Mean New Naval Policy, Says Vice-President.

Pleads for an International Court of Arbitration.

Spanish War Veterans Pledge Support to President.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, June 29.—In addressing the Indiana Spanish War Veterans here today, Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall asked whether the lessons of the European war were not of sufficient value to the United States for this country to adopt a different naval policy.

He said if the great European conflict was demonstrating that a comparatively inexpensive submarine could destroy a $7,500,000 super-dreadnaught, should the people's money be further expended for super-dreadnaughts?

Mr. Marshall said that the navy of the United States at the present time is at the highest degree of efficiency in the history of the country.

The Vice-President made an appeal for the coming of the time "when we will submit all international problems to courts of justice, vested with powers to enforce their decrees." He declared that this country had no right to say to any European nation what type of government it should use.

"Unsullied national honor, unsullied national courts and a deeper interest in political affairs" would result in bettering of our own national existence, he said.

The war veterans sent a telegram to President Wilson at Cornish, N. H., pledging their support of his policies.

CHECKS HELD UP; WEDDING DENIED

POLICE SEEK FORMER TEACHER ACCUSED OF CRIME.

Said to Have Issued Bad Paper Here and to Have Married—Reputed Groom Says He Doesn't Know Her—Daughter of Missionary Can't be Found.

A telegraph operator here flashed a message to the police of San Francisco yesterday. What the message contained was of grave import to Miss Theodora Rodger, formerly a teacher at the Utah-street school, accused of paying A. Green & Co. of this city a worthless check for clothes she bought, valued at $85. The District Attorney's office by this message sought to apprehend her before she could embark on a steamer for China.

The story behind the message is an alleged romance. When she was a student at the University of Southern California, the story goes, she met John Lynch of Berkeley. Mr. Lynch, now Dr. Lynch, is supposed to have married Miss Rodger.

But Dr. Lynch, when seen last night in Berkeley, denied, first with surprise and then with vigor, that he had ever met Miss Theodora Roger, or that he contemplated matrimony, even remotely or impersonally.

Obedient to the request from Los Angeles, the San Francisco police searched the hotels there for Miss Rodger without success, and report there is no Miss Rodger, nor "Miss Lynch," booked to sail from that port for China.

A private detective notified the District Attorney's office here that Miss Rodger passed other worthless checks. She is said to have opened charge accounts at local department stores and liquidated the bills with checks which could not be cashed.

Miss Rodger is the daughter of a missionary now residing at Shanghai. The Board of Education gave her address while she was a teacher as No. 516 South Figueroa street.

Last of Arson Suspects is Lodged in Jail—Denies, However, that He Set Building Afire.

Charged with arson, John Malicia of No. 1709 East Twenty-fourth street was arrested early last night by Detectives Bean and Burgess. According to the detectives, this makes the last arrest in the alleged arson ring.

Malicia is accused of having set fire to a house at No. 1705 East Twenty-fourth street on May 17. The prisoner declared last night he did not fire the building. He said he was away from home at the time.

Shades of Cleopatra!

DANCE OF NILE LIFTS THE LID.

POLICE MAGISTRATE ASSUMES THE ROLE OF HEROD.

While Scant Draperies are Aflutter in Court—Judge Decides Salome Does not Disturb Peace—Prisoner Vaults the Dock Rail to See Impromptu Performance Better.

The lid of the city is not to be pressed sufficiently tight to obscure the Salome dancer. And no matter how aggressive the dancer's activity may be, she is not disturbing the peace of any who witness the performance.

Police Judge Frederickson decided so yesterday, when a tall woman, who was born near a Swedish fjord instead of on the banks of the Nile, was brought to trial on the charge of having disturbed the peace by her dancing in a downtown theater.

She is the proprietress of many muscles that are located beneath the arms and above the legs. They are alleged to respond to certain strains of music in a manner that attracts the attention and holds it. Her agitation was witnessed by two members of the purity squad of the police department, and she appeared yesterday for trial.

Police Judge Frederickson, a master of golf, sat in judgment. He wanted to know about this dance. The mistress of the movements appeared in her own defense.

"I simply do this, your honor," she said, then trickled her hands through the air from her head to her waist, and set up a commotion amid some rather full skirts.

"You do what?" queried Judge Frederickson, and bent forward to grasp the fuller meaning of the defense.

"I just dance a little, something like this," and the dancer lifted one leg slightly higher than such a leg would naturally be lifted in normal enterprises, such as boarding a street car, or other ordinary exertions.

Pascual Garcia, awaiting trial on a charge of stealing another man's sweetheart, and seated in the dock, quickly changed his seat. His attitude was that of something of a judge of such matters.

Justice Frederickson, seated high on the bench, did not witness the elevation of the leg.

IT IS JUST SO!

"I don't understand," he said impatiently. "What is this dance?"

"Ah, your Honor," said the woman, "it is the dance of the Nile, the grace of Old Egypt, the rhythm of romance, pure art in motion."

"Yes, yes," said Judge Frederickson, "but let me know with what abandon in clothing and gestures this dance is presented."

"I do so," and the woman's waist became nervous. "And so," and about her waist there rose a ripple and a riot, "and so, your honor, but see," and the lower drapings of the body were in such turmoil and strife and convulsions that even the judge on the dais could understand, and poor Pascual Garcia, who is quite an authority on such affairs, had left the dock, walked into the open courtroom, and was watching the performance with the nearest view of all, presenting a critical and cautious pose.

She advanced an excuse for a moment's absence and others took up the drift of the case. Mr. Garcia returned, at a curt order, to his lowly seat in the dock, being warned this was no theater, and anyway one must keep his seat.

An instant later the unwarned judge and courtroom was aroused by the reappearance of the woman. She was the same and yet she was not as before. It must be agreed she was released from any handicaps to her motions. Where had been her discreet waist were but two burnished placques on unstable foundations, and where her skirt had hung, there draped a discouraged row of reeds, less obscuring than a veil, less transparent than the sunshine. They could be classed in density between a cloud and a gossamer.

"Now I'll dance for you, Judge," she interrupted the progress of the hearing.

Justice Frederickson looked up and gripped the arms of the judicial chair. Never before had propriety in styles been so boldly attacked in that formal chamber.

"What are you going to do now?" he asked, with some caution and some alarm.

MUSCULAR HYSTERIA.

"I am just going to show you my dance, Judge," and while a friendly accomplice clapped his hands to a melody that never brought solace to Cleopatra, the woman renewed her excursion in muscular hysteria. The placques clanged and clattered, the reeds twisted and writhed. Police Judge Frederickson looked upon his bailiff, Martius Singleton, as if he would order the affair to stop, but Mr. Singleton was witnessing the performance with a discerning eye.

Mr. P. Garcia was utterly confused. He didn't even preserve the decorum due the place by walking out the gate of the dock. While the woman was making one of the enthusiastic elevations of her leg, Mr. Garcia hurdled the low fence about the dock and assumed a pose generally pictured as adopted by persons witnessing a cockfight.

Faster flittered the hands, louder clanged the placques on their fragile settings, faster swished the reeds and with more abandon the legs were flung, until Police Judge Frederickson stepped matters by a sharp, "That's enough!"

"Is that all you did?" he asked.

"Yes."

"And you have done it elsewhere?"

"Yes."

"Never arrested?"

"No."

"Mr. Garcia," and Police Judge Frederickson called to the prisoner, who was hastening to his forgotten seat in the dock, "you seem to have been the most interested spectator here. Did this dance disturb your peace of mind?"

"No, Senor Judge," said Garcia. "No, senor, I like it."

"Dismissed," said the judge.

And then Mr. Garcia sighed and stepped up to tell his experiences with women.

ASQUITH PLEA FOR ECONOMY.

Tries to Interest Women in the British War Loan.

Fifteen Millions Subscribed by Insurance Companies.

Investors may be Forced to Help Government.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LONDON, June 29.—[illegible] recommended today by Premier Asquith to the promoters of [illegible] meetings, heretofore closely connected with aldermanic [illegible] proverbial opulence. The [illegible] sought thus to initiate a movement in the home of wealth to support the British war loan and set an example of thrift to the nation now burdened with the expenditure of [illegible] daily, the cost of the war.

The first really big subscription to the war loan, the application of [illegible] a London Assurance Company for £3,000,000 ($15,000,000) of the loan, was announced.

Premier Asquith opened his address by stating that apart from the cost of its "other features" the present war was the costliest that ever had been waged, with the total destructive expenditure for the year [illegible] exceeding a thousand million pounds ($5,000,000,000.) the total expenditure being and likely to be for [illegible] weeks and months to come, probably like $15,000,000. The Premier emphasized that for the first time in the financial history of Great Britain the loan was a domestic loan.

"Under such conditions," Mr. Asquith said, "I am confident that the success of the loan as a financial instrument ought to be and must, now, absolutely secure."

NECESSITY FOR THRIFT.

Turning to the necessity for thrift, Mr. Asquith said: "Every [illegible] part of either individuals or [illegible] which always is foolish and short sighted is in these times [illegible] short of national danger."

The Premier then proceeded to inquire how a country which [illegible] had only $90,000,000 [illegible] of pounds sterling to [illegible] could get this huge [illegible] draft out of its resources. It dismissed as impracticable the [illegible] selling investments in [illegible] borrowing abroad.

"The amount that could be [illegible] abroad in comparison to the [illegible] quired," he said, "would be [illegible] tically infinitesimal and [illegible] possible on any considerable [illegible] should have to face the [illegible] ending the war a debtor [illegible]

The only other course, he [illegible] was that his countrymen [illegible] minish their expenditures and [illegible] their savings.

THE TRADE BALANCE.

"The state of the trade [illegible] tween ourselves and other [illegible] at this moment affords [illegible] don't say for anxiety, [illegible] thought. The first [illegible] the present year our [illegible] creased by £23,500,000 ($117,500,000) while our exports and [illegible] decreased by £73,750,000 ($368,750,000.) That means that [illegible] months our indebtedness to [illegible] countries will reach over [illegible] ($1,300,000,000.) The only [illegible] counteract this is by [illegible] necessary personal [illegible] imported articles such as [illegible] wine, petrol, etc., and on [illegible] in this country, so that a [illegible] tity may be left to sell [illegible]

Remarking that it was not a question of self-[illegible] Asquith proceeded:

"There is not a man or [illegible] has seen what is hanging in [illegible] ance, but who has during the [illegible] become greatly concerned [illegible] battle in which we are [illegible] touches interests and [illegible] yond the shores of these [illegible] yond even the confines of [illegible] spread empire, and realizes [illegible] concerns the whole [illegible] manity." "Is right or [illegible] nate mankind?" asked the [illegible] who, remarking that [illegible] perity and a securely [illegible] ence perhaps in some [illegible] type of religion could [illegible] at a price, concluded:

"But at what a price! [illegible] rifice of what makes life [illegible] personal, worth living. [illegible] make that sacrifice, we [illegible] the end, to the last [illegible] money, to the last [illegible] strength, and to the last [illegible] blood."

BONAR LAW'S REMARKS.

A. Bonar Law, secretary [illegible] colonies, who followed [illegible] said that the country as yet [illegible] tell to what extent it would be [illegible] upon. If investors held [illegible] state would have their money [illegible] sary by a forced loan.

"We are proud of our [illegible] Bonar Law said, "but we must [illegible] to ourselves."

BRITISH TO PAY FOR WILHELM[illegible]

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LONDON, June 29.—The [illegible] government today announced that it was its intention to pay [illegible] the first installment in [illegible] claims of the owners of the [illegible] steamship Wilhelmina, [illegible] seized by the British authorities carrying a cargo of foodstuffs from New York to Germany.

THINK RUMANIA WILL KEEP [illegible]

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BERLIN, June 29 (by [illegible] Sayville.)—Dr. Von Bethmann Hollweg, the German Imperial Chancellor, and Gottlieb von Jagow, the Foreign Minister, returned to Berlin today from Vienna, where they have been in conference with the [illegible] statesmen of Austria-Hungary. They think that Rumania will remain neutral.

ASQUITH PLEA FOR ECONOMY.

Tries to Interest Wealth in the British War Loan.

Fifteen Millions Subscribed by Insurance Company.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, June 29.—Economy was recommended today by Premier Asquith to the promoters of Guild Hall meetings, heretofore closely connected with aldermanic banquets of proverbial opulence. The Premier sought thus to initiate a movement in the home of wealth to support the British war loan and set an example of thrift to the nation now burdened with the expenditure of $15,000,000 daily, the cost of the war.

The first really big subscription to the war loan, the application made by a London Assurance Company for £2,000,000 ($15,000,000) of the new loan, was announced.

Premier Asquith opened the meeting by stating that apart from many of its "other features" the present war was the costliest that ever had been waged, with the total prospective expenditure for the year approaching a thousand millions of pounds ($5,000,000,000,) the daily expenditure being and likely to be for weeks and months to come, something like $15,000,000. The Premier emphasized that for the first time in the financial history of Great Britain this was a domestic loan.

"Under such conditions," Mr. Asquith said, "I am confident that the success of the loan as a financial instrument ought to be and, indeed, is now, absolutely secure."

NECESSITY FOR THRIFT.

Turning to the necessity for thrift, Mr. Asquith said: "Waste as the part of either individuals or classes which always is foolish and shortsighted is in these times nothing short of national danger."

The Premier then proceeded to inquire how a country which normally had only $60,000,000 or 400,000,000 of pounds sterling to spare, could get this huge unprecedented draft out of its resources. He dismissed as impracticable the idea of selling investments in property or of borrowing abroad.

"The amount that could be raised abroad in comparison to the sum required," he said, "would be practically infinitesimal and if it was possible on any considerable scale we should have to face the prospect of ending the year a debtor country."

The only other course, he declared, was that his countrymen should diminish their expenditures and increase their savings.

Mr. Asquith continued:

"The state of the trade balance between ourselves and other countries at this moment affords grounds, I don't say for anxiety, but serious thought. The first five months of the present year our imports have increased by £32,500,000 ($162,500,000) while our exports and re-exports have decreased by £73,750,000 ($368,750,000.) That means that for these months our indebtedness to other countries will reach over £266,250,000 ($1,331,250,000.) The only way to counteract this is by reducing all unnecessary personal expenditure on imported articles such as tea, sugar, wine, petrol, etc., and on goods made in this country, so that a larger quantity may be left to sell abroad."

Remarking that it was not merely a question of self-preservation, Mr. Asquith proceeded:

"There is not a man or woman who has seen what is hanging in the balance, but who has during the last year become greatly conscious that the battle in which we are engaged touches interests and ideals far beyond the shores of these islands, and even the confines of our widespread empire, and realises that it concerns the whole future of humanity. 'Is right or force to be the master mankind?' asked the Prussian historian, who, remarking that comfort, prosperity and a securely sheltered existence perhaps in some convenient type of religion could be purchased at a price, concluded:

"'But at what a price! At the price of what makes life, national or personal, worth living. Rather than make that sacrifice, we shall fight to the end, to the last farthing of our money, to the last ounce of our strength, and to the last drop of our blood.'"

BONAR LAW'S REMARKS

A. Bonar Law, secretary for the colonies, who followed Mr. Asquith, said that the country as yet could not tell to what extent it would be called upon. If investors held back from it would have their money if necessary by a forced loan.

"We are proud of our city," Bonar Law said, "but we must not be so to ourselves."

BRITISH TO PAY FOR WILHELMINA

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, June 29.—The Palace Council announced today that the government today announced that it was its intention to pay $100,000 as the first installment in settlement of the claims of the owners of the steamship Wilhelmina, which was seized by the British authorities while carrying a cargo of foodstuffs from New York to Germany.

THINK RUMANIA WILL KEEP OUT

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, June 29 (by wireless to Sayville.)—Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the German Imperial Chancellor, and Gottlieb von Jagow, the German Foreign Minister, returned to Berlin today from Vienna, where they had been in conference with the Austrian statesmen of Austria-Hungary. They think that Rumania will remain neutral.

YOUNGEST ARCHBISHOP

[BY A. P. MAIL WIRE.]

ST. JOHNS (N. B.) June 29.—Most Rev. Edward Patrick Roche, D., was consecrated archbishop of Newfoundland diocese today. He is said to be the youngest archbishop of the Roman Catholic Church. He is 32 years old.

It is economy to always have on hand Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the home.—(Adv.)

Classified Liners.

AGATE TYPE ONLY.

Based subject to the following rates and rules:

The rate for inserting Want Ads in the Daily Times is 1c per word each insertion; in the Sunday issue 2c per word each insertion. The rate applicable is a single insertion unless consecutive insertion, 25c; exception to this rule, following classifications, the rate for which is per word daily, 2½c per word Sunday, 5c per word: Situations Wanted, Employment Agencies, Help Wanted, Personals, "Rooms for Rent," Rooms and Board," "Rooms Furnished for Housekeeping," "Miscellaneous," "Lost and Found," "Money to Loan, Salary and Chattel," "Automobiles," "Medical," "Detectives," "Baths and Massage."

An extra charge of 25 per cent. is made for display or capital letters.

No discounts or rebates on classified advertisements ordered for less than one insertion, 14 words.

Only words and dashes are charged for on the basis of seven words to a line.

Ads will be counted strictly by the word. If set solid or hyphenated or lined-up matter set in caps, count the (5) average words to a line. Not more than five (5) average words to a line. Not more than eight (8) average words to each line. Count by this kind of advertising the number of words set solid in counted, and add (5) words added for each unlined line.

The Times reserves the right to classify all advertisements under appropriate headings.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in classified advertisements.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one insertion of any advertisement ordered to more than one time.

Should not the fault of the advertiser which impairs the value of an advertisement will be rectified only by republication, without extra charge, of the portion of receipts within five days after the first insertion. No allowance will be made where the error does not materially affect the value of the advertisement.

Adjustment will be made for advertising items affected by an error or errors which may occur in the first insertion of ads ordered running more than one time, the advertiser to be responsible for only such portion of the first insertion as is incorrect. Responsible advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times for payment for "liners," as no mistake can be rectified without them.

The Times will not accept phone or verbal orders for discontinuance or change "will forbid" advertisements.

Dissatisfied orders to discontinue advertising in The Times are honored in the orders of their receipt, and in such instances the number of the order given to the advertiser, who should make a memorandum of it. In case of discounts no charge for insertion will be rebated unless the "stop order" or receipt is presented to The Times by the advertiser.

Under real estate advertisements, to be classified properly should be headed by The Times office before 10 o'clock Saturday night. Other classified "Wants," "For Sale," etc., received over counter or by telephone until 8 a.m. Saturday, will be received after that hour for each division will be inserted under heading "Too Late to Classify." Rate 1½ cents per word.

The Sunday circulation of The Times exceeds 80,000 copies, and more "liners" are regularly printed in its columns than in the five other Los Angeles newspapers combined.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up The Times, Main 8200; Home 10291, any time of day or night, and secure prompt and careful service.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

Would Raise Rates.

Authority to increase rates on grain and articles taking grain rates, between this city and Ysidora to Fallbrook Falda to Escondido, Escondido and Fallbrook to this city, Hobart to Orange, Santa Ana to Serra, and Mateo to Stuart, is asked by the Santa Fe in an application filed yesterday with the State Railroad Commission.

More Time Granted.

An order extending the time within which the Pacific Light and Power Corporation may issue 19,340 shares of first preferred 6 per cent. cumulative stock and $4,382,000 of first and refunding mortgage bonds, from June 30, 1915 to June 30, 1916, was issued yesterday by the State Railroad Commission. The original order was entered September 21, 1914.

Women Republicans Meet.

The Women's Republican League will meet tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock in the clubrooms, 706 Title Guarantee Building. The future policy of the organization will be the chief subject for discussion, and also the active part it will assume in the campaign now on to place the nonpartisan law, recently passed, on the ballot for the decision of the people.

Jovian Electric League.

The last meeting of the season of the Jovian Electric League will be held at noon today in Christopher's new cafe, No. 739 South Broadway. George H. Maxwell of the National Reclamation Association will make the principal address on "Our National Defenses—the Patriotism of Peace." There will be some music also. Ralph B. Clapp is chairman of the day.

Humane Society Moves.

Headquarters of the Humane Society for Children were moved yesterday from 620 California building to 320-22-24 Homer Laughlin building. Mrs. Frank Stoddard, recently elected president of the society, has accomplished a thorough reorganization of its affairs and has installed Mrs. Forestine Hooker as manager. In its larger quarters it is expected that the scope of usefulness of the organization will be considerably enlarged.

That Dog Again

Because never a tail-wag greeted the names employed by either to address a Boston terrier pup claimed by both J. H. Van Patten and Gus McIvor, Police Judge Frederickson yesterday dismissed the charge of petty larceny made by Van Patten against McIver. In the original account of the affair in The Times the names of the defendant and complainant were inadvertently reversed. The justice said that it is properly a civil case.

Indiana Governor Here Today.

Gov. Samuel L. Ralston of Indiana is due here from San Francisco at 7:20 o'clock this morning and will be met by a committee representing the Indiana State Society and escorted to the Alexandria for breakfast. He is accompanied by Mrs. Ralston and their two sons and two daughters. The visitors will be the guests of the Chamber of Commerce today on an automobile trip, leaving the Alexandria at 10 o'clock.

Cincinnati People Coming.

Word that 200 members of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce will arrive here at 7:14 a. m., July 16, to spend three days, was received yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce. Their itinerary provides for a trip to Mt. Lowe the first day and a visit to the harbor and Santa Catalina Island the second day. They will spend the third day seeing the city. Official headquarters will be at the Hotel Clark.

Gets Quick Action.

The account in The Times yesterday of the plight of Mrs. Max Schneider of Hawthorne, whose furniture was taken away from her when she had all but completed paying for it, got quick action. By 10 o'clock several persons had volunteered to assist in collecting money to pay the small residue and court costs. A kindly woman who wishes her name withheld visited Public Defender Wood and subsequently the furniture concern, with the result that the latter made a large reduction in the price for which the goods are held. This sum the Good Samaritan paid and the furniture was immediately returned to the Hawthorne cottage of the Schneiders.

CREDIT MEN HAPPY.

They Spend Two Days of Enjoyable Sightseeing Here, Banquet, and Depart Southward.

After two days of sightseeing and other pleasures here, nearly 100 members of the National Association of Credit Men departed yesterday afternoon for San Diego. Before coming to Los Angeles they attended the annual convention in Salt Lake and then visited the exposition at San Francisco.

The visitors were given a banquet at the Alexandria Monday night and they said yesterday they had never been treated more royally than in this city. Charles P. Snow, cashier of the Huntington Banking and Trust Company, of Huntington, W. Va., said nearly all of the well-to-do people of his part of the country are coming to Los Angeles and the exposition cities. "I have attended all of the conventions of our association," he said, "and I must say that we have never been so well treated as we have been in California. The country is a revelation to all of us."

W. W. Orr, assistant secretary, and J. H. Tregol, secretary-treasurer, both of New York, said California hospitality surpasses any they have ever seen and predicted a great future for the State. Both declared that the financial condition throughout the United States is getting better and they look for the improvement to continue.

DOCTORS LOOK US OVER.

Distinguished Physicians of South America enjoy Day's Visit in the Southland—Royally Entertained.

With Dr. H. W. L. Jackson, a well-known surgeon of Washington, D. C., as their guide, thirty-five distinguished physicians of South America, accompanied by their wives, arrived here yesterday morning from San Francisco and spent a pleasant day as guests of representative physicians of this city. The party will depart this morning for the Grand Canyon and from there will go to Washington.

The South Americans came to this country upon an invitation extended by President Wilson and the State Department, the purpose being to more firmly cement the friendship of the two nations. The visitors attended the Pan-American Medical Congress in San Francisco and were royally treated there.

Dr. A. J. Scott and Dr. Dudley Fulton were at the head of the committee which entertained the visitors yesterday. Automobiles were provided for a long trip through the citrus country and at noon the party enjoyed luncheon at the Pottenger Sanatorium, Monrovia.

The visitors are from Guatemala, Brazil, Argentina, Peru, Salvador and Cuba.

ALFRED CONKLING HERE.

New York Attorney and Candidate for United States Senator Enthusiastic Over California.

Here for the first time since 1877, Alfred R. Conkling, nephew of Roscoe Conkling, and himself a prominent member of the New York bar, whimsically complained yesterday that he has found it necessary to get acquainted with the place all over again.

Mr. Conkling, who is a candidate for United States Senator from New York at the forthcoming election, is at the Baltimore Hotel with his two charming daughters, the Misses Muriel and Gwendolyn Conkling. They are planning to spend several days in this city, after which they will visit San Diego, Tia Juana, Coronado Beach and other points of interest in the South before going to San Francisco for the other fair.

"I'm strong for California," said Mr. Conkling. "It impresses me as being a remarkable thing that the State has been able to finance two great expositions in the same year and practically without outside help."

Mr. Conkling is the author of a "Life of Roscoe Conkling," "City Governments in the United States," a "Guide to Mexico," and other works. He was formerly in the New York State Legislature and has held various offices in the New York City government.

WE BOYS ANNUAL PICNIC.

The annual picnic of the We Boys class of the First Methodist Church will be held Monday at Alamitos Bay. The members will meet at the First Church, Sixth and Hill streets, at 9 o'clock. In the morning there will be athletic stunts, and in the afternoon a ball game and a literary programme. The entertainment is in charge of the executive comittee of the class and a good time is planned for all who go.

MYSTERIOUS MISSION.

Mystery was a foot thick in the District Attorney's office yesterday when inquiries were made as to the object of Dist.-Atty. Woolwine's departure on a mission connected with the trial of Schmidt and Caplan in Judge Willis's court, October 4. Where he went or who he was after were questions to a Sphinx. His mission, it was said, had nothing to do with Ortie McManigal, the star witness in the trial. Mr. Woolwine left Saturday night.

THE WEATHER.
[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, June 29.—[Reported by Fred A. Carpenter, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.90; at 5 p.m., 29.90. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 58 deg. and 76 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 94 per cent.; 5 p.m., 49 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., southwest, velocity 11 miles; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 9 miles. Highest temperature, 78 deg.; lowest, 57 deg. Rainfall for season, 17.05 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—The eastern area of high pressure is replaced by an area of low pressure and moderately heavy rains resulted in Missouri (St. Louis, 1.04 inches,) and Oklahoma (1.12 inches at Oklahoma City,) and showers occurred in Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas, Tennessee and Florida. The western trough of low pressure extends throughout the interior of California, causing cloudy and foggy weather this morning from San Francisco to San Diego. The presence of this barometric depression will give overcast skies to Los Angeles and vicinity early Wednesday morning, otherwise the ensuing thirty-six hours will be fair.

LOCAL FORECAST.

For Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair Wednesday, except for short periods early Wednesday morning when the sky will be overcast. Westerly winds.

For Southern California: Wednesday fair.

STATE FORECAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Forecast:

San Francisco and vicinity: Fair Wednesday, except foggy in the early morning; moderate west wind.

Sacramento Valley: Fair Wednesday; light south wind.

Santa Clara and San Joaquin valleys: Fair Wednesday; light northwest wind.

Southern California: Generally fair Wednesday; light west wind.

KNOCKING AT CITY'S DOOR.

Cahuenga Landowners Ask to be Annexed.

Move to Organize District Well Under Way.

Benefit of Aqueduct Water is the Incentive.

Another big annexation movement took definite form yesterday afternoon when owners of several thousand acres in the Cahuenga district went before the Board of Public Service Commissioners and asked for Owens River water, at the same time expressing their willingness to be annexed to Los Angeles and to conform to the rules already laid down by the board.

Not all the property owners in the proposed district are in favor of the plan, but yesterday's meeting indicated that another large tract is likely soon become a part of this city and a participant in the benefits of the aqueduct.

Advocates of Cahuenga annexation seek to interest the voters and landowners in a district comprising about 3,500 acres, extending westward from the present city limits to Santa Monica Canyon. According to their preliminary canvass, however, they say they may have to confine the district to come in first to the territory that extends from Beverly Hills through Westgate and Brentwood to Santa Monica Canyon. This district contains about 8000 acres, little of it now subdivided, but practically all of it situated to make it valuable suburban residence property when it is developed for that purpose.

Henry Keller, representing the Los Angeles Country Club, which has extensive holdings in the proposed district, made formal application for water and promised support to the annexation plan, first being assured that the club and similar organizations can get water for irrigation at irrigation rates. The board made the same ruling in such cases as in the San Fernando Valley and elsewhere, although water for domestic purposes will be charged for in accordance with the city's domestic rates now in force.

Gilbert Wright told the board that he and others owning about 3000 acres in the district are anxious to get city water as soon as possible and are willing to be annexed. He asked for further information concerning the department's rules and particularly inquired that his committee be provided with a tentative plan of distribution upon which the landowners can work.

Chief Engineer Mulholland in this connection explained that conditions are widely different in the Cahuenga district and in the San Fernando Valley. In the latter district, he said, subdivisions and streets were definitely laid out, and he was able to draw plans for the entire distributing system with accurate estimates of cost with little difficulty.

In the Cahuenga district most of the land is not subdivided and the property owners have not definitely determined how or when the subdivisions will be made. The chief engineer said he feared that if he undertook to arbitrarily lay out a distributing system the plans of some prospective subdividers would be seriously interfered with.

However, Mr. Mulholland said he will endeavor to locate trunk lines and to go as far in suggesting a tentative system as feasible for the benefit of Mr. Wright and other interested landowners.

Commissioner Erkenbrecher and others expressed the belief that land in the district will double in value when it has the benefit of abundance of water at a low rate.

THE WEEPING EYE.

Its Owner and Physician Seek Reduction of Bail, but do not Succeed.

In Judge Willis's court yesterday a motion was made that the bond of $7500 in the case of the people against Newton Wilson and Dr. George B. Rcwell, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, be reduced, and it was denied by the court.

Deputy District Attorney Keetch stated that he had received a letter threatening him with bodily injury if he did not consent to a reduction of the bail.

The motion made in behalf of the defendants that the indictment be dismissed was denied, and the case set for hearing July 27. The specific charge against the pair is that Wilson, who is known as "Weeping Eye" Wilson, swindled an insurance company on a trumped-up claim in relation to the bad condition of his eyes.

Four Hundred Editors from Every State Here.

Creation of a national bureau of advertising and an assiduous campaign for the abolition of the government's monopoly of printing envelopes for business concerns were recommended yesterday by President George E. Hosmer of the National Editorial Association at the convening of the organization in thirtieth annual session at Normal Hill Center.

A special committee was appointed to report at 2 o'clock this afternoon on the first recommendation, which contemplates the standardizing of advertising rates and practices. The other recommendation went to the legislative committee for consideration. The association is composed of editors or publishers of newspapers in towns or cities of 50,000 population or less.

With nearly 400 delegates present, representing every State in the Union, the convention opened auspiciously with addresses of welcome by Lieut.-Gov. Eshleman, the Mayor, Capt. H. Z. Osborne, representing President Bulla of the Chamber of Commerce, President Friend W. Richardson of the California Press Association, Dean Bruce O. Bliven of the college of journalism of the University of Southern California, and J. P. Baumgartner of the Santa Ana Register.

Vice-president Lee J. Rountree, editor of the Georgetown (Tex.) Commercial and leading candidate for the presidency, responded in behalf of the association in a glowing verbal editorial on the beauty of the Southland, its unexampled progress, and its well-sustained reputation for hospitality.

Another tribute along the same line was voiced by Congressman L. C. Crampton, editor of the Lapeer (Mich.) Clarion. Congressman Crampton's talk was that of a lay member of the association. He told how glad he was to be present in California at the time when the door is even more pronouncedly ajar than it ever was before and assured representatives of Southland and State interests that the columns of the Clarion are open to the celebration of California's charms.

APPLAUD PRESIDENT.

A significant interlude was the reverberant applause that greeted the pronunciamento of President Hosmer that the newspapers of the land are behind President Wilson in this hour of stress, irrespective of political affiliations or previous condition of servitude.

Things went with a rush at the opening session. In fact, there was such a pronounced disposition to put the opening meeting to press early, so as to get started for the big barbecue at Inceville, that President Hosmer had to call a halt on the eager.

The Inceville barbecue was for men only. The delegates boarded special Pacific Electric cars at the Hill-street station at 1:30 o'clock for the big motion-picture city, where they were guests of Thomas H. Ince, founder of the seaside city of "props" and sport-shirted heroes. While the pressmen were partaking of beef off the shoulder the women visitors were guests of the Southern California Women's Press Club. At 5:30 o'clock they boarded the trolley cars for Venice, where they met the men.

The second-day session will open at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Many interesting papers are promised, not the least interesting of which will be Miss Fae Stanley's story of publishing a newspaper in a town of twenty inhabitants. The paper is the Keota (Colo.) News. That it is prospering is evidenced by President Hosmer's statement that Miss Stanley led the entire Colorado delegation in mailing her check for her train reservation. The legislative committee will also report today. This is in addition to the report of the special committee on the ENORMOUS ADVANCE IN THIS PORT'S BUSINESS.

WHAT the Panama Canal means to Southern California is shown in statistics in an annual report completed yesterday by Charles M. Morgan, collector of harbor revenue, for the United States Engineers' Department.

The report, which gives in detail the amount of business that has passed through the port of Los Angeles, reveals a tremendous advance along many lines of shipment, and tells in cold figures the story of a development that is just beginning as the result of impetus to trade through the canal.

Collector Morgan's figures show that during 1913 231,765 tons of oils passed through the port, while in 1914, 501,452 tons passed through, or nearly double the tonnage of the previous year.

As the Panama Canal was not opened to traffic until the latter part of 1914, the advance shown will be greatly augmented at the close of the present year, when a full twelve months' business will have passed through the big ditch.

The report also shows that 623 tons of coffee passed through the port in 1913, while in 1914 the tonnage was 1857, or three times the previous amount.

One of the most remarkable advances has been in manufactured iron and steel. In 1913 there were 2515 tons handled, while the tonnage last year was 60,378.

There were 22,954 tons of paper in 1913 and 47,533 in 1914; 2656 tons of sugar in 1913, and 18,320 in 1914; 2576 tons of wines and liquors in 1913 and 6558 tons in 1914.

The detailed report of the transaction of business at the port for the entire year of 1914, shows a total domestic commerce of 938,080 tons valued at $67,885,069.

This does not include lumber and lumber products, a tonnage of 797,626 at a value of $8,249,845. This makes a grand total of 1,735,706 tons.

The total number of ships calling at this port in 1914 was 2271, with a total net tonnage of 2,814,692.

Some of the more important items of shipment and their values are included in the following:

Autos, $2,118,000; ammunition, $154,000; beans, $1,052,360; books, $184,800; brass goods, $186,300; canned goods, $2,591,540; clothing, $1,235,000; coffee (green) $216,800; coffee (roasted) $586,200; confections, $264,600; dry goods, $1,814,060; oranges, $596,200; grain, $1,231,110; hardware, $1,158,600; liquors, $1,116,475; beer, $50,310; wine, $177,350; merchandise, $26,804,160; crude oil, $1,687,717; olives, $58,590; olive oil, $76,000; paper, $2,634,400; sugar, $1,645,000; tea, $614,000.

Head of the National Musical Clubs.

Mrs. A. J. Ochsner

Of Chicago, reported unanimously by the Nominating Committee of the National Federation of Musical Clubs yesterday as their choice for the next president.

HIS JOURNEY'S END.

Well-known Realty Dealer Dies at the Home of His Sister Following Short Illness.

John Drabell Foster, well-known realty dealer and clubman, died Monday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. S. S. Hammond, No. 426 West Thirty-first street. Death came after an illness of some months that was not considered fatal until a few hours before the end.

Mr. Foster was born in Pittsburgh in 1870. He and his wife came to Los Angeles eighteen years ago. Since that time he had occupied offices in the Douglas Building—the John D. Foster Company. His residence was No. 813 West Twenty-eighth street.

Until a few months ago Mr. Foster enjoyed perfect health. At that time he became ill, and consulted a physician but his malady was not considered dangerous. He soon recovered and forgot the incident until his illness recurred. These relapses continued from time to time.

Mrs. Foster became ill a few weeks ago, and a nurse was called in. Her husband, wishing to allow the nurse full sway at the house, spent his evenings at his sister's home. It was while there that he was stricken. Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. John's Church. The active pallbearers will be William Reed, Harry Turner, Charles G. Andrews, Jefferson Chandler, Harry Lombard, John G. Mott, Frank Thomas and A. C. Denman, Jr.; honorary, Sumner P. Hunt, Guy Cochran, W. M. Garland, Godfrey Holterhoff, Capt. Jones, J. F. Sartori, Judge Lucien Shaw, Edward D. Silent, O. W. Childs, Gilbert Wright, W. W. Mines, Gervaise Purcell, Leo Chandler, Harold S. Cook, J. T. Griffith and Mr. Nelson of the J. D. Foster Company.

The Los Angeles Realty Board appointed the following special committee from the organization to attend the funeral in a body: W. W. Mines, Fred Latimer, Herman Janss, Theodore Cadwalader, W. M. Garland, Roy B. King, Guy M. Rush, Walter P. Story, Robert M. Allen, Richard M. Bishop, Charles G. Andrews, Harold S. Cook, M. A. Cadwalader, E. Avery McCarthy, R. A. Rowan, Phillip D. Wilson, F. A. Pattee, George N. Black, L. T. Bradford, H. L. Cornish, Horace G. Hamilton, Robert Marsh, Roy C. Seeley, James R. H. Wagner and G. M. Purcell.

Mr. Foster was a member of the Los Angeles Realty Board and the California and Los Angeles Country clubs and had a great number of friends who will mourn his untimely passing.

ELKS' AFFAIR TO BE GREATEST YET.

MEMBERS AND VISITORS WILL TAKE POSSESSION OF THE CITY.

"From letters received at headquarters, Los Angeles will entertain during the week of July 11-17 the largest number of visitors in the history of the city," said Ed Lovie, secretary of Los Angeles Lodge No. 99, B.P.O.E., as he completed an addition of an imposing array of figures. "The national convention of the Elks will be held in this city during that week and, while I cannot yet announce the exact number of delegates expected, it will be in excess of our earlier expectations. A majority of the delegates will be accompanied by members of their families and friends, and together with the thousands of tourists and visitors to the California fairs, will tax even the great resources of Los Angeles' hospitality to care for them."

The several committees of the local lodge of Elks, together with the 1915 General Committee, are hard at work on arrangements for the convention and the reception and entertainment of the delegates and their friends. In addition to the Grand Lodge sessions, the visitors will be entertained with automobile rides, visits to the beaches and other nearby points of interest, a series of dances and two great parades. A floral pageant and a parade of the Elks in uniform will be features of convention week.

"We are going to make the Elks' reunion the biggest and best of the year for Los Angeles," is the determination of local members of the order.

HIGHEST HONOR HERS UNSOUGHT.

Mrs. Ochsner Next Head of Musical Clubs.

Chicago Woman Unanimous Choice of Nominators.

Symposium on Methods is the Day's Programme.

From the ranks of a musical club to the presidency of the greatest musical organization in America was the sudden advancement of Mrs. A. J. Ochsner, who yesterday morning was named by the Nominating Committee of the National Federation of Musical Clubs as the chief executive officer for the ensuing year. Her election will follow as a matter of course this morning and the unassuming Chicago woman will be placed in the high position without contest.

The honor comes to her partly as a reward for a service well performed for the past two years, that of librarian for the federation. She has been enthusiastic in this work and has brought her department to the highest efficiency. On her arrival here a few days ago, some of her influential friends mentioned her casually as of presidential timber, and so strong an undercurrent in this direction was established that The Times was enabled to exclusively predict her nomination.

Mrs. Ochsner has never even been president of the club with which she has been so prominently identified, the Lake View Musical Association of Chicago, one of the strongest clubs in the Middle West. She came here as one of several delegates from the club, among them past presidents whom she designated as far more able to conduct the affairs of a national organization. The wife of a prominent physician, she has well learned the lesson of caution, and when asked about her plans for the ensuing two years, declared in the first place that she was not as yet elected and in the second that her only plan would be to do the best she possibly could in the assistance and guiding of the organization.

"It's impossible to say what can and what cannot be done at this time," she said. "If the advancement of the organization lies in my power in any way, I shall certainly bend every effort in that direction."

OTHER OFFICERS.

Mrs. Ochsner was not the only one unanimously proposed. Mrs. William H. Jamison of Los Angeles was named as first vice-president; Mrs. W. A. Hinckle of Peoria, Ill., second vice-

Hats

Month-End Sale

$7.50

It is hardly necessary to say to those who know the Blackstone Millinery Department that the styles we show at these Month-End Sales are correct; that the asortments and varieties are all that any careful dresser could ask for.

Those at $4.95 and $7.50 are brand new. Hats for the present moment, not so-called "autumn styles" or spring models marked down. Our buyer is on the lookout for the best things at under-value price, and she gets what she goes after, as today's exhibit will prove.

Midsummer styles in Georgette crepes, Malines and leghorn effects in shapes and trimmings that have made the Blackstone Millinery Department famous. Particularly pleasing is the showing of Sport hats. $4.95 and $7.50.

Those at $2.95

are hats of earlier purchase; styles that but a few weeks ago were marked $10 and $12—some even more. Browns, blues, sand and other seasonable colors suitable for the automobile. The trimming alone on these is worth several times the price asked for the finished product. Those that have been privileged to see this month's showing say it beats all previous records for style and value.

Kathleen Howard

Contralto in Horatio Parker's $10,000 Prize Opera

Fairyland

The management of the Opera "Fairyland," to be given at Clune's Auditorium July 1st, 2nd and 3rd, displayed rare judgment in engaging Kathleen Howard for the role of Myriel. Miss Howard is recognized as one of America's leading contraltos. She has filled engagements with the leading musical organizations of Europe and America, and, while abroad, appeared before the Czar of Russia and was specially decorated by this ruler because of her artistic ability.

Miss Howard endorses the Chickering, which has been selected as the official piano by the American Opera Association and the local Biennial Board of the National Federation of Musical Clubs.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 12, 1915.

Southern California Music Co., Los Angeles, Cal.

Gentlemen:

I am always glad to say a word in favor of the Chickering Piano because I find it to be a most satisfactory instrument.

It is a splendid, piano for the artist and the home and I recommend it most highly to any one desiring the best.

Yours very truly,

NEW DEAL FOR CORPORATIONS?

Railroad Commission Ruling Seems Significant.

Believed to Presage Era of Better Feeling.

One Natural Gas Concern to do Work Three Did.

Affirming that the persons who invested their money in the hazardous enterprise of conveying natural gas from the oil fields of Kern county to Los Angeles are entitled to the greatest consideration which the State can give, in consonance of its broad policy in regulating public utilities, a copy of the decision of the State Railroad Commission on the application of the Midway Gas Company to absorb the Northern Exploration Company and certain properties of the Southern California Gas Company, and to issue stocks, notes and bonds was received here yesterday.

"I believe," says President Thelen in a decision which, it is believed, presages an era of better feeling towards corporations, "that the entire matter of the reorganization of these properties and the plan herein proposed should be viewed in a broad light. This company has undertaken in good faith to carry natural gas from the oil fields in Kern county to serve the people in Los Angeles. It was an enterprise involved with extreme risks, and those persons who have invested their money therein are entitled to the greatest consideration which the State in consonance with its broad policy in regulating public utilities can give. The enterprise, as is natural with undertakings of this nature, has met with initial setbacks and has encountered extreme financial difficulties. The business is hazardous and the investment is speculative. These are matters which must be taken into account."

EFFECT OF DECISION.

The decision permits the issuance of $2,995,655 in bonds, notes and preferred stock in connection with a reorganization plan by which the Midway Gas Company acquires all interests of the Northern Exploration Company and Southern California Gas Company in the development and transmission of natural gas from the Kern county fields to Glendale. In brief, the Midway Gas Company becomes supreme in the development of the natural gas and its wholesaling at the Glendale terminal to the Southern California Gas Company and the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation.

Heretofore the Northern Exploration Company, the Midway Gas Company and the Southern California Gas Company have performed separate functions in the process of developing natural gas and conveying it here. The Northern Exploration Company has been engaged in drilling oil wells in Kern county, while the Midway Gas Company owned the transmission main, and the Southern California Gas Company leased it. By this arrangement, the Southern California Gas Company purchased the natural gas in the field, conducted it through gathering lines to its compressor station near Taft, there compressed the gas, and conveyed it through the transmission main to this county, where it was sold and distributed.

Under the proposed arrangement the Midway Gas Company will take over the property of the Northern Exploration Company, the gathering lines and compressor station of the Southern California Gas Company, and, cancelling its lease of the transmission main to this company, will itself convey the natural gas to Los Angeles county. Through these changes the functions heretofore performed by three separate corporations will be entirely performed by the Midway Gas Company.

FINANCE SCHEME.

The financing scheme proposed includes the issuance of $1,450,000 face value of first and refunding bonds to pay or refund a like amount of first mortgage bonds of the Midway Gas Company now outstanding; $684,000 of first and refunding bonds at 90 per cent. of face value for the purpose of acquiring the compressor plant and gathering lines of the Southern California Gas Company in Kern county; $38,000 face value of first and refunding bonds to reimburse applicant's treasury for money expended out of income for additions and betterments in the reconstruction of its main transmission line; $88,305 face value of five-year 6 per cent. gold notes for the purpose of paying accrued and unpaid interest on outstanding first mortgage bonds of Midway Gas Company, chargeable against reinvested funds; $405,000 par value of preferred stock to be issued at 80 per cent. of par value for the purpose of acquiring the properties of Northern Exploration Company, consisting of certain gas wells and implements; and $332,350 par value of preferred stock to be issued at 80 per cent. of par value to the holders of outstanding stock of Midway Gas Company in return for assessments heretofore paid by said stockholders.

POSTOFFICE SMALL TALK.

Substation "T" Abolished, Another Moved and Carriers Ordered to Keep off the Grass.

By an order issued yesterday by Postmaster Brown, beginning with tomorrow, Station "T" will be discontinued. It is located at No. 4500 Esmeralda street. All mail addressed to that station will be dispatched to carrier district 69 "A" for delivery. At the same time, Station No. 50 will be removed from Fifty-fourth and Hoover streets to No. 2529 Central aveaue.

Beginning July 1 and ending July 31, 1915, all rural carriers will be required to make a separation of all mail collected and delivered to patrons, to count and weigh the same and record the postage paid.

Monday next will be observed as a holiday. All sections of the main office will be closed, except the parcel post receiving section, that will be open from 8 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. Dispatches to stations will be made on holiday schedule. Carrier delivery stations will be closed all day. Rural carriers will make no delivery. Numbered stations will not register mail nor issue any money orders on that day.

Postmaster Brown has received so many complaints of letter carriers crossing lawns, after courteous requests have been made that they should not do so, that he has issued an order against the practice, unless permission has been granted by the owner. In some of the fashionable districts, it is alleged that the lawns have been injured by the carriers tramping over them repeatedly every day.

MAIL MEN GUESTS FOR THREE DAYS.

ENJOY RECEPTION AND ARE TO MAKE TOUR OF CITY'S ENVIRONS TODAY.

The assembly rooms of the Chamber of Commerce were the scene of much gaiety last night in honor of the 250 members of the Railway Mail Association and their wives and daughters, who are in the city for three days after attending the annual convention in San Francisco. The visitors were given a cordial reception by the local members of the association and the evening was spent in exchanging greetings and short speeches.

Yesterday afternoon the visitors were taken to Mt. Lowe and today they will enjoy a trolley trip to Monrovia and through the orange groves. Luncheon will be served at the Grapevine Arbor, San Gabriel and in the afternoon the party will see the "Mission Play."

The reception committee consists of Charles B. Anson, president of the local chapter; Plummer E. Vestal, Arthur Wilson, H. E. Pearson, Arthur D. Stockwell, Stephen B. Buck, Mrs. Katherine Keohene, Mrs. D. MacDonald, Mrs. Charles Kite, Mrs. Herbert C. Jones, Mrs. William Collier.

The national officers of the association are E. J. Ryan, president, Boston; Chester M. Harvey, vice president, Minneapolis; R. E. Ross, secretary-treasurer, Cincinnati.

CHURCH WORKERS ROMP AT BEACH.

MANY PLEASURES FOR BARACAS AND PHILATHEANS.

Bathing, Music, Boating and Concessions Lure to Forgetfulness of Business—Last Working Session of the Convention Today—Christian Movement Considered.

Long Beach lured the Baraca and Philathea delegates to forgetfulness of business cares yesterday afternoon and consequently but few matters of importance were taken up at the morning session. There was not a quiet moment for the visitors from the time they boarded the special cars at the First Methodist Church at noon, until they returned on their special train over the Salt Lake last night.

At the beach a band concert, free surf and plunge bathing and special concessions at all of the amusements were pleasant features. A large number of the visitors were taken aboard launches and carried all the way to San Pedro and around the harbor. The church organizations of Long Beach helped welcome them and make the day memorable.

Today will be the last of the business meetings. The Philatheans will conduct a symposium on "What the Class Has a Right to Expect From Its Officers," and conclude with a conference of all the class presidents. The Baracas will hear Rev. Paul Smith on his methods of keeping the Sunday-school class interested all the time and will then have a conference of class presidents. With the conclusion of this will come a joint meeting with the Philatheans and at the afternoon session will be named the next place of meeting.

Yesterday morning Luther C. Reynolds of Kentucky opened the joint session with a prayer and praise service, and was followed by Dr. J. Balcom Shaw of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church in a short talk. The business side of the class meetings and the increase of membership in the classes by careful and systematic effort were discussed in the Philathea meeting, Miss Grace L. Brodie of Detroit and Miss Harriett Hudson leading. Methods of proper organization were set forth by Miss Hazel de Saltre of Minneapolis, Miss Verna Swartz of Kansas City and Mrs. M. L. Flowers of Birmingham. Other speakers of the morning were Miss Henrietta Heron of Elgin, Ill., and Mrs. Florence E. Hanna of this city.

In the Baraca division, Rev. Channing A. Richardson of Napa spoke on the winning of members to the higher standards of morality and virtue, as typified by Christ, and L. S. Norris took up the matter of interesting class members in social affairs and thereby bringing home to them the greater value of belonging. J. Floyd Smith of San Antonio, spoke of the business side of the meetings. A symposium set forth the ideal points of a teacher, class president, secretary and member, and pointing out finally the most important parts of the great Christianizing movement represented by the conventionists.

TWO NEW COURSES.

The College of Law, University of Southern California, will start two new courses in its summer session tomorrow. Patents and Federal jurisdiction and procedure will be the subjects taught. Both these courses will be given at 7 p.m., five days a week.

D.A.I. Case.

EXPERT UNDER ENDLESS FIRE.

Cross-examined Three Days, no Relief as Yet.

Government Accountant has Vertigo of Figures.

More Details of Guarantee Fund Brought Out.

Yesterday's session in the United States District Court, presided over by Judge Bledsoe, was principally taken up by Attorney Oscar Lawler, for the defense of Charles A. Elder and ten former associates, in leading the government expert accountant, Howard E. Rank, through a bewildering maze of figures, calculated to leave the brain of the layman buzzing.

Yesterday was the third day of the cross-examination of Mr. Rank in the trial of former officers and employees of the Los Angeles Investment Company, charged with conspiracy to defraud by use of the United States mails, and it is probable that two or three more days will be consumed in the cross-examination of this witness.

Details of the formation of the Guarantee Fund and the acquisition of its stock were gone into, with the result that it developed that Elder and the other defendants bought stock in the Guarantee Fund, paying in cash sometimes, at other times having it charged to their account and at other times paying part cash and giving notes for the balance. It was shown that the original $12,000 comprising the fund was paid for in cash at a valuation of $1 for each share, but later the stock was advanced to a maximum of $5 per share.

It was shown that Elder turned over dividends received on Los Angeles Investment Company stock, amounting to a total of $154,334.88, to the Guarantee Fund, but withdrew part of this amount, leaving $95,723.78 to be applied to his indebtedness. In the effort to trace the amounts withdrawn by Elder and the other defendants after they were paid into the Guarantee Fund, Mr. Lawler asked the witness to segregate the different amounts paid to the accounts of the investment company and Guarantee Fund by the defendants. The witness stated it would take at least a day to prepare the figures and the government attorneys objected to the compilation being made at the expense of the government. Judge Bledsoe at first appeared to be doubtful of the right of the defense to require the government witness to make the compilation, but it was agreed, after lengthy argument, to have the work done.

In response to a remark by the witness, Mr. Lawler said:

"Account books are always a puzzle to me, except when I see a red entry in my bank book."

"That is when I begin to puzzle," remarked Judge Bledsoe.

The witness stated that his examination of the books and accounts of the company had been confined to certain matters to which his attention had been directed, and that he had been instructed to go confine his examination. Asked from whom he received his instructions, he replied from the United States attorney.

The witness stated that the only ultimate result of the "circle trip" of the $236,000 checks from the investment company to Home Makers, thence to the Guarantee Fund and back to the investment company was to transfer the indebtedness of the defendants from the Guarantee Fund to the Home Makers.

The witness admitted the book value of the stock of the investment company, as computed under his system of book-keeping, might not represent the actual value of the stock. He also stated that the books of the Guarantee Fund showed that at times the fund was indebted to Elder.

Much time was consumed in an effort to draw from the witness the amount of investment company stock deposited by the defendants to secure their indebtedness to the investment company and Guarantee Fund, but he declared there was nothing to show this in the books, but memoranda indicated that stock was deposited.

Court adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock.

NEW DEPUTY MARSHAL.

Fenton G. Thompson, for some time a deputy United States Marshal at San Diego, has been transferred to Los Angeles and will fill the vacancy in the office of United States Marshal Walton, caused by the resignation of J. F. Durlin, who tomorrow enters the employ of a local corporation. Mr. Durlin has been in the office of the United States Marshal for nearly nine years and has made an excellent record. Mr. Thompson will be succeeded at San Diego by W. C. Carse.

Former Recording Secretary Carlotta Simonds of Duluth, Minn., and Mrs. J. S. Morris, of Waupun, Wis., treasurer, will continue in office. Mrs. E. L. Bradford of Albuquerque was named auditor and is the only new name to appear among those on the long official list. The corresponding secretary and several other officials will be appointed by the newly-elected president.

The actual voting, which is a necessity, according to the bylaws of the organization, will take place this morning at the Gamut Club, the ballot boxes closing at 1 o'clock. The tellers will be Mrs. Ella B. Hanna, Miss Katheryn Cocroft, Mrs. S. S. Gundlack, Mrs. Prudence Simpson Dresser and Mrs. Charles E. Crawford, all appointed by the president, Mrs. Julius Eugene Kinney.

DAY'S PROGRAMME.

While the nominations were being made, the educational scention of the convention was also in session under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ella May Smith. A symposium of club methods was offered by club presidents and officers who graphically illustrated methods for arranging programmes and otherwise interesting the membership in the objects of organization. One of the features strongly advised was the use of a few well known numbers in every programme, it being impossible, as proven by repeated observation, to hold an audience with a programme made up entirely of new and unknown music.

This discussion of club methods will be continued at the session this morning. It will follow the balloting and the introduction of any new business that may arise. The remainder of the day will be given over to the usual musical programme.

Hustlers Will Profit.

THAT EXTRA VOTE OFFER WILL CLOSE AT MIDNIGHT.

Last Day for "The Times" Scholarship Contestants to Work for Lots of Eighteen Thousand Additional Ballots Allowed for Each Forty-five Dollars' Worth of Subscription Contracts Turned in During June.

Now comes the final day in the special offer of 18,000 extra votes for each $45 worth of subscription contracts turned in to The Times Educational Contest department during the month of June. Each lot of five yearly subscriptions or their equivalent in shorter time subscription contracts—for three months or six months—will net the contestant the 18,000 extra votes.

This means that today will be the busiest so far in the campaign, as many of the contestants have lots of yearlies almost completed and the opportunity to advance their standing is so good that they cannot afford to let it slip by.

In earnest work today there are many of the lower score contestants who will be able to advance their vote standing through the regular credits given, and on top of that pile up another 18,000 votes, through the special offer, thus in one day gaining for themselves a standing that may be the turning point on which they will become winners when the final vote is counted. Contestants must be sure to have their work results in the mail or turned in to The Times by midnight tonight. Everything coming through the mails that shows the postmark of June 30, will be included in the closing.

THE CAMPAIGNERS.

Among the visitors at the headquarters of The Times Educational Contest was Ray Hamilton, the contestant at Covina, who is hustling to raise his standing to the higher figure. Ray will be ready to take up high school duties next fall, and one of the military school scholarships appeals to him. He is interested generally in athletics, and particularly in baseball and tennis. He proposes to put the same energy into his campaign that he does in athletic affairs—and that's a spirit that is sure to forge his ballot right ahead.

Miss Helen Wilson of El Centro was another welcome visitor at contest headquarters. She has come up with her mother for a sojourn at Santa Monica, and proposes to work at the beach towns as well as in the city for the remainder of the campaign. She has made a splendid showing and intends to keep it right up to the very last day of the campaign.

Some friend again sends in a nice bunch of coupon votes for Walter Bowser, of Boyle Heights boy who wants to go to a military school scholarship. He is gradually pushing forward, and his friends will hope to see him make a good advance during the ensuing week.

Overton B. Ross now comes to the front with a good report that shoots his name standing upward. He is doing good work in Riverside and vicinity and is determined to be a winner.

Irvin C. Goodale, of whom we have been hearing very much lately, has given evidence of his renewed activities through his report yesterday. Sending in a bunch of subscriptions that will earn him at least two lots of those extra votes offered up until the close of today.

Edwin Mecum, the Sawtelle boy who is a favorite at the Soldiers' Home, also made a fine showing of increased votes yesterday that will advance him mighty close to the "Big Thirty-Four."

Paul Brooks, the Glendale hustler, is foregoing an automobile trip to one of the national parks in order to devote his campaign for the choice of the thirty-four scholarships offered by The Times. He was in at headquarters yesterday with a fine showing of business. Paul, through this department, wishes to extend his thanks to the many friends who have helped him in his campaign.

Ralph Holsington, No. 1801 West Vernon street, has his time pretty thoroughly occupied with daily work in a drug store, and has been able to give but little attention to any outside affairs. He has made a fine showing nevertheless, and watches every opportunity to advance his vote count. He made a material showing on this line yesterday when at the contest headquarters.

Clyde Thornton was one of the wise ones who hustled about yesterday and collected a lot of five yearlies so as to take advantage of that extra 18,000 offer. Clyde will make a very satisfactory jump in the positions of the next vote count, and is right on his way to a place within the "Big Thirty-Four."

Graf Lee of Westgate also made a notable leap upward yesterday when his report showed figures that will land him very close to the list of the thirty-four. He has struck his stride and will be heard from regularly hereafter. His intent is to win a scholarship and a place among the ones who receive the extra cash reward.

A BUSINESS TRAINING.

One of the most valuable scholarships offered in this contest is the combined commercial and normal course at the Mackay Business College. The young men and women for whom a university course is out of reach (possibly 95 per cent.) can obtain a training in one year at the Mackay Business College that will enable them to take their places at a good salary in the busines world, and with application, perseverance, economy of time and steadfastness of purpose, win its highest rewards.

This combined normal and commercial course is intended to take the place of the last two years in high school with a year in college added. Another point worthy of consideration in connection with this scholarship is the fact that the Mackay Business College guarantees to place all graduates. The school has always offered this guarantee of a position as a reward for hard work, as an incentive for students to meet requirements of graduation examinations. Mr. Mackay personally attends to this end of the work and he informs us that he has not a single student on the waiting list at this date. Mr. Mackay states that he has placed nineteen graduates of the school in good positions during the month of June.

Telegraphy is not only a very interesting and fascinating study, but offers many other inducements to the student. Railroad telegraph operators receive from $75 to $102.50 per month. Dispatchers from $150 to $175 per month. Brokerage operators from $150 to $250 per month. Press operators from $75 to $150 per month. Statistics show that many of the country's greatest men began their careers as telegraph operators. One of the big advantages of the skilled teleprapher's position is that he has much leisure time in which to study and prepare for something better. This fact explains why so many of our really great men have grown from the ranks.

The Mackay Business College conducts one of the largest equipped telegraph departments in the West. Hundreds of graduates of this school are now in the service of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company. Mr. Mackay, manager of the school, states that six young men have been placed with the Southern Pacific Company during the past month.

Ray Hamilton,

Covina worker in The Times Educational Contest, who has jumped from bottom of the list well up in the voting score, and who will make a lively campaign during July.

LAPIQUE CASE TO BE TRIED TODAY.

MANY PROMINENT PERSONS WILL APPEAR AS CHARACTER WITNESSES.

Judges of the Superior Court, county officials, twenty of the most prominent attorneys in the city and as many of the leading physicians will compose the most distinguished group of witnesses ever to appear in Police Court here, when the criminal libel case against John Lapique is tried in Police Judge Chesbro's court today.

The witnesses will be arrayed for the prosecution, refuting the charges against the character of the complaining witnesses made by Lapique in his sensational and startling charges advanced in the Superior Courts. The charges grew out of the litigation brought by Lapique regarding the estate of the late Pierre Agoure, preferred by the widow, Mrs. Kate Agoure, against whom Lapique made charges of a grave nature in connection with the death of her husband. Associated with her in the trial will be nine relatives, all of whom were mentioned with Mrs. Agoure in Lapique's indictment.

The case of Mrs. Agoure has been selected for trial, and the fight promises to become historic in Police Court records. An amazing mass of preliminary documents has already been brought to court by Lapique, and he served notice his witnesses will number in the scores.

Members of the Superior Court expressed a willingness to postpone cases before them that they may assist in establishing the fair reputation of Mrs. Agoure, and punish Lapique for his statements in his fight for a share of the valuable Agoure estate.

PRAISE FROM EXPERT.

Assistant Manager of World's Biggest Hotel Commends Our Low Rates for Housing Fair Visitors.

Robert G. Elbert, assistant manager of the Hotel McAlpin of New York, the largest hotel in the world, having more than 1600 rooms and employing upwards of 1650 people, made the statement at the Alexandria yesterday that if the people in the East knew how moderate are the hotel rates of San Francisco, Los Angeles and other large cities of the Pacific Coast the exposition crowds would be doubled. When he returns to New York in a few days Mr. Elbert said he will sing the praises of California and her wonderful hospitality to everyone he meets.

"I was astonished," he said, "when I found how reasonable all rates are out here. All preceding exposition cities have been noted for raising their prices and 'stinging' the visitors, but this is not so on the Pacific Coast, and I wish it could become known throughout the East.

"When I came to the Coast I expected to pay about $12 per day for good comfortable quarters in the leading hotels, and, much to my surprise, I found that I could get a good room with bath for as low as $2.50. In New York we have to pay from $4 to $5 an hour for automobiles, and out here they are rented for $2.50. It is amazing, and I am sure that the people of the West are conducting their business in a manner that will bring these same visitors back."

Mr. Elbert's chief reason for coming West was to attempt to secure the annual convention of the American Medical Association for New York. His city lost to Detroit by nine votes.

"BUNNY" IS COSTLY.

Man Pays Twenty-five Dollars for Shooting Rabbit—Inside of the City Limits, Too.

H. A. Baldwin, No. 1441 Vista Square, Hollywood, and his friend, C. B. Weber, strolled into the hills back of Hollywood yesterday to shoot some burglarious squirrels on the property of a friend. They forgot the land was recently annexed to the city.

Came a cottontail, and they shot. In line of the flying pellets was F. J. Ernst, deputy State Game Warden. He was without his badge of authority or his weapon for impression. Discreetly he hied home as rapidly as he could run, decorated himself with the badge of office, and returned to find Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Weber still shooting, with a cottontail victim in Mr. Baldwin's pocket.

Then the men were arrested and arraigned in Police Court yesterday. Baldwin was sentenced to pay $25 for shooting the rabbit out of season. Sentences for shooting firearms within the city limits were suspended.

TO THE COUNTY JAIL.

Deputy Sheriff Luckenbach yesterday took into custody Charles Christie in connection with the search for Mamie Sweazea, an alleged incorrigible girl, and placed him in the County Jail. It is charged that Christie had something to do with another ward of the Juvenile Court, said to be a friend of Miss Sweazea. The mother of the latter, Mrs. Ada Sweazea, was arrested on a charge of contempt of court for not keeping the court informed of the whereabouts of her daughter. The girl had been paroled in the custody of a relative.

"BOY" STRIKES PATROLMAN.

Although he calls himself a messenger boy, James Hawthorne is 28 years old, six feet tall and weighs 176 pounds. He was arraigned in Police Court yesterday on a charge of having assaulted Patrolman W. L. Cherry in the office of the Independent Messenger Company, No. 244 Center street. In the face of a convincing mass of evidence against him, he pleaded guilty and asked leniency from the court. He will be sentenced Friday. Cherry was answering a hurry call sent in by Mrs. Marie Navarre, Hawthorne's employer. She reported she had trouble with Hawthorne, and when the patrolman came to investigate, Hawthorne struck him on the head with a heavy instrument.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) That domestic financial circles were never more eager to invest money was shown in the over-subscribing of the $71,000,000 New York City 4½ per cent. bonds more than four times. A total of $296,000,000 was bid for the issue. Flour prices have declined 60 cents on the Pacific Coast in the past three weeks. Material gains in the securities of war supply industries, copper, steel and other metals were made, due to the great increase in the demand for those articles. All foreign exchange made new low marks, excepting London, which remained firm.

(For details, see financial pages.)

OUR BUSINESS.

A lot of western men have been named to make a trip to South America to study business conditions with regard to the future relations of those countries to the United States. This is eminently appropriate. Without selfishness or egotism the West can lay claim to a powerful share of that profitable interchange.

A NEW ROUTE TO EUROPE.

One of the few advantages that will offset the many disadvantages and losses of the great war is the establishment of a permanent line of first-class passenger and freight steamers between Vancouver and Vladivostok. The trip will be made in six days, and trains will run from Vladivostok to Paris in six days without passing through any part of the country affected by the war. There are no German submarines or war vessels in the North Pacific Ocean.

REOPENS THE HARVESTER CASE.

The International Harvester Company's case, which was the leading case in the prosecutions under the anti-trust law, was, by order of the Supreme Court of the United States, made last week, reopened for further argument at the coming October term.

The newspaper press report of the action taken by the court says: "Neither the government nor the company has asked a rehearing; the court's action was a complete surprise to attorneys for both sides and was announced without explanation. From the precedent and practice it was inferred in some quarters that the court stands very close on the case and desires reargument for its own benefit; or that, in view of the prime importance of the case to the interpretation of the Sherman law in new lights, a reargument has been ordered in the hope of getting a unanimous decision."

OLD BY YOUR LONESOME.

Nothing is more droll than the absurd reticence of human beings with regard to their finer sentiments. Here is a world peopled with persons of lovely aspirations, who imagine that it is practical for them to deny their finer intimations and boast of their animalism. Every other man in the streets is bursting with a desire to bespeak a sweet intelligence, to confess a desire to realize a full communion with all that is good, a hope for the arrival of all men in the sense of a blessed unity, but not one of them is willing to admit it to the other. Don't you know how the great, good world moves in classes? Don't you see that these sacred revelations made to your own understanding heart came to you only because thousands and tens of thousands of your fellows had been laved by the same pure light? Did you think you had so far outstripped your brothers that you might not even show them the best that is in your heart? Did you suppose that this benediction, this outpouring of love and wisdom, this vastness of good will had come upon you alone? Did you think that you stood alone and dared not reveal yourself? Listen well and believe. Time and life, spirit and form are moving toward another climax that when truth shall again confess itself its appearance will require neither betrayal nor crucifixion for its emphasis.

GOVERNMENT LOSES LAND FORFEITURE CASE.

Among the important decisions rendered last week by the Supreme Court of the United States was one refusing to forfeit to the United States 2,300,000 acres of land which Congress granted to the Oregon and California Railroad in 1870 to aid it in the construction of the road.

The grant was accompanied by the condition that the land granted should be sold only to actual settlers, in quantities not exceeding 160 acres to any one person, and at a price not to exceed $2.50 per acre.

The company sold land-grant bonds to obtain the money to build the road, but did not sell any land until the road was completed and patents were issued to it by the government.

Then it sold timber land in defiance of the conditions of the grant at $5, $10 and $20 per acre in tracts of 640, 1280 and 2560 acres to lumber manufacturing companies, and it refused to sell agricultural lands to settlers at $2.50 per acre.

A number of settlers tendered the company $2.50 per acre and brought suits to compel it to receive the money and execute deeds to the land. The United States intervened in these suits and claimed that the land not already deeded should be forfeited to the government for noncompliance by the company with the conditions of the grant. The case on all the issues presented went to the Supreme Court of the United States. The court decided against the government on the forfeiture claim, but enjoined the railroad company from future sales in violation of the conditions of the grant until Congress has had six months in which to act.

A LEAGUE TO ENFORCE PEACE.

The "friends of peace if you have to fight for it" [illegible] June 17, an organization in historic Independence Hall, Philadelphia. They named their society "League to Enforce Peace, American Branch," and they elected ex-President Taft as permanent president.

The principal contest in the gathering was over the report of the Resolution Committee, which binds members of the proposed League of Nations to use both their economic and military forces against any one of their number that may go to war against another member before the question or questions at issue are submitted to the tribunal provided by the league.

President Lowell of Harvard University, who was the author of the resolution, defended it successfully. He said: "We are here to enforce peace, otherwise we have no business here at all. We have here a means to discourage war, and that means is the threat to use force."

The report, which was adopted, reads:

"Throughout 5000 years of recorded history, peace, here and there established, has been kept, and its area has been widened, in one way only. Individuals have combined their efforts to suppress violence in the local community. Communities have co-operated to maintain the authoritative state and to preserve peace within its borders. States have formed leagues or confederations or have otherwise co-operated to establish peace among themselves. Always peace has been made and kept, when made and kept at all, by the superior power of superior numbers acting in unity for the common good.

"Mindful of this teachings of experience, we believe and solemnly urge that the time has come to devise and to create a working union of sovereign nations to establish peace among themselves and to guarantee it by all known and available sanctions at their command, to the end that civilization may be conserved and the progress of mankind in comfort, enlightenment and happiness, may cintinue."

It was proposed that the United States should join a league of nations binding the signatories to it to create a judicial tribunal to adjudicate all justiciable questions, and to also create a Council of Conciliation to hear, consider, and recommend a settlement of all non-justiciable questions.

The joint military and economic forces of all the nations comprising the "League to Enforce Peace" to be used against any of their number who may go to war or commit hostilities against another member of the league before submitting the question at issue to the tribunal and council provided by the league.

One of the members of the league—Berger, the Wisconsin Socialist—characterized the report of the committee as "too militaristic." "You are using too much force," he said. "You want more militarism to fight militarism. We don't want to be the world's sheriff or the world's policeman. To apply your plan it would require a bigger army and navy, and it would have the United States in trouble all the time."

The members of the conference held, however, that the reasonable presumption is that no nation member of the league would resist the decree of the League Court or the recommendation of the League Council of Conciliation, upon any question which had been fully and fairly submitted, in view of the fact that such resistance would bring upon the recalcitrant nation all the military and industrial power of the league—enough, doubtless, to crush the recalcitrant nation. The other nations would not buy or sell to, or trade or traffic with the offending member, and against any puny force it could organize they would bring the overwhelming military and naval power of the league.

Some thinkers hold that, while the present is possibly a favorable time to discuss the creation of a "League to Enforce Peace," it may not be the best time to form such a league and put it in working operation. These people seem to fear that, if the representatives of England, Germany, France, Russia, Austria, Turkey, Italy, Servia and Japan were assembled in convention now, they might not be able to agree on the questions to be submitted either to the League Court of Judicature or the League Council of Conciliation; or, if submitted, the losing party might refuse to abide by a decision when made. In such event, it is contended, the force of the other nations would have to be turned against the disobedient nation, and, if it resisted, there would be still more war, and war would mean taking the lives of thousands of men who did not bring about the existing war, and who would have no interest in being killed or wounded either to enforce or resist the enforcement of the decrees of the "League to Enforce Peace."

This is, however, an erroneous view, in our opinion. Manifestly, the establishment of a "League to Enforce Peace," or (what is the same thing) a "Plan to End Wars," will naturally develop into a movement carried forward in conjunction with, or immediately following, the peace settlement which, sooner or later, will have to be reached by and between the present combatants.

Indeed, the prospect of these contending nations being able to come together on some "Plan to End Wars" will be strengthened decisively by the positive guarantee that the war-ending plan proposed will secure peace FOREVER, and not merely stave off wars for a few years—a result which, it is safe to assert, is the fear and the dread of all the combatant nations, not to speak of the remaining nations of this turbulent globe.

A union of six to eight leading world powers, acting in dead earnest as a Universal Peace Pact, under laws of its own, in the capacity of a world government, with a world congress, a world supreme court, a world army and a world navy, could "do the business," because it would have the power and the right to enforce its own decrees, and thus be able to save the nations from themselves and guarantee peace throughout the civilized globe for all time to come.

WHAT ABOUT THIS?

Washington has been again advised that Mexico City is once more cut off from the world. This will relieve the President and the administration of much distress in case the Mexicans are really in earnest about their threat to kill off all foreigners on July 9. By the way, isn't it possible that what they meant was that now that so many of the foreigners are already dead they would set aside July 9 as a sort of memorial day for those who have already perished?

Glad to See You!

GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION.

California's government by commission has established a record which is not likely to incite other States to emulate our example. Reports issued by the United States Census Bureau show that only Nevada exceeds us in the cost of State government and that in local government California's tax burden is the heaviest in America. As the cost of both local and State government is fixed by the Legislature the responsibility for these startling increases rests with the nonpartisan administration in Sacramento. Although not understood by the citizens in general, there is a peculiar State law which provides that the number of all county officers, elective and appointive, together with their salaries and fees, shall be fixed by the county government bills passed by the Legislature. In this way the local expenses climb year after year and no one seems responsible.

Commissions have more than doubled in number and more than quadrupled in expense during four years of "Progressive" rule. Every line of business that shows sufficient profit to justify a special tax is now regulated by a commission. These commissions have twin sources of revenue; they are supported by general and special appropriations direct from the State tax fund, and they are permitted to collect fees for the "services rendered" in driving and twisting their tentacles like those of a devil fish about every line of business from which a source of revenue may be drawn.

With the disappearance of party government has come that disappearance of fixed responsibility which opens the way for reckless extravagance. That increase of the cost of commissions and bureaus from $463,000 under Republican rule in 1910 to $2,300,000 under nonpartisan rule in 1915 is a record which is without parallel in California or elsewhere.

Apologists for the administration assert that these commissions are all necessary and that they give a return to the citizens which is far greater than the cost of their maintenance; that a part of the commissions are necessary and that a certain regulation of public service corporations is desired has been recognized by the people of the State from the adoption of California's first Constitution. The Railroad Commission, Bank Commission, Board of Health, Insurance Commission, Board of Education, Labor Bureau, Mining Bureau, Agricultural Commission, Horticultural Commission, Board of Examiners and a number of smaller departments existed under Republican rule.

Under nonpartisan rule the pay roll of these commissions has been extended until it is two and a half times as great as that of four years ago, and new commissions have been created on such frivolous pretexts that one blushes for the honor of his State to name them. Consider a Housing Commission in a State where no slums exist, a Marketing Commission where there are free public markets under municipal regulation in all large cities; free labor bureaus where only union men need apply; a Purchasing Commission and a salaried Board of Control costing $200,000 a year to do work that was formerly performed by elective officers as a part of their department work at no extra expense; establishing State commission houses in the large cities to enter into competition with private industry; setting four commissions, irrigation, forestry, reclamation and water, to perform the work that was formerly done by one; establishing pharmacy boards, mortuary boards et cetera in place of keeping the whole work systematized under the State Department of Health.

During the last legislative session a number of Assemblymen set to work on a plan to cut a million dollars from the cost of the State government by consolidating and systematizing commissions. Their reward was a sharp intimation from the administration whip that they better keep out of things that did not concern them if they desired to get through the Assembly any legislation for their districts.

Because the people of the State vote to give to the Railroad Commission additional powers the Legislature promptly decides to give the commissioners a salary increase of $2000 a year each, making a total of $40,000 a year in salaries for that commission and a total appropriation of $670,000 for the next two years, exclusive of fees. Wisconsin accomplishes the same regulation for less than one-third that amount. The example set here extends through every commission and department. Gov. Johnson asks: "Name the work of one commission that you would discontinue?" But the question is not as to the work, but the appointment, of a commission with salaries and expenses and a long pay roll to perform the work which could be done, and in many instances was done, less obtrusively, but much more expeditiously by one or two clerks in an existing department. The greater part of that increase from $400,000 to more than $2,000,000 is occasioned by setting a whole department to perform work that was done by a single deputy before.

How petty is the politics that, failing to annihilate Secretary of State Frank Jordan, forms four outside departments to perform work formerly done under the direction of the Secretary of State, increasing the expense to the taxpayers more than tenfold!

SEMI-ECLIPSE.

It is funny, in a world that boasts of facts and learning, to see a veil over all that blinds the devotee of these schools and the demonstrators of these facts to the eternal laws that are back of all facts and all schools, and without the spiritual existence of which no facts could appear and no schools could flourish. It may happen that when men say to themselves that the sordid shall have no place in their lives beyond its use to express the highest of all their revelations and the noblest of all their impulses they will no longer stand within the shadow of physical limitations with their narrow necessities, their stupid blunders, their futile absorption, their purposeless tax upon all the rich faculties that life might develop. Has it been 2000 years with none of us yet tired of living by bread alone?

WAR BRIDES AND WAR BABIES.

[CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES]
BY DAVID STARR JORDAN,
Chancellor, Leland Stanford, Jr., University.

WHAT of the women who have been made "war-brides" and of the "war-babies" that are to come? Woman has no immunity in warfare and her interests suffer with those of men. For the traditions of love and happiness war has no respect. In the war system woman is only a breeder, due to furnish the raw material of war. Victory rests at last on the nation that breeds most rapidly. Homemaking is none of war's concern.

These assumptions lie behind the rush of war-brides in each of the belligerent nations—fifty thousand of them, it is said, in one day in Berlin. Some, no doubt, were love-matches, their conclusion hastened by the war. Of these I do not speak, but of the loveless union promoted by the cheap applause of the crowd and the infectious hysteria of the crowd's patriotism. These weddings mean the birth of children under the most trying circumstances and in anxiety, poverty and stress. Neither the parentage of the children nor the conditions under which they are born promises well for their future; but as "cannon-food" they will serve, if the prevalent criminal regime of military rivalry is carried over into the next generation.

Soon, too, the crop of "war-babies" is coming on. They are the children of parents who have ignored even the cheap convention of the war marriage. Some of them are children of love, no doubt; many are children of hysteria; most are the result of vulgar seduction, in which relation the soldier too often stands as a privileged character. Among very young girls, especially, hysteria and seduction are reputed to have played their part together.

Babies like these have been branded as illegitimate. This is not for any fault of their own, but as a safeguard of the chastity of young women. Justly or not, the stigma placed on the child begotten in defiance of society is one of society's best safeguards against such defiance.

The war baby is a fact and not a theory. He is here, or soon will be, and through no fault of his own. Very likely the stigma upon him should be erased for his sake, for it is war and not womanhood which cheapens the virtue of chastity in the fighting nations. Along with this war-made relaxation we shall have perforce, a large return to polygamy in the nations defrauded of their manhood; and polygamy will flourish at its worst amidst surroundings necessarily debased. Already polygamy is openly advocated as a military necessity. The war system will encourage it and will legitimize its products. It may even adopt it as a vital part of its operations. On the theory that the man belongs, body and soul, to the nation and that the rulers of the nation, without consulting the people, may seize men for the army, there is no logical reason why they should not similarly make conscripts of its women.

Women in a military state are indeed chattels; there is no sound reason why such a state should not require every woman, married or not, to be a breeder of men. And towards this very end the encouragement of war-brides and war-babies distinctly tends.

There is still another type of war-baby soon to appear in Belgium, in France, in Poland, in Galicia, in Servia and in Armenia. It is the child conceived in hate, whose father's guilt is, of all deeds, most execrable. Many of these will be slain before they are born—a lesser crime engendered by a great one. But again the child is not to blame; and he may prove, on the average, as worthy as the other babies conjured into existence by war. A bad man may not be of bad stock originally, and it is the stock which determines the character of the issue. The education of the camp is one of the worst possible for the average man. It unloosses all the passions there are—noble ones sometimes, evil ones always—and there is a residue of the ape and tiger in every man that may flare up when the lid is off. Crime is not inherited, only criminal tendencies; and the babies born in hate have their right to life and to our charity and our justice.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

WET WEATHER.

All spring the rain came down amain,
And rills grew into rivers; the bullfrogs croaked that they were soaked till mildewed were their livers. The fish were drowned, and in a swound reclined the muskrat's daughter, and e'en the snakes, in swamps and brakes, hissed forth, "There's too much water!" And all my greens, the peas and beans that I with toil had planted, a sickly host, gave up the ghost, the while I raved and ranted. The dew of doom hit spuds in bloom, and slew the tender onion; I viewed the wreck, and said, "By heck!" and other things from Bunyan. All greens of worth drooped to the earth and died and went to thunder; but useless weeds all went to seeds—no rain could keep them under.
When weather's dry, and in the sky a red-hot sun is burning, it gets the goats of corn and oats, the wheat to wastage turning; the carrots shrink and on the brink you see the parsnips lying, but weeds still thrive and keep alive, while useful things are dying.
It's strange and sad that critters bad, both veg'table and human, hang on so tight, while critters bright must perish when they're bloomin'! WALT MASON.

Finding Royal Husbands.

[London Chronicle:] It has long been a court puzzle to find husbands of proper rank and something approaching the proper official religion for royal ladies. We have fallen back on the German states for matrimonial alliances both ways. But our royal market for husbands and wives will be sadly curtailed for years to come.

And it is not likely that any from the German states will be invited to bed and board with members of the English royal family. Fortunately there has been a tendency to assimilate home protection in our special pages of the "Almanach." And if the Scandinavian countries fail us we may suddenly awake to find an American Daughter of the Revolution on the steps of the throne.

The Point of View.

[New York Herald:] "Preparedness causes war," cries Herr Wilhelm J. von Bryan. You don't seem to get it? Tut, it's easy. It follows the axioms laid down in the Matteawan Advanced Logic, thus:

"1. Umbrellas cause rain."
"2. Shoes produce feet."
"3. Hair causes baldness."
"4. Rainfall produces drought."

And so on, and on, and on, to psychopathic infinity.

Herr von Bryan is not at all difficult to understand—if you can get into the same mental state

...ubject of organizing a national advertising bureau.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

"This is especially an age of newspaper influence and every day that influence is growing," said President Hosmer in his annual address. "The newspaper man has in the past ten years taken his place more and more entirely among the business men of the country. An independent press that is trying to safeguard the people and build up the country is the hope of the nation.

"While I have endeavored to meet all the problems of this association as they come up," he continued, "I have devoted more time and attention to five than to the others. They are the establishing of a standard of advertising rates under the control of a committee of this association, and the abolishing of the evil practice of the Federal government in printing stamped envelopes for business concerns in competition with thousands of publishers in the smaller cities of the country. The advertising proposition, of course, is of more importance than the other, and has been the subject of deep consideration of this association, as well as State associations, for many years. Much good has been accomplished in this line during the past ten years, for all of you who were in the newspaper business in the smaller cities remember that "Castoria" and Dr. Bucklen were in the habit of getting rates of from half a cent to 1 cent an inch in most of the country papers a few years ago, while Royal Baking Powder paid but little more, and always insisted that their advertisements have the choicest position in the paper. I would like to see this meeting, or the men and women comprising this meeting, get together and arrange for an advertising bureau that will look especially after our interests. This association must be a business organization to be a success, and keep in its membership the live-wire business men who run the successful newspapers in the various States. We have ofttimes been called an association of people who simply were out for a good time, and that we did not look after business as an association. I think that no man who has attended the meetings of the association in recent years will say that, and while I believe in the entertainment features of our association, and believe we always get good financial results from our trips in the broader view we have of the country and in our intercourse with other people, I believe that the main object of the association is to improve the business condition of its members, and if it fails to do this, it cannot remain as the one broad association of all the newspaper men of the United States. The big newspapers of the country have their association, and it is primarily a business association—an association that gets results for its members. The newspaper men of all classes are welcome here, and should be able to get results from this association. The editor of the magazine, the metropolitan daily, the trade paper, the small weekly and the small daily, should all in our fold find his congenial home and business nursery.

"Many of the State associations have been seriously considering this advertising question in the past few years. Nebraska has organized an association that is endeavoring to help all the publishers who want help not only on advertising, but in other matters. Iowa, last February, took a decided step forward, and if they succeed in raising sufficient revenue to put their plans into operation, as it looked to me they would, they will probably be the first State to organize along strictly efficient business lines. Colorado has done a great work in advancing the members of the State press; so has Texas and several other States, but I cannot help thinking that the real efficient way to handle this matter is for this association to do it. It will cost a considerable amount of money to do it right, but a permanent office should be established with a paid secretary and one or two good stenographers at some point, say Chicago, although, cosidering the affairs of the association from all points of view, I am not sure but that Washington, D. C., is the place for headquarters. We then would have permanent legislative headquarters in the capital city, and think the advertising business could be handled from there all right, although perhaps not quite as efficiently as from Chicago. Before this convention adjourns sine die, I want to see if we cannot start the ball rolling that will not stop until a permanent office for the association is established, with a high class secretary, who will devote his entire time to the affairs of the association."

FOUNDER PRESENT.

The presence of B. B. Herbert of Chicago, the founder of the association and its first president, adds to the interest. In fact, there was something of a convention of the old-timers yesterday. Among these were Abram Henry Corman, now a resident of this city, but for years a laborer in the journalistic vineyard of the Middle West, and one of the association's early members, and Capt. H. Z. Osborne, also of this city.

Capt. Osborne's appearance as the representative of President Bulla of the Chamber of Commerce was particularly felicitous, as he was present when the gold-mounted gavel, with which President Hosmer opened the thirtieth annual meeting, was presented to the association in San Francisco, May 28, 1892, by the miners of Dutch Flat.

The association was the outgrowth of the World's Cotton Exposition in New Orleans in 1885. Mr. Herbert at that time, as for some years previous, was president of the Minnesota Editorial Association. Members of that association contemplated a trip to New Orleans for the big cotton show, and Mr. Herbert conceived the idea of asking the journalists of other States to make the trip at the same time. Many of them did and the result was the organization of the National Editorial Association, with Mr. Herbert as president. He is now editor of the National Printer-Journal, the official organ of the association.

OFFICIAL SLATE.

Politics has already begun to rear its head among the representatives of the fourth estate, who are meeting here. According to the dope, Vice-President Lee J. Roundtree is slated for the presidency. Among those mentioned for the vice-presidency are: Joe M. Chappell, Boston, editor of the National Magazine; Frank Roderous, Chicago, editor of the National Sugar Planters' Magazine; A. M. Gardiner of the Elmira (N. Y.) Advertiser, and E. J. Tomlinson, Princeton, Ind.

As for the position of secretary, George Schlosser, the incumbent, seems to have gone to press with the job and no one is objecting. Mr. Schlosser is editor of the Sioux Falls Journal. The same holds true of William R. Hodges, who has been treasurer of the association for four years, and is one of the charter members. Mr. Hodges edits the Sleepy Eye (Minn.) Herald.

New York, Saratoga Springs, Asbury Park, and Atlantic City are mentioned for next year's meeting place.

The election of officers and selection of the meeting place for 1916 will take place at a special business session of the association in San Francisco July 7. This is at the request of the management of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

George E. Hosmer, the efficient president of the association, is collector of customs at Denver. This is in addition to managing the Morgan County Herald, published at Fort Myers, and his large interests in other publications. As presiding officer he gets things done in a hurry and is not afraid to hand out a few reprimands when the exigencies of the occasion seem to merit them.

TODAY'S SCHEDULE.

In addition to the three-days business session, the association's entertainment programme is rather elaborate. This evening the visitors will see the "Mission Play" as guests of John S. McGroarty, the author. Tomorrow afternoon they will go to Long Beach; Thursday evening they will see "The Clansman" as guests of D. W. Griffith, the producer, and Friday morning they will tour the city and suburbs in automobiles.

The entertainment at Inceville yesterday was typical of the Southland. In addition to a barbecue lunch in the regulation Spanish style, a rodeo was staged especially for the vistors. Afterwards, the taking of films was shown and the vistors were "filmed" themselves. Boarding their special cars at 5 o'clock, the editors made the run to Ocean Park, where there was more entertainment, then to Venice, and from there in here.

The women attending the meeting will be the guests of the Universal Motion-picture Manufacturing Corporation this afternoon and will be shown every detail of the complicated machinery by which thousands of feet of film are ground out each day of the year. They will leave here so as to arrive at Universal City at 3 o'clock.

U.S.C. TO MEET STANFORD.

Plans Under Way for First Debate Ever Held Between the Two Universities.

Intercollegiate debating between the University of Southern California and Stanford University is to become a reality this fall.

A debate between the institutions will be held in Los Angeles, probably in one of the large down-town auditoriums, on the same night that the Stanford-University of California debate is held in the north. The teams will be selected after an elaborate system of tryouts, and the debates should prove the most interesting ever held in this city.

FEDERATED IMPROVEMENT.

The Federated Improvement Association will meet Friday evening, July 2, in Burbank Hall.

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

MILADY is ever bent on art and culture in Los Angeles, but this week she is fairly reveling—in as much as the ninth biennial of the Federated Musical Clubs has brought so many stars to this center that interest for all else is eclipsed. There are very few events to distract from the one big continuation of programme par excellent, though many informal receptions and teas are sandwiched in "just to meet some specially scintillating celebrity."

To the younger set is falling the lion's share of sustaining social activity, and they are having a merry time in doing it. The Albert Sherman Hoyts gave a fine dancing party last night in their beautiful Pasadena home, dancing on a platform of generous proportions which had been erected on the lawn and decorated with a myriad of twinkling lights and palms, ferns and flowers. It was a very smart affair, with supper served out of doors. Pretty Miss Blanche Cutrer of Tennessee furnished the motif for the evening's honors.

The Hoyts, John Earle Jardines and three machine-loads of prominent society folk motored down to Del Mar and Coronado for the week-end, following the interpretative lecture on "Fairyland," by Frances Sydney Hoben, at the Major Krebs home in Sierra Madre on Saturday, and only returned Monday night in time to arrange for last night's brilliant function.

Mrs. John Percival Jones gave a wonderful dance for the college set, also, last night at her handsome home, No. 328 West Adams street. The Italian garden was used mostly, though the entire house furnished a delightful rendezvous.

Pink floral decorations and greenery were used decoratively and a buffet "cabaret" supper was served.

The hostess's two grand children, Gregory and Miss Dorothy Jones, who are home from Harvard and Radcliffe to idle away their summer vacations, formed the inspiration for the much enjoyed party, which embraced in its personnel 200 of our sweetest debutantes and those not yet "out," together with a select few of the married set. Those bidden included the Misses Laura, Aurora and Celida Almada, Amy Busch, Constance Byrne, Juliette Bolleau, Elizabeth Brant, Katherine Mary Banning, Burton, Frances Beveridge, Eleanor Banning, Lucy M. Clark, Emmeleen Childs, Inez Clark, Constance Curtis, Evangeline and Helen Duque, Daphne Drake, Alice Elliott, Kate Freese, Dorothy Gillis, Kate Fowler, Henrietta Hunt of Santa Monica, Margaret Fleming, Louise Hunt, Ruth Hoyt, Marguerite Hughes, Selina Pope Ingram, Helen Jones, Florence Johnston, Margaret Johnston, Matilda T. Jones, Katherine Kirkpatrick, Keeley, Dorothy Lindley, Carolyn Lester, Phila Miller, Rose Montgomery, Katherine Mellus, Eleanor MacGowan, Georgina, Helen, Joan and Mary McCall of Santa Monica and their house guest, Miss Tweedy of Texas, Louise Monnar, Dorothy and Ellsmore Morphy, Irene Mercereau, Pendleton, Lucile Phillips, Romaine Poindexter, Patton, Constance Rogers of Santa Monica, Marjorie and Katherine Ramsey, Rosemary Rollins, Jane Richardson, Carmelita St. John, Rose Sartori, Delight Shaffer, Anita Thomas, Caroline Trask, Lillian Van Dyke, Isabelle Watson, Charlotte Winston, Marion, Louise and Rosario Winston, Marjorie Welsh, Aileen Wagner, Harriet Wagner, Louise Wells, Roselle Wiczorek, Katherine Ward, Marian Wigmore, Dorothy Williams, Dorothea Whitnah, Ena Young, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan O. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Bumiller, Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eloys Duque, Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Connell, Mrs. Hugh Livingston Macneil, Mrs. Samuel Thomas, Capt. and Mrs. Randolph Huntington Miner, Dr. and Mrs. Guy Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Gorham of Pasadena, Dr. and Mrs. Bertnard Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Rea Smith, Messrs. Allen T. Archer, Charles G. Adams, Herbert Acker, Paul D. Bucklin, Porter Bruck, David and Thomas Brant, Arvin H. and Thomas B. Brown, Cornelius Brown, Harcourt and Edward Blades, William Phineas and Joseph B. Banning, Jr., George H. and Hancock Banning, Jr., Horace Boynton, Hanford Barnes, Eugene Clark, Corbin Corbin, William K. Crawford, Philip Clover, Henry Daly, Arden Day, Thomas and Gabriel Duque, Donald Dickey, John M. Elliott, George Ellis, Robert Elliott, James Friesner, Awton Foster, August Freese, Jr., Howard Griffith, Lindsay Gillis, Thomas Gabel, Louis Gabel, John Garner, Jr., Frank Gilcrest, Hyatt de Mercer Ingram, Richard Lacy, Jr., Ralph W. Lewis, Robert de Bruce, Harold Webster and the Colemans.

Back from Coronado.

Mrs. Charles Wellington Rand and Miss Lillian Rand, Dr. and Mrs. Clark and Ralph Chandler motored down to Coronado for the week-end, doing the exposition for a few days.

During their brief stay the personnel was the center of much social attention.

For Debutante.

Mrs. William Brill is giving a luncheon of ten covers at the California Club Saturday in honor of Miss Agnes Wickfield Britt, a charming young debutante of the season. They are to attend "Fairyland" for the matinee.

Mrs. Brill's mother, Mrs. W. J. Hunsaker, is also entertaining a party of fifteen for the Saturday "Fairyland" matinee.

To Sorority Convention.

Miss Hazel Crabill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Crabill of No. 3101 South Grand avenue, has just gone to Berkeley, where she will atend the National Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority convention, a biennial event. Miss Crabill will afterward enjoy the fair, and on her return will entertain several of her girl chums from Northwestern University, where she studied the past year. Many affairs are already being planned in honor of these eastern young ladies.

Courting Summer Breezes.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory C. Brace are spending some days at Hotel del Coronado. On their return to this city they are to close their home, No. 5456

Miss Anna McDermott,

Niece of Bishop Conaty, who will be married at 10 o'clock this morning to Thomas J. Murphy of Needles, at the Church of Our Lady of Guadalupe. The Bishop will officiate.

Hampton Court, and spend the summer at the Merrit Jones Hotel in Venice.

To Receive Informally.

Mrs. Morris Popper of St. Louis, formerly Miss Bella Kingsbaker, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Clara Kingsbaker, of No. 1023 Lake street. Mrs. Popper's two winsome daughters, Jeanette and Thelma, accompany her. The ladies will receive friends informally this afternoon.

Artist Goes North.

Clark Hobart, the artist, who has nine paintings hung in the Palace of Fine Arts in San Francisco exposition, and who has been in Los Angeles for a month with some of his monotypes exhibited at the Exposition Park museum, left Monday for his studio in Monterey, to resume his work. Mr. Hobart will be in San Francisco much of the summer.

Sorority at Home.

One of the delightful affairs of last week was the informal at home given by the Delta Omega Sorority Saturday afternoon at the home of the president, Miss Marguerite Lyons, No. 2763 Estrella avenue. At the close of a musical programme, to which each member contributed, tea was served to the fifty guests in the attractive Japanese garden. Misses Glenna Barber, Mildred Bennett, Marguerite Eichenhofer, Athena Rombotis, Helen Sanders, Minnie Mae Zensen and Genevieve Dorn assisted the hostess.

Distinguished Guests.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. L. Reed of Cincinnati are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Humphreys at their beautiful home on Pico boulevard, Venice. Dr. Reed, who is a brother of Mrs. Humphreys, is a surgeon of international reputation and was prime mover in the organization, twenty-three years ago at Washington, D. C., of the Pan-American Medical Congress, of which he was last week in San Francisco re-elected as president-general. The Reeds are to join a number of South Americans in a sightseeing trip through Southern California before returning to their eastern home by way of Canada.

Miss Mondon a Bride.

At the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Eva J. Mondon, of No. 219 West Thirty-eighth street, Miss Ella May Mondon became the bride of William E. Haney Friday evening, Rev. Clyde M. Crist reading the service in the presence of a select circle of friends.

The bride entered on the arm of her brother, A. F. Mondon, and took her place under a canopy of fern fronds and an exquisite wedding bell of Shasta daisies. Dainty little Dorothy Livingston, in pale pink chiffon, and carrying a basket of Cecile Brunner rosebuds, preceded her, and the bridesmaids were Misses Alice Edouart, Louise Boness, Alice Bulpin and Elizabeth Hawk, all wearing white net frocks with Dresden silk boleros of pink, and carrying arm bouquets of Cecile Brunners. The bride's sister, Miss Evelyn Mondon, in a handsome white taffeta gown and carrying Enchantress carnations, gypsophila and maiden-hair ferns, was maid of honor, while Ralph Haney served his brother as best man.

The bridal gown was of white charmeuse and the long tulle veil was banded into a fetching cap with pearls. Brides roses and maiden-hair ferns formed the shower bouquet.

Miss Alice Goldsmith played the wedding march and soft music through the service.

The entire home was decorated in Cecile Brunners and palms. A reception followed the ceremony.

Mr. Haney and his wife are to spend the month of July with his grandparents in Albuquerque, and on their return will stop at the Grand Canyon and go on to the exposition in San Francisco. They are to reside in San Pedro, where the groom is instructor of manual training and athletics in the public schools. The bride is very popular with her large circle of friends, having resided in Los Angeles much of her life.

About People.

Mrs. Minnie L. Leonard, who has been enjoying a three-months' sojourn at Venice, returns to Los Angeles today, and leaves tomorrow morning for an extended visit to San Francisco, Santa Cruz and Stockton. Mrs. Leonard will return to this city in November.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Constant, Miss Claribel Constant and their house guests, Miss Edna Phillips and George R. Bocklet of Ohio, will spend this week at the Constant beach home at Balboa Island.

Mrs. S. P. Neal of San Francisco is spending a fortnight with Mrs. M. W. Neal of No. 432 Westminster avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Levy, who have been sojourning at Arrowhead Springs for the last six weeks, have returned to their home and will remain here for a few days before proceeding to the exposition at San Diego.

Mrs. Stoddard and little son of Arizona are spending the summer at the Virginia Hotel.

Capt. and Mrs. S. Frankenberger, U.S.A., are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Michelson, and sister, Mrs. Albert Skaloski, No. 944 Sixth street, Santa Monica. After a stay of a few weeks they will visit the expositions, en route to their new post at Fort Leavenworth.

TALKS ON BELGIUM.

Acting German Consul Tells of Reconstruction Work Being Done by Teutonic General.

Emil Roedel, acting German Consul in this city, was the principal speaker at the banquet held last night by the Deutscher Klub of Los Angeles in the Hoffman Cafe. Mr. Roedel took for his subject the "Reconstruction of Belgium," telling his listeners how Gen. Von Bissing, German military governor of the war-scarred country, is developing order out of the chaos now there. He spoke also of the new currency system instituted by Gen. Von Bissing. This currency is guaranteed by the imperial government at Berlin, and is redeemable in any part of the world. In this manner is trade made easier in Belgium.

Mr. Roedel said that Belgian officials are being put back into office as fast as they will go. In a sort time, he said, Belgium will be conducted entirely by Belgians, with the exception that Gen. Von Bissing will be the supreme head, instead of the Belgian King.

About ten guests were present at the banquet. Among these was Max Kuehnrich, who, until last March, was treasurer of the American Red Cross Society in Germany.

PRAIRIE SCHOONER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOMA LINDA, June 29.—The days of the "forty-niners" and the trains of prairie schooners were brought back to the old-timers of this section today, when Mr. and Mrs. P. Burck drove into Loma Linda after a six-months's trip across the United States in a canvas-covered schooner. They will visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Honeycutt for several days before starting on the return journey.

LYRIC MUSE HOLDS SWAY.

PROGRAMME OF BEAUTY GIVEN AT TRINITY.

Exquisite Vocal Numbers and Interesting Piano Sonata are Features of the Most Delightful of Recitals of Music Festival—Excellent Afternoon Concert.

BY EDWIN F. SCHALLERT.

The American song writer received his laurel wreath last night at Trinity Auditorium from the largest and most brilliant audience that has gathered at any festival event thus far. The programme as a whole was one of exceeding beauty from the standpoint of architecture, and, while it revealed a number of different aspects of the art, held generally within the bonds of the lyrical.

The two artists who gave the vocal numbers were Mrs. Frank King Clark and Mr. Cecil Fanning. They were assisted respectively by Mrs. M. Hennion Robinson and H. B. Turpin, accompanists.

An added feature was introduced in the first rendition of Charles Wakefield Cadman's sonata for the piano in A major, played by Claude Gotthelf. The composer was warmly received and called to the stage after the presentation of the very interesting work. Another important attraction of the evening was the prize song, "The Ballad of the Trees and the Master," by Faith Rogers.

Mrs. Clark included in her part of the programme numbers by Chadwick, Campbell-Tipton, Ethelbert Nevin, A. Walker Kramer and Frank La Forge. There was an exquisite touch to the simplicity of "I Came With a Song," by the last named, and it had to be repeated. The genius of Chopin was suggested vaguely in the soft mystery of Chopin's "Nocturne." Other charming numbers were "Before the Dawn" of Chadwick, the opening selection; "The Spirit Flower" of Campbell Tipton," and "When the World Was White With Moonlight," a song in Nevin's best vein.

Mrs. Clark also gave the prize song, Miss Rogers playing the accompaniment. The composition is well written for the voice, and the piano accompaniment is kept well in the background. The opening phrase suggests a dim memory of Debussy's "Prelude to the Afternoon of a Faun." A very fair contrast was revealed between the two pictures presented in the song.

In interpretation Mrs. Clark's various numbers were a revelation in that rare expressiveness which only a limited number of singers achieve. While she has her limitations in a dynamic way, she keeps well within these, having tested them to any extent only in Carpenter's wonderfully vivid and exacting setting of Tagore's poem, "Light My Light." She probably was not in the best of voice, but there were only a small number of instances when this was apparent. Her tonal quality is very beautiful and she sings with unusual ease and poise and remarkably clear enunciation.

DUPLICATES SUCCESS.

Mr. Fanning duplicated the success recently scored by him at the Lyric Club concert. His renditions of "The Last Leaf" of Sidney Homer, "The Lute Player's House," by Winthrop L. Rogers, and, in fact, virtually all the songs, were given with excellent artistry.

"I Had a Dove" of Carl Busch's had to be repeated in part. "Cadman's "A Knighthood Song" was well given, the composer playing the accompaniment. A number that pleased particularly was Harriet Ware's "Mammy's Song."

A slightly brighter shade of tonal coloring might be desired at certain times in Mr. Fanning's more lyrical numbers, but on the whole he scores a very decided triumph in the effects which he secures. He possesses a marked degree of power, which he uses to advantage.

Claude Gotthelf gave a very clear-cut and convincing rendition of Mr. Cadman's sonata, although hampered perhaps to some extent by the weakness of the upper register of the piano. The composition partakes more of the fantasia style than of the sonata form, but this seems to be the ruling fault in a great deal of the work done by American composers.

The first movement is rather rhapsodic. The texture of the harmonies is woven more closely and compactly in the latter part than at the start. The movement as a whole is not as well moulded as might be.

The second movement is more securely put together and contains some very excellent moments. It is very pleasing.

In the third movement there are some very delightful melodious passages, and the composer reaches some forceful climaxes. The work as a whole is possessed of an electric vitality, but would gain by more breadth and loftier moments.

Mr. Cadman took as his programme for the sonata excerpts from two poems of Joaquin Miller, "From Sea to Sea" and "The Tale of the Tall Alcalde." The Indian atmosphere is suggested in the first movement, but as a whole the work is free from any tendencies in this direction.

Both Mrs. Robinson and Mr. Turpin did exceedingly fine work as accompanists.

AFTERNOON CONCERT.

Mrs. H. A. Beach's ability to weave a captivating spell, with her well poised art, was evidenced again yesterday afternoon at Trinity auditorium. The Brahms quintet rendered a work by the composer which they have at one of their recent concerts. This is the quintet, Opus 67, and like many another well executed achievement, it improves with a further hearing.

The second movement is an especially alluring one, with its opening passages for muted strings. One almost hates to think of the dreamy flow of these passages being broken, but the composer manages to lift one out of mood very cleverly with a freely moving senza sordini close which dimly recallys the spiritual fascination of her song "Ecstacy."

In both of Mrs. Beach's works which have so far featured the programmes given at the music festival, there is a certain resemblance of structure in the first movements. She has a way of building up a striking edifice of rather massive proportions, to act as a sort of foundation for the remaining movements.

The third movement of the quintet is of a more restless order, except for the elegiac character of the middle part. There is a brief return of the opening theme of the first movement at the close.

The Edgar Stillman-Kelley quintet, which had a hearing earlier in the year, was also repeated and it proved an excellent companion piece for the Beach number. It differs, one might say, altogether in style. There is just what may be termed a vague Tennysonian touch about the last three movements, which are the most effective. That bell-like opening to the second carries a message which remains in one's memory. The scherzando portion sparkles with frank gaiety. The fourth movement opens peacefully, and later has moments where it verges on the ethereal.

Carrie Jacobs-Bond gained a marked degree of appreciation from the audience for her presentation of a number of her own compositions. Incidentally Cecil Fanning sang her "Perfect Day." Mrs. Bond has her own peculiar fashion of doing this work, but would be heard to better advantage from an artist's standpoint on a programme devoted entirely to her own works.

The second part of the programme was devoted to the appearance of individual artists. A charming impression was made by Miss Mildred Dilling, whose choice of selections and delightful interpretative ability deserve much commendation. Her last two numbers were her best. She gave the following: "Song of the Boatmen" (Cady;) Romance (Frank la Forge;) Bouree (Bach-Saint-Saens,) and Impromptu-Caprice (Pierre.) She gets a great deal of color in her tonal effects, and she is well equipped technically.

Frederick Preston Search played his own "Minuet," "Aria" and finale from his sonata in G minor, on the 'cello. He was accompanied by Lois Townsley, and for encore played his personade, "Evening in Venice."

Two Noted American Composers.

Mabel Daniels and Carl Busch.

They will conduct their own compositions at the orchestral concert at Trinity Auditorium.

SETTLE BY COMPROMISE.

Superior Court Judges To Bar District Attorney Matter at San Diego.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, June 29.—The county still has two District Attorneys. D. V. Mahoney, elected to the office last November, and who has tendered his resignation to the Board of Supervisors only to withdraw yesterday before it was acted on, and Spencer M. Marsh, each occupying room in the District Attorney's quarters.

Marsh was appointed to office by the Supervisors decided to accept Mahoney's resignation and to have the written withdrawal of the latter action. Mahoney claims that the action of the Supervisors is illegal. Last night, County Detective [illegible] representing Marsh, and Undersheriff H. C. Nichols, representing Mahoney, held the respective offices.

Shortly before noon, Mahoney and Marsh held a conference at which time an agreement was reached by which the entire controversy was determined under quo warranto proceedings before three Superior Court judges to be instituted tomorrow.

Noted Lecturer to Address the Board of Trade.

Former Councilman Dies of Apoplectic Stroke.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, June 30.—The month of July will be the banner month of the year for the hotels of Pasadena. There will be more people staying at the Green and Maryland hotels next month than during any month of the record season last winter.

Starting with the delegates for the National Universalist convention, numbering more than 1000, and ending with the national convention of the Commercial Law League of America, with an even greater number, all the hotels will be taxed to the limit. It has even been suggested that the Huntington Hotel be opened for the month to take care of the overflow from the Maryland.

In addition to these two large conventions the Fraternal Aid Society will convene here the middle of the month, bringing with them 1000 delegates. Several hundred additional tourists will arrive under the direction of the Cook and Frank tours.

Elaborate preparations are being made for the entertainment of the visitors during their sojourn in the city. The first and one of the most elaborate will be the banquet of the college alumni of the Universalist Church at the Maryland Hotel on Saturday, July 10. The most elaborate function of the year will be the grand ball of the Law League, which will bring to a close their stay in Pasadena. This, with all the other functions given by the lawyers, will take place in the Maryland.

As a forerunner of the month's convention festivities, there will be a mammoth al fresco luncheon given next Friday, in the gardens of the Hotel Green to the visiting editors, their families and friends. The management is planning to serve luncheon to 5000.

COMES HE IN PEACE.

Hon. Philander P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, will visit Pasadena under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace from July 9 to July 12. He will make a number of addresses under the immediate management of President James A. B. Scherer of Throop College of Technology.

Dr. Claxton's first address will be at the Board of Trade luncheon on Friday, July 9. On the same evening he will speak at the High School on "Lessons for America from the European War."

A number of literary and educational organizations will welcome the distinguished guest and in addition to these most of the superintendents and principals of schools in Southern California have accepted the invitation to be present.

Among the educators expected are Supt. Francis, of Los Angeles; Supt. G. Vernon Bennett of Pomona; Supt. Forest M. Rebok of Santa Monica; Supt. J. A. Cranston of Santa Ana; Supt. M. B. Parmelee, Alhambra; Supt. A. W. Wheeler, Riverside; Supt. George C. Bush of South Pasadena; Supt. F. W. Conrad, San Bernardino, and Supt. W. L. Stephens of Long Beach.

CHURCHMAN DIES.

After an illness of nearly a year John Daniel Mersereau, former Councilman and active church worker, passed away yesterday at his home, No. 449 North Madison avenue. Mr. Mersereau suffered a strcke of apoplexy last Friday night, from which he did not rally, but soon sank into a state of coma, remaining in this condition until his death.

Mr. Mersereau, who was born in New York June 20, 1854, came to Pasadena fourteen years ago, since when he had taken an active interest in all civic affairs. He was appointed Councilman in 1908 and served until May, 1911, when he retired.

He was a member of the Building Committee of the Presbyterian Church and the Young Men's Christian Association. He was a member of the Sons of the American Revolution, the Mayflower Society, the Huguenot Society and numerous other patriotic associations.

Besides his widow he leaves a daughter, Miss Irene Mersereau. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

CITY BRIEFS.

Clearinghouse records made yesterday in the nine Pasadena banks show deposits of $13,919,788.08. A year ago the banks showed deposits of $13,764,778.37, or about $150,000 less than at present. Deposits are greater in volume than at any time during the last two years.

Pasadena is going to take a day off Monday, July 5, and there will be nothing to disturb the quiet repose except the bad boys who unlawfully set off firecrackers down the back alleys. Every store in the city will be closed, and it seems 99 per cent of the citizens are making arrangements to take their annual swim.

ALWAYS SAFE—

Stocks and investments may depreciate in times of stress but REAL ESTATE in Los Angeles will always be a safe investment and a good asset.

NOW is the time to buy that home and cut out paying rent. Now is the time to start saving money for yourself. We have sold hundreds of homes to men who could not pay more than the average rent. TODAY they have their DEEDS instead of a worthless bunch of paper rent receipts. They NOW own their own homes and are building up a bank account instead of supporting a landlord.

LINCOLN STATUE CORNER IS LAID.

CEREMONIES CONDUCTED BY CIVIL WAR VETERANS.

Tribute to Martyred President Paid at Long Beach—Charge Made that Editors are Sidetracked by Los Angeles to Slight Harbor City. Dog Bites Newspaper Employee.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, June 29.—Gray-haired veterans of the Civil War were in charge today in the laying of the cornerstone of a monument to the war President, Abraham Lincoln. More than 3000 persons gathered in Pacific Park for the ceremony. The statue of Lincoln has been finished at Signal Hill and will be brought and put in place Friday. On Saturday it will be unveiled while the U. S. S. Chattanooga fires a salute.

George W. Wilcox, past commander of the local G.A.R. post and chairman of the Memorial Committee, introduced Maj. John S. Hair, who was in charge of the solicitation of funds for the monument. He told of the history of the project for the erection of a tribute to Lincoln's memory. The invocation was delivered by Rev. Hugh K. Walker. Chaplain Archer, of the G.A.R., read the Grand Army ritual. J. N. Emery and D. B. Burger, other veterans, told of the list of articles placed in the box.

Assemblyman J. A. Rominger, laying the cement with a silver trowel, sealed the box in the huge block of granite. Dr. Walker then delivered the address of the day.

GERRYMANDERING TIME.

Long Beach citizens are vexed, and again Los Angeles is blamed for their state of mind. It is all over the visit of the National Editorial delegates to this city Thursday.

At first, say the local committee, the whole day was to be spent here by the pencil pushers. Now, they have it, Los Angeles, always jealous of the great growth and multiplying power of Long Beach, has arranged so that the visiting editors will not arrive until 2:30 p. m. on that day and will only get a glimpse of the beauties of this beach.

The local committee had arranged to give the newspapermen a feast in Bixby Park, but this has now been called off.

BEACH BRIEFS.

C. B. Day, a newspaper employee, was bitten by a dog suspected of rabies, today, and the dog escaped.

Now the scribe is under a doctor's observation while the police hunt for the dog. Day was collecting. He called at the home of J. B. Marquis, State and Pico streets, and the Marquis's dog rushed out and bit him on the hand. The dog has been at a livery stable under the care of Dr. Bergen for observation, but it slipped its collar and got away.

E. H. Willey, head of the Long Beach band, whose whereabouts for the past two months has puzzled the city officials, has turned up again. Today he telephoned the new Mayor, F. M. Cates, that he was willing to work under the new administration and he said that he would be here ready with his baton July 1. A conference will be held on the question of maintaining the band. Willey said he was merely on a vacation and thought the City Council knew about it.

KILLED IN ACCIDENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIVERSIDE, June 29.—William C. Hissick, an employee of the Corona Rock Company, died at the Riverside Hospital this afternoon from injuries received from a collision with a trolley car on Main street a few hours previously. Hissick, mounted on a motorcycle, was traveling westerly on Third street and passed in front of an auto proceding in the same direction as the street car. His wheel struck the rear step of the street car and the rider was thrown to the pavement with great force, fracturing his skull. An operation proved fruitless. Hissick's parents reside in Los Angeles.

SLIPPERY NEEDLES.

Young Woman Slides Down Mountain and is Seriously Injured When Thrown from Sled.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

FREDALBA, June 29.—While attempting to insert a bit of "Back East" color into the regular round of camp life here by coasting down a long hill on the pine needles, Miss Sonoh Frank, the teacher of German in the San Bernardino High School, was seriously injured. Dr. J. H. Evans of Highland, made a hurried trip in an automobile, making the journey in three hours, to find that Miss Frank had severely wrenched her back. It will be several days and perhaps weeks before she can be out.

Because the pine needles are so slippery, Miss Frank conceived the idea that it would be just as easy to coast down hill on them as on snow. All went well until the runners of the sled struck a spot where there was no "snow" and the sled turned over. Miss Frank was thrown some distance. She was with the German Club of seventeen members who enjoyed a house-party here. All have returned home with the exception of five, who will remain with Miss Frank until she recovers.

PARK COMMISSION STORM IS STILLED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ONTARIO, June 29.—As a result of the storm of protest which arose when it abolished the City Park Commission a week ago and turned that body's duties over to Street Superintendent W. A. Poindexter, the City Council last night rescinded its action in the matter and set on foot a move which may prove more satisfactory.

Following the motion to rescind the action, the Council voted to repeal the old ordinance which created the Park Commission, the motion carrying by a three-to-two vote. City Attorney Archie D. Mitchell was then instructed to draw up a new Park Commission ordinance which shall make the city superintendent of streets the ex-officio chairman.

At present the city is without a Park Commission, since the resignations of its members were accepted just prior to the action which abolished the commission and no appointments are likely to be made until the new ordinance is adopted.

MARRIED AGAIN.

Dr. David Nelson Bacon, for many years a resident of Ontario, who left hurriedly for the East a few weeks ago on a supposed business trip immediately after being granted a divorce from Muriel Bacon in the Superior Court of San Bernardino county, returned to this city today accompanied by a bride, formerly Miss Olive Pickett, of New York City.

The bride is said to be a magazine writer and a musician. Dr. Bacon has two daughters and a son by a former marriage. When he separated from his second wife, the eldest daughter, Hester, went with her stepmother.

CREDULOUS VICTIMS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BELL, June 29.—The police force of Bell, Huntington Park and from the Sheriff's office in Los Angeles Tuesday afternoon arrested D. Sidowsky of Los Angeles and his partner, who aroused suspicion by attempting to peddle linoleum in twelve-yard pieces for prices quite extraordinary. The men had a bill for $12.50 worth of the material bought from a Los Angeles firm. They offered to sell to housewives here sufficient linoleum to cover one or more floors for a small sum. Only one condition was imposed: that the bundle be not opened till late in the day, as the linoleum was softened by the heat and would break. Victims who bought found that the real purpose of this requirement was to keep from them the fact that they had paid for less than they got till the bunco boys were out of town.

RATES REJECTED BY AZUSA CITY.

COUNCIL AND POWER COMPANY DISAGREE OVER ELECTRIC LIGHT SERVICE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

AZUSA, June 29.—Because the rates proposed by the Pacific Light and Power Company are considered too high they have been turned down by the City Council. Work on a lighting system for the city has been under way for some time and it had been expected that within a short time the city would be among the best-lighted in the eastern part of Los Angeles county.

Another point of disagreement between the power company and the city officials was the sale of juice. The company refuses the city permission to sell power outside the city limits. Other propositions made by the corporation are believed to be against the interests of the light department of the city, and the whole matter will likely be laid before the Railroad Commission for adjustment. Meanwhile no lights for the city streets.

MAUSOLEUM PLANNED.

A mausoleum is to be erected at a cost of $75,000 in Oakdale Cemetery. A realization of the necessity for such a structure has caused the citizens of Azusa, Covina, Glendora, El Monte, Puente, Charter Oak, Baldwin Park and other communities to secure the building for Oakdale.

It will be the first structure of the kind to be erected here and will be a monument for the upper San Gabriel Valley. The building is to be of Renaissance architecture, of reinforced concrete. It will have 320 crypts, as well as family urns and chapels.

HIGH SCHOOL PUPIL NABBED.

CHARGED WITH TAKING FUNDS OF CLASS—IMPERIAL'S FIRST BONDS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL CENTRO, June 29.—Caught while on the way to New York City, Gustave Carhart, 18 years old, a junior at the Central Union High School, was brought here tonight to face a charge of misappropriating the funds of his class. He is charged with having given a worthless check for $44.88 to cover the cost of a spread given at the Barbara Worth Hotel by the junior class to the seniors.

Great preparations were made for the banquet this year and the magnificent dining-room of the Barbara Worth Hotel, then newly opened, was selected as the scene. Carhart was one of the Arrangements Committee, and after the share of each junior had been collected the sum was given into his hands for settlement of the bill. He presented a check to Manager Clarke and the bill was duly receipted and given to the class treasurer.

But a few days later the check was returned by the bank. No prosecution was instituted because of the young man's promise to make it good. Today the hotel management learned he had left for New York. A complaint was sworn to before Justice Mayfield and the alleged fugitive taken off the train at Niland.

IMPERIAL'S FIRST BONDS.

The first bond ever issued by Imperial county was signed today by President Hamilton and Secretary Berry of the Imperial irrigation district. It was one of a 5 per cent, forty-year issue of $3,000,000 authorized by the voters to take over the irrigation system of the insolvent California Development Company.

The county is 7 years old and the county government proper has never issued a bond. The irrigation officials must sign their names 4900 times and estimate their speed at 150 signatures per hour.

Secretary Berry refused $10 for the 5-cent penholder that was used for the first signature.

RIVERSIDE, June 29.—An action brought by the State Board of Optometry against F. Gov. L. B. Hanna

Of North Dakota, as he appeared at the open-air reception given to him at Hollenbeck Park yesterday afternoon.

NORTH DAKOTA'S CHIEF GREETED.

EXTOLS HIS STATE BECAUSE OF REAL PROGRESS.

In Talk at Hollenbeck Park Urges Former Residents of that Section to Hold Investments—Reception Here a Personal Tribute—Governor Exhibits Remarkable Memory.

Gov. Louis B. Hanna of North Dakota made Hollenbeck Park the setting yesterday for a panegyric on the opportunities which await the settler in the State of which he is Chief Executive. The occasion was an open-air reception tendered the visiting statesman and party by members of the North Dakota State Society.

"My good friends," he said, to the assembly of nearly 200 persons, "many of you know that North Dakota is 360 miles long, 210 miles wide, and has an area of 70,837 square miles, and a population of 750,000 persons. But do you know that the value of the State's farm products is increasing fourfold every ten years, and that North Dakota leads every State in the Union, except one, in the per capita expenditure for educational purposes?

"Because of these things, and because I have faith in my State, I urge you not to desert this beautiful land, but to hold fast to your investments back there, for they are bound to increase in value. I also urge you to get back now and then on a visit, for we are proud of what we are doing in North Dakota, in spite of the fact that we haven't the mountains and shore of California, nor its superb climate."

Twice a member of Congress from the Fargo district, long a member of the North Dakota Legislature, and just completing a two-year term as the Republican executive of the State, Gov. Hanna's reception yesterday was one of tribute to himself more than to his office. In a business way he was long president of the First National Bank of Fargo, and is now a director of the Ninth District Federal Reserve Bank. He is also a companion of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion and a Thirty-third Degree Mason.

In his own State, Gov. Hanna has the reputation of never forgetting a name or a face. He demonstrated his peculiar gift yesterday, when, after greeting the members of the assembly via the receiving-line route, he mixed informally with the throng and did not mistake a name.

The reception was arranged by a committee of the North Dakota State Society, headed by B. H. Harrold, the president. It was preceded by an automobile tour of the city and vicinity and lunch at the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Today Gov. Hanna and his party, which includes Cols. Henry Hale and C. E. Batchelor of his staff and their wives, will be guests at a luncheon at the Union League Club. The party will leave this evening for the East, having visited both expositions.

Mrs. Hanna and children came West with the Governor, but will not return with him, having taken reservations at the Hotel del Coronado for the summer.

QUEEN CANDIDATE WEDS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

COLTON, June 29.—Miss Laura Powell Morrison, one of the prettiest girls in the city, and 18 years old, who led the race for queen of the Colton carnival last October until the very last moment, and then lost by just a few votes, became the bride yesterday of William Jacob Deimel of West Alhambra. The marriage was held at the Catholic Church in San Bernardino. The groom is assistant supply car storekeeper in this district of the Southern Pacific. The home of the couple will be at Alhambra following the honeymoon, which is being passed at the coast.

WAR SHARES ARE HIGHER.

RAILROADS, HOWEVER, ARE HEAVY AND RECORD LOSSES.

Canadian Pacific Touches Its Lowest Point in Seven Years, but Purely American Lines are not so Weak—Demoralization of Foreign Exchange Continues.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 29.—Recurrent demoralization in foreign exchange was the salient feature of today's financial developments and more than anything else served to hold the stock market in check. Further depreciation occurred in remittances of three of Europe's leading capitals. Paris checks were quoted at 5.65, Reichsmarks at 81 1-8 and lires at 6.16.

These quotations were not only the lowest reported since the outbreak of the war, but established records for many years previous. London exchange made slight recovery, with demand sterling at 4.76 3-16. No more gold was received from Canada, despite yesterday's hopeful intimations from London.

With few exceptions, securities were heavy or irregular throughout, the weakness in Canadian Pacific, United States Rubber and several other active issues conducing to that end. Canadian Pacific sold as low as 141¾, an overnight loss of 4 3-8 points, and its lowest quotation in seven years. Rubber repeated yesterday's low price of 48¼ and Rock Island as the shares of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway now are know, also fell to the low record of 15, with a renewal of pressure against Missouri Pacific and Missouri, Kansas and Texas.

There were material gains in copper, war shares and motors, but the movement in these issues was plainly of a professional origin and failed to carry conviction.

Total sales of stocks amounted to 817,000 shares.

There was further heavy selling of our bonds for European account at more or less substantial recessions.

Total sales, par value, aggregated $2,145,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

COMMERCIAL.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The quality of cantaloupes coming to Los Angeles is steadily improving and some tiptop specimens were received yesterday. Growers are not dumping their product into the city with the rtpidity they exhibited a few weeks ago and are carefully studying market conditions before making shipments. Watermelons remain very plentiful and on account of the low prices asked for the melons great quantities are being sold to peddlers and the public in general. Shipments of both cantaloupes and watermelons from the Imperial Valley are not diminishing as a result of the earthquake, as was so freely predicted by some dealers. The elarge, luscious Jumbo cantaloupes are now in the market and Jumbo crates are bringing from $1.65 to $1.75, but pony crates were again off the market. Exceedingly few price changes were noticed in either fruits or vegetables. Corn declined to 1.40 a sack and okra advanced 2½ cents a pound. Tomatoes continue to arrive in large bulk and the trade are having trouble in disposing of all their stock.

Attention was again centered on butter at the meeting of the local exchange yesterday. The opening and closing bid was 26 cents, and at that price thirty-five gubes were traded in. This price marks a decline of one point from yesterday's final quotation, but the commodity is still being held firm at a high figure. Thirty cubes of California firsts also were sold at a price of 25 cents a pound. Eggs suffered a slump and sold off a point and a half. Call for local ranch eggs was very slow and only five cases changed hands at 23 cents a dozen. Receipts of eggs and butter were 501 cases of the former and 38,200 pounds of the latter. A sale of cheese was also recorded when ten longhorns sold for 17½ cents. Arrivals of cheese were 2070 and of onions 531 sacks. Melon receipts were eleven cars of watermelons and ten cars of cantaloupes. Incoming tomatoes were 2227 lugs and plums to the extent of 827 boxes came into the city.

WHEAT BEARS ARE ON TOP.

ONCE A LOSS OF OVER A CENT AT THE CLOSING.

Renewed Fear that the Rapid Movement of the Crop Would Result in Large Selling Orders Gives the Market a Weak Tone—Corn and Oats Also Slower.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 29.—Renewed fear of pressure from a rapid movement of the new crop brought about downturns today in the price of wheat. Notwithstanding an early advance, the market, although steady at the close, was ⅝ to 1 1/16 under last night's level. Corn lost ⅝@⅞ down, oats ⅜ off to ⅝ up, and provisions varying from unchanged figures to a rise of 5. Corn was governed mainly by wheat. In the absence of trade encouraging field advices seemed to offset to a considerable extent the effect of a strong demand on the seaboard. Provisions rallied on account of buying supposed to be by packers.

CLOSING PRICES.

COOL GARBAGE IS LATEST FAD.

NEW SYSTEM TO BE INSTALLED AT REDUCTION PLANT.

Incoming Councilmen to Thresh Over Entire Deal Between Board of Public Works and Pacific Reduction Company, Say Two Councilmen-elect.

An investigation is to be started by the incoming Council, according to two of the new members, into the contract between the city and the Pacific Reduction Company, involving the disposal of garbage at the reduction plant at Lenard street and the river.

That the Board of Public Works entered into a contract whereby the city gets the worst of the deal is the suspicion upon which the Councilmen-elect are working.

The matter was brought to a head yesterday when the Board of Public Works was instructed to advertise for bids for a water-cooling system for the garbage plant, at which the city delivers garbage.

When the contract was entered into by President Handley and other members of the Board of Public Works there was no thought of a "joker" until the board awoke to the fact that the city would not only have to supply an enormous amount of water to the plant, but would have to pipe it as well.

Other work was done by the city for the garbage company that was not anticipated when the contract was made, and "jokers" have appeared so often in the recently-assigned Crouch contract that it is getting to be a standing joke at City Hall.

The installation of a water-cooling system, something else that the Board of Public Works did not count upon when the contract was made, is the latest move to recall the long succession of concessions that were forced by an interpretation of the valuable contract.

The Council yesterday authorized the board to advertise for the bids, and the city will pay the cost.

Consolidation Hits Snag.

The proposed consolidation of the offices of city and county sealer of weights and measures, as suggested by Councilman Wheeler's resolution, hit a snag yesterday. Supervisor Norton made it plain that unless the county has the handling of the proposition there will be nothing done. Those who are familiar with the situation at City Hall believe that it is the intention to let the county name the sealer, thus eliminating the city official who now holds the job. The Council committee to confer on the question is composed of Councilmen Wheeler, Conwell and Langdon, while Supervisors Norton, Woodley and Hinshaw will meet with them.

Snowden to Buy Horses.

When Councilman Snowden retires in a few days he will find his time taken up with the purchase of horses and mules for the European market. These animals will be shipped to the warring countries for use in the conflict now raging. Col. Snowden has just returned from Sacramento. He said yesterday he has been commissioned to buy all the horses and mules he can find for sale in Southern California and ship them to England at once.

Lehnhausen Reinstated.

Capt. Lehnhausen was reinstated to the police department by the Police Commission yesterday. At the same time he was given five days leave of absence. This will carry him over in good standing as a captain of police until Friday, when the pension board will meet and place him on the pension roll, when he will be retired. Capt. Lehnhausen produced affidavits from hospital surgeons to show that he had not recovered from an injury to the head, received three years ago. Not long ago he was removed for intoxication, but the restoration came yesterday so that he may be retired on half pay, after twenty-one years of service in the police department.

City Hall Newslets.

The Council yesterday transferred another $10,000 from the reserve to the general expense fund. This will perhaps be the last raid upon the reserve during the present administration, as the new one comes in very shortly.

The Council yesterday adopted an ordinance for the sewering of Temple street from Oxford to Kingsley drive and other streets in that vicinity.

Until the Florence-avenue sanitary sewer district is installed, the sewering of the Sixty-first street and Monsta avenue district will be delayed.

The Public Works Committee is considering the improvement of Berendo street from Wilshire boulevard to Ninth street.

Ordinances were adopted by the Council yesterday for the improvement of Fifth street from Olive to Hope; sewering of Virginia avenue from Western to Hobart boulevard, Twelfth avenue from Twenty-third to Twenty-fifth street and Thirty-eighth street from Western avenue to Wilton place.

President Whiffen yesterday appointed Councilmen Brant, Williams and Betkouski to confer with the City Attorney in regard to the reorganization of the efficiency department.

SUES ON PATENT.

A score of Imperial Valley ranchmen were in Judge Trippet's court yesterday giving testimony in the suit brought by Perry L. Hedrick against the Imperial Valley Concrete Company, and Andrew N. Pearson and Frederick K. Weeks, individually, and as president, secretary and treasurer, respectively, of the corporation, for alleged infringement of two patents involving a concrete flume and head gate used in irrigation work. Hedrick claims that the company has been manufacturing and selling the patents without authority and asks an injunction and accounting. The defendants deny that Hedrick is the original inventor of the contrivance and claim that it was patented by at least six other persons before him; that Hedrick employed false pretenses in securing the patents and sold to them a right to manufacture and sell in Imperial county, which right he failed to protect.

HAVE YOU PAID YOURS?

The receipts of Collector Carter, Monday and Tuesday were $100,000 from income, special and emergency taxes and $200,000 more is needed to square the books when business closes at the end of the fiscal year this evening. Today is the final opportunity to make payments on account of these taxes, without the imposition of a penalty.

HOPE OF PEACE IN THE VALLEY.

ATTORNEYS CONSIDERING MANY PROPOSITIONS.

If Accepted by Those Involved Through Contempt Proceedings in Suit Concerning Directors of Imperial Water Company No. Five All is Well for Awhile.

If the several propositions considered at a conference of the attorneys in the contempt proceedings involving the directors of Imperial Water Company No. 5 are accepted the armistice will result in peace being declared between the warring elements. Attorney W. B. Mathews, counsel for Col. Holabird, receiver for the California Development Company, stated yesterday that either there will be a harmonious adjustment or it will be definitely known how to proceed next Friday morning, to which date Judge Myers continued the proceedings.

The directors of No. 5 are charged with refusing to pay the receiver for water, but are giving their money to the Mexican receiver. They claim they have a right to take the water from the latter.

Aside from this, Judge Myers is interested in the question of the court's jurisdiction raised by counsel for the directors. If the Supreme Court holds that the Railroad Commission had jurisdiction to find that the California Development Company is a public utility, it will relieve the local court of a vast amount of work in connection with the affairs of the company. Under this finding the court will have to deal only with title to property and the collection of revenue.

ONE MISTAKE.

DAMAGE SUITS—ILL OMEN.

A shattered lamp, the mute evidence of a mistake which caused a house and its furnishings to be destroyed and imperiled the lives of the occupants and is responsible for two suits against the Florence Trading Company for damages, was an exhibit in Judge Myers's court yesterday. Merely because the number was the next and not otherwise, the exhibit was marked "thirteen."

So there it stands, a hoodooed lamp, and from its shattered sides the jury reads the story of the night of June 7, 1914, when Mrs. Charles Titlow filled the lamp with gasoline instead of kerosene and a scene resembling the burning of Rome on a small scale rallied the citizens of Willowbrook.

How the mistake was made brings in the trading company's delivery boy. He is alleged to have put kerosene into the gasoline can and vice versa. Mrs. Titlow ordered five gallons of each and picked out the can marked kerosene and filled the lamp.

Now Mr. Titlow has sued the trading company for $1605.21, damages to the furnishings, and Mrs. Stella K. Bell, his mother-in-law, who owned the house, is asking $1000 damages to the building. She is joined by the Concordia Fire Insurance Company. Mr. Titlow is joined by the Home Insurance Company and the Aetna Insurance Company.

WAR'S RAVAGES.

AS DONE IN MEXICO.

What the revolution in Mexico has done to American mining interests was briefly hinted at by Joseph D. Dotson of Ramsdell, Dotson & Co., mine owners, of the Higgins Building, in Mr. Dotson's suit for divorce before Judge Wood yesterday. The firm owns several mines in Jalisco, territory of Tepic, Mex., valued at several million dollars. One carries an option of $250,000.

Mr. Dotson stated that the revolution caused considerable damage, particularly at the time of the Vera Cruz incident. The chief trouble now is to get the product of the mines out and machinery in. The transportation facilities are bad. Mr. Dotson said that there is no immediate danger now and that the managers of the mines who were driven out are returning.

The Dotsons were married in May, 1911, and separated in February, 1914. Mr. Dotson sued for divorce, alleging desertion, and was granted a decree. Following the trouble at his home, a property settlement was made with his wife.

He testified that the trouble seemed to be that his children by a former wife could not hit it with their stepmother. They frequently telephoned him at his office that they were having trouble with their stepmother.

"Finally my wife said that either the children would have to go or she would," he said. "She went."

Mr. Dotson was represented by Attorney William Lewis.

U. OF C. SUES.

CLAREMONT LAND INVOLVED.

Under the Congressional act of July 2, 1862, the University of California claims title to 240 acres near Claremont, granted to it for agricultural and mechanical studies. The California Legislature in 1868 created the university under the provisions of this act. The Legislature provided that the public land taken for educational purposes shall be held permanently, the income to be used for the endowment and the maintenance of the university.

Interest in this large tract is claimed by H. A. Palmer, Frederick H. Groves, J. W. Birt, C. R. Maxwell, Lizzie Ebener, Amanda Crites, William R. Myers, Emil C. Kulil and various Does. The University of California yesterday filed a suit to quiet title against these claimants. It is represented by Warren Olney, Jr., of San Francisco, special assistant Attorney-General.

MISREPRESENTATION.

ALLEGED BY INVESTOR.

George H. Beeman made an investment of $5500 in the stock of the produce firm of the Richardson, Holmes and Lamb Company. Five months later the concern made an assignment for the benefit of its creditors. Alleging that conditions had been misrepresented to him, Mr. Beeman filed suit to recover his cash and the case came to trial before Judge Hewitt yesterday.

He asserted that he was told the concern was prosperous and growing rapidly. In fact, it was making such headway that additional capital was required to strengthen the business. If he would invest in the stock, he was guaranteed a permanent position as salesman at a salary of $100 a month. Instead of a prosperous concern, he said it was shaky and sought to prove it by the subsequent assignment.

The defendants, J. C. Richardson, president; A. H. Holmes, A. E. Boqua and T. R. Lamb, the latter secretary, deny misleading Mr. Beeman. They offered in evidence a letter from the trustee to the concern's creditors, estimating that from an audit of the books, dollar for dollar would be paid on the liabilities. The concern found itself in debt, it was stated, and under present conditions in the produce market, it would be a considerable time before the debts were liquidated in full. In normal conditions the debts could be carried. As a matter of fact, it developed, the concern paid 70 cents on the dollar.

UNUSUAL ACCIDENT.

REVEALED IN SUIT.

The trial of the combined suits of Eliza A. Vincent and Mary Ellen Gipson against the Los Angeles Railway in Judge McCormick's court yesterday brought to light a most unusual accident, resulting in the injury of the two women.

It appears that they were passengers in a sight-seeing bus, which while returning to the city from the beach struck a trolley car at Main and Twelfth streets. The evidence showed that the driver of the bus endeavored to cut in ahead of a jitney bus between the car and the curb and in doing so, the rear end of the bus struck the hand rail on the front end of the car.

The result was unsuspected. The hand rail tore off the rear seat upon which the plaintiffs and a man were sitting, depositing them in the street. The driver of the bus drove fifteen feet before he was aware that a portion of his loan had been dumped off. The motorman of the car pulled up sharply to prevent running over the prostrate forms in the street. The court gave judgment for the Los Angeles Railway Company on the ground that the bus driver was negligent.

DE BAKER HEIR.

SUED BY ATTORNEY.

The claim of Ingle Carpenter, an attorney, presented to Marion J. Winston, administratrix of the estate of her husband, James W. Winston, one of the heirs to the $6,000,000 estate of Arcadia B. de Baker, was rejected and yesterday Mr. Carpenter filed suit to recover $12,000, alleged to represent a one-tenth interest due him under a contract for legal services in the De Baker litigation.

Mr. Winston retained Mr. Carpenter March 18, 1914, to fight his claim in the De Baker estate. He obtained a loan of $1000 and agreed to compensate Mr. Carpenter for his services on the basis of 10 per cent. of the amount distributed to him from the De Baker estate.

Mr. Winston compromised with the other heirs without notice to him, Mr. Carpenter asserts. January 3, last, Mr. Winston died.

BAKER ESTATE.

NEAR DISTRIBUTION STAGE.

The $460,000 estate of R. M. Baker was put in line in the Probate Court yesterday for distribution. The will offered by the widow, Sarah A. Baker, Joseph H. Hosfield and Charles H. Price, executors, names as heirs Mrs. Baker, Edna Price and May Hazel Hosfield, adopted daughters; Elijah Baker, a brother, and numerous nephews and nieces. Mr. Baker died at Monrovia on the 10th inst.

Because of his interest in the $350,000 estate of his father, George E. Cox, deceased, Robert Stewart Cox, 11 years old, appeared in the Probate Court yesterday to have a guardian appointed to care for his fortune. The petition was presented by his mother, Margaret Stewart Cox, who was appointed.

DEATH SENTENCE.

WILL BE IMPOSED TODAY.

In Judge Willis's court this morning, Glenn Witt and Charles E. T. Oxnam, convicted of the brutal murder of William M. Alexander on the night of December 22, last, will be before the court for resentence to death. After the death penalty had been imposed by Judge Willis, an appeal from that judgment was taken to the Supreme Court, and decided against the defendants.

The day for execution having passed it is necessary that the judgment of the court be again imposed. Both men have been brought from the north for their appearance in court today.

THICKER THAN LAW?

LAST FIGHT FOR CHILD.

Probably the last desperate chance of Jesse M. Bell of No. 109 East Twenty-ninth street to get possession of his daughter, Eileen, lost to him first by the divorce court which awarded the child's custody to her mother, and, second, through adoption to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Krauss of Long Beach, after the mother died, will be staged in Judge Cabaniss's court this morning. This chance is a habeas corpus proceeding.

Every attempt of Mr. Bell to win his daughter by court actions failed, even his appeal to the Supreme Court, which, while it reversed the lower court in declining to set aside the order of adoption, refused to give the father the custody of his child on the ground that he did not bring his suit within the six months' limit after adoption.

Mr. Bell raised the question that blood is thicker than a legal proceeding. He said that the action of the divorce court in giving his daughter to her mother did not deprive him judicially of the rights of a father over a child. The Krausses claim the right to have Eileen, although the adoption has been set aside. They base this claim on the great love they hold for her. They set up through Attorney Hutton that Eileen's father, since remarried, showed no love for his offspring. They say he never kissed Eileen since she was 6 months old and that he never held her in his arms during that time.

It is also charged that, while the court ordered him to pay $15 a month for Eileen's support, he never paid in excess of $5 a month. The last, and what they say is the best bolt in their quiver, is the intimation, as voiced by Attorney Hutton, that the lure of the Bells is the $1000 estate left Eileen by her mother.

The Krausses hold that Eileen's welfare is better conserved if she remains with them. On these points they have prepared to resist the habeas corpus proceedings this morning.

COURT INS AND OUTS.

WHY HE SUES. Josep F. Thorbecke, 62, married Dora Thorbecke, 32, October 18, 1914. But all did not go merrily as a wedding bell. On the 17th inst., he alleges in a suit filed yesterday to adjust alimony demanded by Mrs. Thorbecke, that she locked him out of their home at No. 4900 First avenue and the "Don't enter" sign is plain to him.

SERAPHS SWIPE OPENING GAME FROM SALT LAKE

Geo Whiz!

FITTERY GETS WARM WELCOME.

Metzger Raises His Batting Average Slightly.

Pol Perritt Hit Freely, but Wins Game.

Jimmy Toman Center of Hot Argument.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

In a game fraught with surprises, such as unexpected hitting and pitching in strange places, the Angels yesterday knocked the sap and sweetness out of the Bees. They won by the choice count of 5 to 1.

The low, rakish Poll Perritt, all rigged up especially for the occasion, while touched for nine hits, got by in fine shape. He extended himself only in the pinches, saving up his well-known stuff for use exclusively with men on bases. Only in the fifth were the Bees able to scrape up a speaking acquaintance with the plate.

SOME RALLY.

The issue was somewhat in doubt until the sixth, because the Bees tied it up in the fifth. However, all doubt as to the ultimate outcome was removed in the sixth, when all of the home folks went to bat and four of them scored.

Paul Fittery, one of Blankenship's notable southpaws, was in the turret for Salt Lake. He lived up to his reputation except in the sixth, when his left arm became palsied and he could not get the pill over the plate. Three passes, three hits and an error did the business.

THE REASON.

However, despite the wobbly condition of his control in that spasm Fit would have wiggled out from under with only one run against him but for the muff of a thrown ball by Barbour, who usually freezes everything that comes down his alley.

George Metzger, who began his real season's hitting by busting up a game Sunday afternoon, drove in two fine runs yesterday, just to show that now he has started something not even Fittery can stop him. There also was some important hitting done by Koerner, who chopped off a single and a double. Beef was the power behind two Angel runs, and scored one himself. That is what we call bridging a crisis.

LOOKING UP.

When Poll can hold the Bees to one run, and Metzger drives in two for the Angels, there is plenty of hope for the team. Things are certainly looking up.

Harry Wolter started our first run with two gone in the opener. He singled to center. Koerner followed with a fine two-base lick just inside the left field line. Wolter beat it from first to home with all mails set. It seemed, however, that he certainly would be out at the plate, Orr making a precise relay of Ryan's throw. Indeed, Mr. Phyle did call him out, but was forced to reverse himself when Daddy Rohrer dropped the pill while he and Wolter were sprawling all over each other. By the reckless manner in which Daddy was blocking runners yesterday he must think that he weighs as much as Tub Spencer right after Tub has eaten a square meal. Beef went to third on the plate shot. Rube glanced a warm one off Fittery's glove and was thrown out by Orr.

NOTHING DOING.

Orr scratched out a lucky hit in front of the plate in the first, but didn't get anywhere much. A neat catch of Barbour's fly by Buemiller in right center featured the second.

Zeb was much in front of the film in the third. Rohrer clouted a hot line drive that was headed direct for the scorebcard. Zeb went up like a guy with steel springs in his shoes, wrapped his left hand around the pill and came down again successfully. It was a wonderful play, and fully warranted the loud applause with which it was greeted. He followed this with a brilliant assist on Fittery's grounder. Faye then pulled a freak double. He drove directly at Metzger. Just before reaching our third baseman the pill took a side hop and struck him on the left hip. It glanced over against the bleachers, while Faye rapidly went to second. Poll threw out Orr.

STILL NOTHING.

Two hits failed to get the Bees anything in the fourth. Gedeon singled. Beef grabbed Ryan's roller, and threw to Zeb for a forceout on Joe. Zacher splashed a single in left center. Ryan beat Wolter's throw to third and Elmer took second on the same. With almost any kind of a safe lick meaning two runs, Tennant popped

CORNELL COACH BADLY INJURED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ITHACA (N. Y.) June 29.—Charles E. Courtney, coach of the Cornell crew, is suffering from a fracture of the skull. This announcement was made tonight by the attending physician of the coach, who was removed to a hospital here shortly after his arrival from Poughkeepsie this morning. His condition, while not alarming, was described as serious.

Coach Courtney sustained his injury on the train on which the Cornell crew went to Poughkeepsie on June 13. The train stopped with a jolt at Highland and Courtney was thrown heavily against the side of the car. It was said on several occasions at Poughkeepsie, that the coach bled from the nose and ears, but he refused to consult a physician, fearing that he would be ordered to a hospital.

BEACH TENNIS ON TOMORROW.

Some Thrilling Matches are Expected to Occur.

Northern Teams Meet Strong Opposition.

Johnston and Griffin to be on Deck.

The Pacific Coast doubles tournament will start tomorrow at Long Beach. This tennis classic has been before the public gaze for some time and every one has been wondering who would finally appear on the lists. The schedule is now complete and the only thing left to happen is the tournament itself.

As usual the struggle lies between the north and the south. Both factions have splendid teams entered and a tough scrap is sure to result. The Hotel Virginia courts have been selected for the titanic contest.

LOCAL HOPES.

Nat Browne and Claude Wayne comprise the headline team of the south. These men have a record behind them that cuts a whole lot of ice and they are better than ever right now. In the last tournament the pair copped second honors and gave the winning team such a run for their money that twenty-five spectators nearly fainted. They hold the national clay court doubles title and are picked as sure holders of the real title if nothing interferes.

Adams and Variel are in the same headline as the above. They have been practicing together for the last two months and are so good that it hurts. Many prominent enthusiasts pick this combination to bring home the bacon and there seems to be considerable ground for the argument. Browne and Wayne have been playing these two heroes during the last few weeks and it has been remarkable how evenly the matches turned out. From recent playing, one team is just as good as the other.

TOUGH LUCK.

It is probable, however, that the above teams will be unable to take first honors in the tournament. The winning team has to agree to go East and compete in the national event. The four possibilities would not be able to do this on account of business and so would have to forfeit if they reached the semi-finals.

Herd and Dawson are the third southern aggregation with Sinsabaugh and Mace in the same line. All these players are very good and either team might do the dark horse stunt and take the one-gallon cup.

NORTHERNERS.

From the north come three dangerous duos. Johnston and Griffin, Rohlfs and Detrick and Johns and Davis are the gents. The first pair are such classy exponents of the great pastime that everyone hates to think about it. They have been turning out at 4 o'clock every morning and practicing in the cool fogs of San Francisco. As soon as the fog cleared up they would practice in the sunshine and so they are accustomed to all conditions.

Johns and Davis are batting well over .400 per cent, but they are hardly picked to clean things.

This tournament is to be an international affair. A team of the best Japanese talent afloat is on the list

'A. L. Martin,

Strong man of the L.A.A.C., who is going to take honors in the weight lifting event at the exposition.

Sure Enough.

LEGS GET TOO MUCH EXERCISE.

WHILE OUR ARMS ARE BADLY NEGLECTED.

Al Treloar Says American Athletes will Soon Become a Race of Kangaroos Because of Their Training of the Lower Limbs at the Expense of the Arms.

American athletes are about due to change into a bunch of kangaroos. So says Al Treloar, athletic instructor of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, and he ought to know.

The main trouble sems to be that the high school and college men of this country are devoting all of their energies in one direction. They are building up the lower half of their bodies by running, jumping, etc., and are allowing their arms and shoulders to take care of themselves.

MORE CAREFUL.

"The Europeans," said Mr. Treloar, "are much more careful in this respect than we are. They give equal attention to all parts of their bodies, and do not let one go neglected. A team of foreigners, Germans I think they were, came over to this country and astonished everybody by their wonderful arm development. They could lift weights that were out of the question for our athletes. And they were quick as lightning, at that."

"This strong-man stuff is one of the best things that anyone can take up. It is very fine work, but neglected in this country. If the American youths would spend more time on their arms and shoulders and less on their legs they would be the best athletes in the world.

AT THE CLUB.

"We are giving special attention to this work in the L.A.A.C. And the fellows who are taking the work are becoming better athletes than any others."

The Athletic Club is planning to send a two-man team to compete in the international dumb-bell and weight-lifting contest at the exposition. These two strong men are Noah Young, a cowboy, of Wyoming, and A. L. Martin. They have been practicing for some time, and are both experts in this particular line of stuff.

TWO HEROES.

"I think there is no doubt but that these men will both place," said Mr. Treloar. "It would not surprise me a bit if they took first and second. Our gymnasium department has been showing up well so far. We have sent four men to compete in the exposition events, and we have taken a first, two seconds and a third. This could hardly be called bad."

The weight-lifting event will start some time in August, and the title of American champion will go to the winner.

JOHNNY O'LEARY AGAIN CHAMPION.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

PREXY WHEELER AGREES TO AMERICAN FOOTBALL.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BERKELEY (Cal.) June 29.—Official approval of the return of the University of California to American intercollegiate football was announced today from the office of Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the university.

President Wheeler returned last Saturday from New York after an absence of several weeks, during which announcement was made of a tentative agreement between California and the University of Washington for two American football games during next November. This agreement was made subject to the approval of President Wheeler and the California student body.

C. M. Torrey, secretary to President Wheeler, said today:

"The readoption of American football has met with the entire approval of President Wheeler. Although he has expressed regret over the break in athletic relations with Stanford University, he has decided to leave the matter entirely in the hands of the students' body."

President Wheeler was instrumental in bringing the Rugby game into popularity on the Pacific Coast.

The Real Reason.

TRAINING IN MUD CAUSE OF CARDS' LACK OF FORM.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—While Leland Stanford, (Jr.) University's eight, which took second place in the Poughkeepsie regatta yesterday did so mostly on brawn, and showed no form to speak of, was explained here today by E. C. Behrens, Stanford graduate manager of athletics. Stanford, Behrens said, rows virtually in the mud while at home. A slimy slough, giving forth unpleasant odors, is their course. The water in it is so muddy it is thick and so black it is like a mirror. The slough is eight miles by rail, and a considerable walk after that from the campus. Once or twice a week Frank Guerena, the coach, slips down from San Francisco and coaches. The rest of the time the crew does the best it can.

Guerena was coxswain in the ill-fated Stanford crew of 1912, which went to pieces at Poughkeepsie after covering the course the day before the race in better than the winning time. Since then his main ambition in life has been to take another crew back.

HARRY TRENDALL IS LUCKY WINNER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, June 29.—Harry Trendall of St. Louis outpointed Leo Kelly, also of this city, in an eight-round bout here tonight. The men weighed 145 pounds at the ringside.

BIG PRICE FOR HORSE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 29.—Horsemen asserted today that the purchase for $12,500 of a chestnut colt by Star Shoot-Hamburg Belle at a Sheepshead Bay auction, was the first instance of a thoroughbred colt being sold for five figures since the anti-gambling laws were enacted. The colt was bought by John Sanford of Amsterdam, N. Y. Horse fanciers saw an upward trend in values in the fact that one consignment of thirty-four horses sold for $44,725.

FRED THOMSON WILL COMPETE.

FORMER ALL-AROUND CHAMPION ENTERED IN THE EVENTS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Fred Thomson of Los Angeles, national amateur all-around champion in 1910, 1911 and 1913, will compete in the Amateur Athletic Union Decathlon at the Panama-Pacific Exposition August 13 and 14, it was announced today.

STROUD LIKED IN NEW YORK.

The New York Herald has nothing but praise for Sailor Stroud, the Giant recruit, last year with the now defunct Sacramento club. This is what it has to say for him:

"Listed among the recruits whom John McGraw fancied after the spring schooling is Ralph Stroud, a youngster from Sacramento, Cal. On several occasions this boy from the Golden West has proved his worth. He pitches his best when conditions are all in favor of his breaking down. With his teammates trying their best to toss away the game, Stroud gamely sticks to his guns and with rare ability weathers the storms, performing equally as well as would a veteran of the years of "Matty." Stroud strives continually to win, which endears him to McGraw and all the fans."

CAPTAIN EVERS BACK IN GAME.

New York and Boston Teams Split Even.

Evers Served with Papers in Damage Suit.

McGrawites Get Series, Four Out of Six.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 29.—New York made it four out of six from the champion Bostons by dividing a double-header here today. New York won the first game 3 to 2 and Boston got an even break when Hughes shut out the Giants in the second game, 3 to 0. New York won the first game when Rudolph weakened in the closing inning. A single by Lobert, a pinch hitter, drove in the winning run in the ninth.

Capt. Evers returned to second base for Boston in the second game, it being his first appearance in a National League game since he broke a bone in his left ankle last April. Though moving around with difficulty he played his usual star game at second, and drove out a home run, double and single. His home run came with Hughes on base and resulted in Boston's victory.

Evers was served with papers in a $25,000 suit for damages instituted by one of several spectators at yesterday's game with whom the Boston captain had a wordy wrangle.

COFFEY LOOKS PALE, SICKLY.

"The trouble with Jim Coffey," said a judge of condition, "is that he has been made into an indoor athlete. He needs some open-air training and lots of it. Gymnasium work in time will turn a man stale. The air is bad in nearly all gymnasiums, and that sort of work will make the best man stale in time. Notice Coffey's color—pale and sickly. He needs open air and sunlight. What he should do is to get into the hills and spend a whole month in the open. If he does not, some tough man is going to get him one of these days simply because of his lack of condition. You can develop billiard players, tango champions and other athletes who do not need stamina, indoors, but boxers need the open."

HOT RECORD FOR BUSHER.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SPOKANE, June 29.—Elmer Leifer, a left-handed pitcher of Ewan, Wash., who was with the Spokane Northwestern League team at the Boyes Springs (Cal.) training camp in the spring of 1914, set a new record yesterday for semiprofessional baseball for the Northwest, if not for the entire United States, when, in a nineteen-inning game at Malden, Wash., he struck out thirty-two of the Malden batsmen. He won his game for Ewan, 6 to 4.

TIMELY HITTING WINS FOR CARDS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, June 29.—St. Louis and Pittsburgh divided a double-header here today. In the ninth inning of the first game Dolan's fumble of Hinchman's fly put the latter on second. Hinchman scored and tied the count on Wagner's hit. Wagner and Vlox also scored, as did Johnston, and Pittsburgh won, 3 to 5. Hard and timely hitting won the second for St. Louis, 6 to 4.

EXCITEMENT AT COUNRY CLUBS.

WEEK END WILD SEE LOTS OF BIG EVENTS.

Midwick and Altadena to be Very Busy on Saturday; Desultory Golf Scheduled for Sunday and a Violent Eruption of Sporting Events Everywhere for Monday.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

All five of our country clubs will blossom forth with golf and tennis tournaments, dinners and dances galore this week end—Altadena, San Gabriel, Annandale, Midwick and the Los Angeles Country Clubs are in the throes of preparation.

On Saturday there will be mixed foursomes at the Midwick, a qualifying round for the club tournament at the Altadena, in the department of golf, and a university vs. Midwick baseball match on the polo field at Midwick, a tennis tournament at Altadena. And Midwick will hold its Fourth celebrations for the children; daylight fireworks.

On Sunday, much unofficial golf at all the clubs and a choice score event at Altadena.

And on Monday there will be a violent eruption of events everywhere. The Los Angeles Country Club will play the qualifying round for the president's cup, 64 to qualify. And they will entertain all the mighty atoms with every conceivable kind of amusement including clowns, in the afternoon, a stylish dinner, and the most sumptuous fireworks in the evening.

San Gabriel will christen the new course with putting, approaching and driving competitions in the morning, an 18-hole medal play competition in the afternoon, a tennis tournament and a dance to wind up the evening.

Altadena will conclude the golf tournament, likewise the tennis tournament, and indulge in fireworks and juvenile entertainments in the evening.

Annandale will hold a golf tournament, a tennis round robin, a baseball match and a children's party.

George Sisler, New Recruit, Makes Good.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 29.—For the third successive time, a triple with men on the bases clinched the game for Chicargo today. The locals defeated St. Louis, 4 to 2. Faber made the triple in the fourth inning after Roth and Schalk had walked. George Sisler, the University of Michigan recruit, played first base for St. Louis. Austin argued with Umpire Chill on a strike decision and was ordered out of the game. Score:

STAR DRIVERS AGAIN TO BE IN DASH FOR A BIG PURSE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 29.—Chicago's second automobile race will be held in October on the new two-mile speedway, it was announced today.

It has been decided that the event shall be for a distance of 300 miles and a prize of $25,000. Drivers who competed in the 500-mile race last Saturday have promised to enter.

CLEMENT IS SOME HEAVER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TULSA (Okla.) June 29.—Pitcher Clements of the Tulsa club of the Western Association today held Denison, league leaders, scoreless in a double-header. The double victory makes the third straight victory for him and thirty-two and two-thirds innings pitched without a score. Clements is 22 years old.

PORTLAND, June 29.—Overcoming a seven-run lead Oakland got in the first two innings today, the Portland Beavers finished like a house afire, knocking Klawitter out of the box and piling up enough runs off Pruiett to make the score 11 to 7.

Higginbotham started the game for the Beavers and was touched for five runs, the other two being made off Coveleskie. Rube Evans started the third inning and allowed but two hits for the rest of the game. A feature was the home run of Bates into the left-field bleachers in the eighth and doubles by Stumpf and Fisher that scored two runs each. The score:

CHICAGO DEFEATS NEWARK HOPEFULS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEWARK (N. J.) June 29.—Chicago defeated Newark today in a 1-to-0 pitchers' battle in which Brown and Moseley opposed each other. Each allowed but four hits, but one of the bases on balls off Mosley paved the way for the scoring of the winning run. In the third Flack walked after two were out, stole second and scored on Fischer's single. Score:
Chicago, 1; hits, 4; errors, 0.
Newark, 0; hits, 4; errors, 1.
Batteries — Brown and Fisher; Mosely and Rariden.

WILD PITCH LETS IN THE FATAL RUN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BROOKLYN, June 29.—Two runs scored on a steal of home by Cooper, which caused Cullop to let loose a wild pitch, featured Brooklyn's victory over Kansas City today, 5 to 2. Finneran was found for nine hits but the visitors were helpless when a hit meant the game. Fourteen visitors were left on the paths. Chadbourn's running catch in the eighth inning on a long fly from Smith's bat, was the fielding feature. Score:
Kansas City, 2; hits, 9; errors, 3.
Brooklyn, 5; hits, 9; errors, 4.

Tigers Come Pretty Near to Victory.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—It was home-run day at Recreation Park today. And it was a lucky thing for the Seals, since those same over-the-right-field-fence balls won them their opener against the Venice team, 3 to 6, for with affairs going along swimmingly for the locals right up to the start of the eighth, the Tigers threatened the San Franciscans.

SOME HITTER.

Ducky Jones collected two of the trio of home runs, just as he did one day last week. Also, Ducky poked out a two-bagger, which made his day's performance right up to snuff. Biff Schaller was the annexee of the other four-base drive.

Chech, the veteran, was touched for twelve hits, just half of which were for extra bases, giving a fair idea of how the locals pounded the pellet.

SEAL RUNS.

The Seal twirler was given a one-run lead right off the bat. With Fitzgerald, back in the game for the first time since he was laid up, Schaller singled to right. He tried for a two-bagger, and would have been out at second, but Risberg dropped the throw. Bodie popped to the catcher and Heilman's center-field double sent Biff in.

That lead was doubled in the second, two-base hits by Jones and Block, with Corhan's sacrifice sandwiched in between, accounting for Jones at the plate.

EVENED UP.

Venice came up on even terms in no time. Mitze opened the third inning for a walk. Chech tried for a sacrifice. The ball rolled on the line toward first. Reisigl picked it up, tried for the runner at first and hit him in the back. Carlisle's out to Downs tallied Mitze and Berger's left-field hit sent in the southern pitcher. Berger and Wilhoit were forced in turn at second to retire the side.

The fourth saw Jones grab his first home-run swat over the right-field fence, and from then on to the finish the Seals were never headed.

ONCE MORE.

Duckey again made the circuit when he was lead-off man in the sixth, putting the sphere over the fence in the same direction as the first time.

In the seventh, two more runs gave the San Francisco team what looked like a big margin. Schaller was passed and Bodie laid down a sacrifice. Heilman was out to Carlisle, but Downs took a healthy swing at the ball, and as it sailed for the outfield Schaller reached the plate. Carlisle had an easy out on Jones's floater, but dropped the ball, after he had gathered it in. Naturally, Downs was home.

COMING BACK.

The counter-attack started with the eighth. Berger singled to left and Wilhoit put the ball against the right-field fence, sending Berger to third. Bayless hit infield and Berger counted. Purtell sacrificed the pair of runners along and Gleichmann fanned. Then Risberg put the ball to Corhan. Whether it was too easy for Roy to handle may never be known. He booted and the brace came home.

At that stage the telly sheet showed the Seals leading, 6 to 5, and no telling what would happen. With two down Fitzgerald doubled to left, while Schaller treated the crowd to the third homer of the afternoon.

NEAR SCORES.

In the ninth, with two down, the Tigers once more started. Berger singled and stole. Wilhoit should have been a dead out for Downs, but Jerry couldn't seem to get the hang of the ball, and when he had finished mussing it up, the right fielder was safe. Bayless drove in Berger with a center-field smash, but Purtell put the ball straight up in the air for Block to gather.

RYAN OF ANGELS MAKES MOST HITS IN PINCHES.

Has Shown Himself to be One of the Most Dangerous Batters in the League—Harry Wolverton Shows Best Percentage, Having Failed but Once—Fisher of Portland Ranks High—The Figures.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

SPEAKING in the large, this has not been a prolific year for pinch hitters. By this is not meant the regular who goes to the plate with men on bases, but the bench guy who relieves some other batter in a crisis. In some ways these bench-warming blokes have the toughest job of all. Not in the sense of physical labor, but in that great things are expected of them, and they must deliver now and then in order to hold their jobs.

They are not in the game often enough to have their "eye on the ball," and when they do go in it usually is at a crucial moment; for instance, when a safe lick means the game. Consequently, the pitcher puts everything on the ball that he has, and this makes it still tougher on the guy at the plate. As a rule, the pinch hitter has to face the most complex pitching of all, for in situations of this character the heaver extends himself to the limit.

The exclusive pinch hitter has almost ceased to exist in the Coast League under the eighteen-player limit. That is, those who do the pinch hitting perform a stunt quite frequently in other departments, while the managers do not hesitate to ask some of their pitchers to go in and take a swing now and then.

The present player limit has not been entirely without its advantages, as witness the development of Jack Ryan as a pinch hitter. He has been used frequently of late in that position and has displayed wonderful ability in that line. Ryan has made more pinch hits than any other player in the league, landing safely a trifle better than every other time up.

Fisher ranks second with five blows out of eight attempts, Harry Wolverton, however, still manages to live up to his reputation as the most dangerout emergency hitter in the league. Five times has the Seal manager gone in to relieve one of his men, and but once has he failed to deliver.

Koerner's mark of .250 as a pinch hitter was made with Oakland. He does his best work when he is in the game regularly, as shown by the great improvement in his work since he joined the Angels. The Angels, like several other clubs, seem to be light in secondary hitting strength, Boles being the only man besides Ryan to deliver.

The Tigers have no pronounced emergency man, Wilhoit being the only one to get two blows in a pinch, and Joe had eight tries at it. Kane has been used most heavily in that capacity, but he is temperamentally unfitted for pinch hitting.

Twice Blankenship has sent Shinn to the plate to bat for somebody else, and each time Jimmy has connected. Hallinan, with three blows in seven attempts, has shown himself to be a good man in this capacity. Incidentally he has crossed the plate more frequently than any other pinch hitter in the league.

Following are the records of pinch hitters in the league up to the present week:

Jack Ryan,
Demon slugger and star pinch hitter of the Angels.

WILLIAMS WILL BE AN ANGEL.

T. J. Darmody, business manager of the Los Angeles club, announced last night that Johnny Williams, recently with Salt Lake, will be signed by the Angels during the week, unless there is a hitch in the terms.

"As this is a nine-game series, we will need plenty of pitchers, and I believe that it will be a good time to let Williams show what he can do," said Darmody. "If he can show us that he has the stuff we can make room for him."

It was stated yesterday that President Powers will, while he is in the East, not only try to round up the recalcitrant Hi Jasper, but try and purchase another right-hander, possibly Wolfgang, and also Third Baseman Roth from the White Sox. A general shake-up of the Angels appears to be impending.

SCRAPPERS TO FIGHT MONDAY.

M'HUGH WILL STAGE AMATEUR BOUTS AT VERNON HEREAFTER.

The Vernon Athletic Club will open up the four-round game for the summer season under the management of Charlie McHugh next Monday night.

McHugh promises to please the boxing fans with the card he has in mind, which will be announced later in the week.

It is the intention of the management to run strictly high-class shows and to stick strictly to the meaning of the word amateur, so all boxers that are desirous of coming to the front in this manly sport should get in touch with McHugh at Doyle's.

HERZOG SCORNS TRADE FOR IVY.

DECIDES WINGO BETTER THAN BRAINARD AND CHIEF MEYERS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CINCINNATI, June 29.—Manager Charles Herzog of the local National League team announced today that he had refused to consider an offer of the New York National League club to trade Catcher Meyers and Outfielder Brainard of the New Yorks for Catcher Ivy Wingo.

OARSMAN TOLD OF SAD EVENT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.) June 29.—Royal G. Bird, who rowed in the winning Cornell varsity crew yesterday, was notified at the conclusion of the race that his brother, Eugene Bird, was dead at their home in New York City. News of the death of the oarsman's brother was received here before the race was started, but was withheld at the request of his father until the finish from fear that it might prevent Bird from rowing in the race.

Game Guys.

FEDS NOT QUITTING, BUT WILL INVADE NEW YORK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 29.—The Federal League has no complaint to make regarding the baseball situation, President James A. Gilmore of the league said tonight in a statement issued at the close of a meeting attended by representatives of all the clubs in the circuit.

"Speaking only for the Federal League," President Gilmore declared in his statement, "the baseball situation is better than at any time since the independents entered the field. In addition to reviewing thoroughly every phase of the baseball situation we have arranged for the permanency of our organization as a factor in the national game."

The statement added that plans have been made to put a Federal League club in New York City next year. The financial backing for the club has been arranged, the statement said, but added the details could not be made public at this time.

According to the statement, Boston men have asked that that city be added to the circuit, and bids already have been made for a Boston franchise.

Rowland's Pep.

FIGHTING SPIRIT IS WINNING GAMES FOR SOX.

THOSE Chicago White Sox are getting a dangerous lead. They have not lost a series in a long time and they are not apt to for some time yet.

Neither Detroit nor Boston seems to be able to keep apace with the Rowland crew and if that aggregation can go along at its present pace it will be so far in front by August that the race will be as good as over.

While on paper Chicago cannot be figured as a well balanced or an especially strong team, it is blessed with a winning streak. Rowland has his players hustling every minute of the time and the fact that they have been successful has instilled a lot of confidence which will be decidely hard to break down.

Before the season had gotten well under way there were those who were convinced that the next world series would be played in Boston, both Braves and Red Sox being favorites in their respective races. Now, however, it looks as if Chicago has a better chance than Boston for such honors. The Cubs have a very comfortable lead in the National League and the Sox are going to be hard to stop in the American. Nine years ago both Chicago clubs won and the world series was played there.

Benjamin F. Roller, the wrestler, tried his hand as a boxer a short time ago in Montreal and lost in the first round to Jim Espon, also a boxer.

AT THE STAGE DOOR

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

David Warfield and W. H. Crane are in the city, spending a week or two of their vacations. Thomas Meighan will accompany them to San Francisco later, where he will view the fair. (P.S. One means the exposition.)

Likes Us.

Julian Eltinge has purchased an acre of ground at Silver Lake, California, where he will build a summer home. Mr. Eltinge states he prefers California to Maine as a summer resort, and means to spend his vacations here.

Can't Get Play.

Fanny Ward, who has just finished the film version of "The Marriage of Kitty" for the Lasky company, will return to New York this fall. Miss Ward is looking for a new play, but says that so far she has had a desperate time, as none of the plays offered suit her. It is quite likely she may bring to the Coast next season "Madame President," the play in which she has been starring for two years, especially if she does not find a play suitable for Broadway.

Bunches of Fame.

It is likely an actors' summer home colony will be established at Silver Lake. Miss Ward, too, is contemplating purchasing a site and erecting an Italian villa on the shores of the pretty sheet of water. Thomas Meighan, Blanche Ring, John Emerson, and Laura Hope Crewes are others who are contemplating building homes on the new location, which is one of the loveliest in California.

Southern Girl.

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" will be the next offering at the Burbank, with Marjorie Rambeau playing the role of the little mountain girl.

Bill to Stay.

William Desmond, who was to have appeared in a new play in New York next year, has cancelled his engagement, and has signed up with the Ince company for pictures.

Mr. Desmond is to be starred in a series of big feature photodramas.

Back to Art.

Maud Allan, the world-famed dancer, leaves for London week after next. As soon as she reaches the British capital she will begin work on her new ballet, for which De Bussy is writing the music, and which promises to be the most spectacular in which she has ever appeared.

Nat's New Noise.

Nat Wills, at the Orpheum, is singing this week one of Harry Williams's best songs, "Father's Working in the Movies Now." Wills gets in over well, owing in large part to the fact that he enunciates clearly. Nobody ever accused the tramp comedian of having a grand opera voice, but he sure can sing a funny song in a way to extract more joy to the square inch than pretty nearly anybody in "vaud."

Prize Weary Willie.

Nat Wills tells of an agreement he made with a friend one day last summer down South as to the bestowal of a dollar on the laziest man to be found. He and the friend started for a stroll along a country lane. They met a tramp and asked him if he would show them the way to a certain cross-road. He promptly answered "Yes," and when they reached the spot they gave him a quarter.

"Apparently he wasn't the right candidate," explained Wills. "Then we met another tramp and asked him if he was willing to saw some wood for his supper, and he said 'Yes,' whereupon we said, 'Never mind, my good fellow, we see you are not really lazy,' and handed him a quarter. We were getting pretty discouraged, when finally we came upon a tramp lying on the ground. 'Here's a dollar for you my good man!' cried my friend. 'A what?' the tramp demanded, opening one eye. 'A dollar!' we both cried. 'Oh, all right,' responded the Weary Willie, closing his eyes again, 'just roll me over and put it in my pocket.' He got the dollar!"

Silver Threads.

Elisabeth Murray, appearing at the Orpheum, has her real lace hose made especially to order. They cost $15 a pair. Yes, she darns 'em herself, although she has a husband.

Some Noise!

"Jimmie" Archibald, who is an authority on matters military, affirms that the British army used more ammunition at the battle of Neuve Chapelle, which lasted two days, than they did in the entire Boer War, which lasted over two years. Some shooting, that.

Percy the Perfect.

Percy Bronson, the immaculate, is to appear at the Orpheum next week. He promises to inhabit three different suits of clothing; in other words to run a rival show to the Fashion act to be put on for the women. So poor, downtrodden man is to have his innings after all. Well, "It's a long worm that has no turning," as George Ade says.

Joy Noise.

"So Long Letty" has been pieced together like a prize puzzle and taken over to the Morosco for rehearsal. And since "So Long Letty" has "jelled" it certainly looks like some show.

Blue Ribboner.

George Jean Nathan, dramatic critic of "The Smart Set," who applies the acid test to all plays and actors, honors Marjorie Rambeau high up on his list of best performers who played in New York this year. It was Miss Rambeau's acting in "So Much For So Much," Willard Mack's play, which drew forth the critic's praise.

Ditto.

Mr. Nathan likewise mentions "Outcast," in which Elsie Ferguson will shortly appear at the Mason, as one of the best seven plays on Broadway during the past season.

Mountain Maid.

Marjorie Rambeau, who spent some time in her childhood in the South, is delighted with her role in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

"Up in the Tennessee mountains," she says, "are hundreds of families even today such as are shown in the play. I used to take long lonely mountain rides, and frequently stopped to talk with the people. I even knew a little girl not unlike the girl I portray. She seemed like a dainty white lily amid the coarser clay around her. But there are more of such girls than you would imagine. They are wild little mountain sprites, many of them beautiful; but the only pity is, they fade so early."

There Are Others.

Laura Hope Crews, who is at present playing in pictures for the Lasky company, is also mentioned as one of the best ten Broadway actresses.

Goes to Church.

Geraldine Farrar, the famous prima donna, spent yesterday at Santa Barbara, motoring up and back. She visited the Mission, and expressed herself as fascinated with the beautiful old place and its traditions.

Ruggles on Stage.

Harry Leon Wilson's "Ruggles of Red Gap," published in the Saturday Evening Post a few months ago, is to be dramatized and produced by the Shuberts. Ralph Hertz will have the leading role.

Good Old One.

Melbourne MacDowell is to appear in "Tosca" at the Hippodrome next week. Leo La Salle will play the title role.

Crowded.

Clune's Auditorium was crowded last night to witness the dress rehearsal of "Fairyland." Many scores of theatrical and musical people of the city were present, and the occasion was nearly as brilliant as an opening night.

Talkative Toes.

Albertina Rasch, who was brought from Vienna especially to appear in "Fairyland," is a beautiful woman and an exquisite dancer, as she testified last night at the dress rehearsal of the wonderful spectacle.

Mlle. Rasch speaks quaintly broken English, but amply justifies her laughing assertion made at a luncheon the other day that "she can sing and talk with her feet." She certainly has the talkative toes.

Listens Well.

The Spanish Opera Company at the Princess are giving "The Iron Ring" this week. Later "Rigoletto," "Lucia" and "Carmen" will be given.

The Princess has been renovated, and the company now appearing there is well worth hearing.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) June 29.—H. Chandler Egan of Medford, Or., present Northwest champion, won the open golf championship in the annual potlatch tournament here today, with a score of 306 for seventy-two holes, in two days' play. T. A. Galop, Vancouver (B. C.) professional, and Willie Leith, Tacoma professional, tied for second place with scores of 308.

RICKEY LIKES EDUCATED BOYS.

BROWN MANAGER IS PICKING TEAM FROM COLLEGES AND HIGH SCHOOLS.

By the time Branch Rickey gets through gathering in the baseball talent that our educational institutions are turning out the St. Louis Browns will be the most extensive collection of highbrows the diamond knows. These are the school players who either have joined Rickey's club already, will do so this week, or will be awaiting it when it reaches the home town:

George Sisler, University of Michigan, left-hand pitcher, to be tried out as an outfielder.

Bowman, University of Alabama, right-hand pitcher.

Cook, Ohio State University, right-hand pitcher.

Schmandt, St. Louis University, first baseman.

Burkam, Benton Harbor High School, outfielder.

In addition to this half-dozen recruits, the club already is fairly well stocked with those who have trod the classic halls of various institutions. Rickey himself is a graduate of two universities. Johnny Lavan is a Michigan alumnus. Derrill Pratt was plucked from the team of an Alabama college. Clarence Walker also is a man of some education. It is possible that one or two other veteran players belong in the same category.

And Rickey is not through. He has the dragnets out for other scholastic stars. Last week he spent little time with his team, but whether scouting or on other business is not known. He was in Cincinnati, with President Hedges, part of the time. It was thought that this had to do with the Sisler case, but Rickey himself is authority for the statement that the National Commission made its decision in Sisler's petition to have Pittsburgh's claim on him canceled away back in January.

Sisler was declared a free agent at that time, though for five or more months the commission had allowed Pittsburgh to carry the collegian's name on its list of suspended players. The St. Louis manager will try the Ann Arborite in the outfield and at first base.

SLOPPY WEATHER SPOILS TENNIS.

EASTERN STARS HEADED FOR COAST ALL SURVIVE EARLY PLAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) June 29.—Rain interfered with play in the third day's programme of clay court tennis championships this afternoon. The men's singles had reached the sixth round, the last match in the fifth round between F. C. Inman of the West Side Club and J. C. Castle of Pittsburgh standing one set for the local player and three games to two in the second set, when Referee Julian S. Myrick stopped the play.

Eastern players left in the men's singles are R. Norris Williams, George M. Church, M. W. Washburn, N. W. Niles and Dean Mathey. Niles, the Boston player, defeated W. S. McElroy of Pittsburgh, who last week won the Ohio championship at Cleveland. He was eliminated today in the sixth round.

Fittery Gets Hot Welcome

to McMullen and Barbour was out on a hopper to Metzger.

Salt Lake finally managed to connect in the fifth. Rohrer singled, and Fittery sacrificed. Daddy chased home from second when Faye fashioned a one-bagger to right. Orr forced Faye, and Billy chased to third when Orr grased the glove of the leaping McMullen with a heavy drive. These guys then became very brazen and tried a double steal. Billy was very much nailed at the pan, McMullen making a perfect return to Boles, who threw the ball in the first place. Poll felt so good to think that the Bees made only one run off three hits that he fanned Zacher and Tennant as fast as they could walk up in the sixth. After that he was just about puncture-proof.

THE BIG SCENE.

Fittery started the big splash in the sixth by passing McMullen. He started at the top of the batting order because he likes to be artistic. He also probably was thinking of those who keep score, as the book provides space for only nine men to bat comfortably in one inning. Buemiller tried to sacrifice and popped to Fittery. Fit then passed Wolter, putting two on. Beef banged a single to left and McMullen came chasing in. Ryan whizzed the pill home. Daddy had McMullen blocked, but was so jarred that he couldn't get the ball on Mac until the latter had disentangled himself and placed one finger on the plate. Wolter took second on the drive. He and Beef tried a double steal, and all hands were safe when Barbour dropped Daddy's throw.

Rube fanned for what should have been the third out. A pass to Zeb filled the bases. At this point something happened which caused a good deal of commotion and several cuss words. Boles drove to Gedeon, who made a fine stop and threw to first. The play was close, and Toman ruled Boles safe. Wolter scored on the hit. The blokes in the press box thought that Boles had the play tied. Other blokes sitting downstairs said that Boles was out by a foot, but neglected to state whether it was his left foot or his right one. Much depends on the point of view.

Tennant was so sure that Boles was out that he rolled the ball to the pitcher and turned toward the water bucket. He was forced to return and finish the inning. A big bunch of distinguished visitors gathered around Toman and told him a few things. Zacher even came clear in from center field, which is the ideal place from which to judge plays at first base. He told Toman everything that he could think about, and did not stop until he had run out of words.

During the heat of the argument Mr. Toman observed that one of his shoes had become unlaced. He squatted down and tied it. Few people could be this calm and collected with half a dozen superheated athletes surging about them. It reminded one of a guy combing his hair during a bayonet charge. Blankenship finally came out and chased the boys back to their well-known jobs. The game then resumed the even tenor of its way by Metzger scoring both Beef and Zeb with a long single out where Buddy Ryan presides. Poll, the ninth person up, concluded the prolific round with a grounder to Gedeon. The remainder of the game was uneventful, except that Rube added a couple of points to his undernourished average with a single in the eighth.

The score:

STANFORD TO HURRY HOME.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 29.—Stanford will not row either at Duluth or Seattle this year. Coach Guerena stated today it was impossible to accept either invitation owing to the fact that the western eight will disband at once. Return tickets do not permit a routing via the northern line and it will be impossible to bring together an eight at Seattle. It is practically certain that no eastern crew will participate in any Pacific Coast regatta this summer.

The Palo Alto men have scraped together enough money out of their own pockets to satisfy their board bill. The same means are being used for westbound transportation, the university funds having been found insufficient. Coach Guerena leaves New York for the Coast.

OLD STARS CRACK IN FED LEAGUE.

Chief Bender is not the only one of the old stars doing poor work for the Feds. The Chief has been hammered by the batters in the Gilmore circuit as if he were a mere novice.

Rankin Johnson is another chap who looked good in the majors who has fallen down in the new league. This youngster flashed across the horizon with the Boston Red Sox a year ago. By beating Walter Johnson a couple of times he achieved a reputation. The Feds tempted him and he hopped to Joe Tinker, but he is having a hard time winning games.

Bob Groom, after having a bad season last year, has come back, and is one of Fielder Jones's cheat. Doc Crandall, too, wins games now and then, while Plank has had a good season to date.

STEVE EVANS TO BE BOUGHT.

BALTIMORE FEDS DECIDE TO PURCHASE HIM FROM BROOKFEDS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

BALTIMORE, June 29.—The management of the Baltimore Federal League baseball club today authorized the purchase of Outfielder Steve Evans from the Brooklyn Federals.

CHECKS DO NOT APPEAL TO CROSS

REFUSES TO FIGHT WHEN ONE IS NOT IN SIGHT AND ON THE TABLE.

Most folks think that $500 is a [illegible] and a $500 check is equivalent to $1200. Leach Cross, the lightweight, thinks otherwise, and that's the reason why the Cross-Leach fight wasn't staged in New York a few weeks ago.

Leach was promised $1200 to [illegible]. The night was stormy, the [illegible] didn't come and $1200 is not [illegible] taken in at the gate. Leach [illegible] at the arena on schedule time [illegible] at the paymaster's office ahead of time.

"Greetings, men," said Leach pleasantly. "A bad evening, ain't it? But I fight just as good on bad [illegible] as on pleasant evenings. Throw a hundred dollars, please, and I'll demonstrate.

"Ahem—er—ahem," said the promoters. "It is, m-ah, m-er, this [illegible] Leach. We ain't got but $500 to [illegible] to give you, but we will give you a $500 check to make up the difference.

"You won't do anything of the sort," responded Leach. "Check [illegible] me ain't friends. I don't like [illegible] They're too much like gold [illegible] stock. You never know if they're any good.

"But we haven't $1200 to [illegible] give you and there's no place [illegible] we can get a $500 check [illegible]

"The curfew shall not [illegible] Leach Cross will not fight [illegible] said the fighting dentist. [illegible] didn't.
